Britain Relents

MONTS, France.—British government, in an effort to take sting out of its boycott of Duke of Windsor's marriage with Mrs. Wallis Warfield, offers to give him an "official status," recognizing his title. Page 16.

BY MAY BIRKHEAD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTS, France, May 25.—No journalist these days, especially one who fancies herself a chronicler of cosmopolitan society, but seeks an interview with the spokesman of the Windsor-Warfield entourage at the Château de Cande.

I was able, through a friend of mine who must be nameless and who also is a friend of the duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers of New York, close friends of the duke and Mrs. Wallis Warfield [Simpson].

My credentials smoothed the way for a simple, cordial talk. Rogers, who acts as spokesman for both Edward and his bride to be, spoke in high terms of Edmond Taylor's reporting for THE TRIBUNE in these recent weeks.

Phoned Rogers from Paris.

I had telephoned Rogers from Paris and he had fixed the interview provisionally for today, asking me to confirm it when I reached Tours. On inquiring how I should announce myself he replied, "Don't worry, I will do everything necessary."

So, as agreed, I took an automobile from the Hotel de l'Universe which, for once, deserves its name, and in a few minutes was at the grill in front of the now world known château. On giving my name I was admitted instantly by a gray haired old woman whom all the correspondents have come to know. We whirled along a wooded avenue to the château. Rogers was waiting for me on the entrance steps.

"It might be pleasant for us to sit and talk here under the trees," he remarked as we looked at the magnificent panorama over the valley with its ancient aqueduct, the whole scene gleaming in the bright warm sunshine. All the denizens of the Château de Cande are delighted at this contrast with so much recent cold and rain.

Edward and Wally Stroll.

I must confess I was disappointed when it became apparent that Edward and Mrs. Warfield would not be visible to me. Rogers remarked that they were taking advantage of the fine day to get out of doors for a long stroll.

"They need it too," he said, "for they are extremely busy with their wedding preparations." [Edward and Mrs. Warfield will be married Thursday, June 3.]

I told him my object in seeking the interview was not to glean anything further about Mrs. Warfield's coiffure, her manicure or pedicure.

"I am glad of that," Rogers said, and agreed that such subjects had been overplayed.

Wally Reads a Great Deal.

"Nor am I going to ask you anything about her clothes," I said in my turn. "I should like to know something of her more serious interests—for example, what is her favorite reading these days?"

"Mrs. Warfield reads a great deal," he said. "Her taste runs distinctly to biography and she has conned many of the best books in this field, almost everything notable you could think of. She does not go in so much for novels, although she did read and greatly enjoyed 'Gone With the Wind,' being a southerner, as you can imagine.

"But most of her reading for some time, and especially since she has been at the Château de Cande, is confined to the hundreds of letters she receives each day. In fact, all of us have been so busy reading them we all will be mighty glad of a chance to escape from them and from the attentions of the public and get a good rest."

Duke Enjoys His Dinners.

From the books we turned to food. "The duke does not eat any lunch but likes a substantial dinner," Rogers said.

I asked if the duke had summoned

PITCHED BALL HITS COCHRANE; SKULL BROKEN

Mickey Cochrane, manager and star catcher of the Detroit Tigers, suffered a fractured skull yesterday when hit by a pitched ball. The accident occurred in New York during a game between the Tigers and the Yankees. Hadley was the pitcher. Cochrane last night was reported "asleep and in no immediate danger." Turn to the sport pages for details of the accident and his condition. On the back page you will find a remarkable action picture of Cochrane falling to the ground. So fast was the camera's action that his bat is shown in air.

A. F. OF L. SEEKS TO SPLIT LEWIS' OWN MINE UNION

Will Charter Illinois Progressives.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., May 25.—[Special.]—The first step in the American Federation of Labor's war on John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization is to be an invasion of Lewis' own union, the United Mine Workers of America.

This became plain here today, a few moments before the leaders of the A. F. of L.'s powerful national and international unions gave their approval to the federation's program. President William Green indicated that the A. F. of L. soon will grant a charter to the Progressive Miners' union in Illinois. This is a coalition of various groups forced out of the United Mine Workers by Lewis during the last decade.

Time to Act, Says Green.

Without mentioning the Progressives by name, Green said the organization had been appealing for affiliation for a year.

"Now," he declared, "the hour is struck. The time is come. We are willing to give them a home within the American Federation of Labor if they are willing." Joseph Ozanik, president of the Progressives, is in Cincinnati, and is expected to confer with the federation's executive council during its meetings which start tomorrow. Since the union voted on May 17 by approximately 4 to 1 for A. F. of L. affiliation, the condition mentioned by Green has been met in advance.

Other inroads on United Mine Worker local unions are anticipated shortly. One drive is expected to take place in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania, where there always has been some antagonism to the control of the United Mine Workers by the soft coal miners, and another in Virginia, where hostility toward Lewis by some local miners' unions is reported.

Backbone of C. I. O.

The miners have been the financial backbone of the C. I. O. movement. From their treasury has come an estimated half million dollars which was used to recruit C. I. O. unions in the automobile and steel industries.

Discussions during the present conference have done much to fix the real issue in the A. F. of L.-C. I. O. controversy as a fight for power, not a difference over the respective merits of the craft and industrial form of union organization. This is the stand which President Green has taken since the fight started.

William D. Mahon, veteran leader of the street car men's union, put the issue in colloquial form when he said today: "The fact is that you all steal members when you get a chance."

Jewelers in Pants Union.

Ridiculing the claims of C. I. O. leaders for industrial organization, Sam Beardsley of the Jewelry Workers stated that C. I. O. leaders in Chicago have enrolled about a hundred rhinestone jewelry workers in the pants makers' union.

"Is the C. I. O. going to promote a campaign to put rhinestones on men's pants?" he demanded.

More seriously, Beardsley argued that the jewelry makers are being injured by being placed in a union the leaders of which are unfamiliar with conditions in their trade, and therefore will not be able to represent them intelligently in bargaining.

INLAND STRIKE THREAT

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Leaders of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee threatened a strike against the Inland Steel company here yesterday following the company's refusal to sign a contract giving the S. W. O. C. collective bargaining powers. The S. W. O. C. is a division of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Inland company officials, announcing their position on labor matters, stated that while the corporation was unwilling to sign a formal contract it has agreed to recognize the C. I. O. union as the bargaining agency for its members among the company's 13,500 employés at the Indiana Harbor and Chicago Heights plants.

Join Fascists or Quit Italy, Duce to Jews

ROME, May 25.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's Milan newspaper asked Jews today to give wholehearted support to Fascism or to leave the country, and to cease criticism of Germany.

The choice appeared to be one between race and country.

Editorial Writer Oreste Gregorio wrote in Mussolini's Popolo d'Italia that Jews must decide "whether they are Jews in Italy or Jews of Italy."

The editorial emphasized that Italian Jews must give up any opposition to the German Nazi principle of a pure Teutonic race [evidenced by many restrictions upon Jews in Germany] and must abandon any participation in the Zionist movement for a national Jewish home in Palestine.

Stresses German Friendship.

The paper held that opposition to Nazi ideas would be "irreconcilable with the friendship that binds us to Germany and which has objectives far more vast and fundamental than the Jewish question." [Italy and Germany are linked by a friendship accord to coöperate in action upon European problems.]

Support of the Zionist movement would be "in definite opposition to the Mediterranean spirit of Italy" because, the newspaper said, the national home project is designed to set up a new state under British control which would be hostile to Arabs and Moslems. [Mussolini has proclaimed firm friendship for the people of Islam.]

Despite the strong tenor of the editorial, there was a definite indication that Mussolini's declared policy of friendship and justice for Jews would be continued.

No Desire for "Purge."

There was a marked difference from the German policy, in that the editorial indicated Italy has no desire to purge the nation of its Jewish population but wishes to adapt it thoroughly to Fascist principles.

The paper said the problem doubtless would be solved satisfactorily and that Italy is "certain of the good faith of Italian Jews."

But, the paper said, "the Hebrews of Italy face a dilemma which up to now they have ignored, perhaps transported by a religious impulse or by vision which did not cling to reality, a precise and inevitable dilemma.

"Either they must publicly declare themselves enemies—we mean enemies—of international, Masonic, subversive and above all, anti-Fascist Hebrewism and give to their manifestations a character simply and sincerely religious or renounce their Italian citizenship and residence.

"It is inconceivable that in synagogues and communities meetings begin with expressions of fidelity to Italy, the king, and Il Duce and, at the same time, demonstrate sympathies, even though theoretical, with problems and actions hostile to Italy, to the king, and to Il Duce."

The Rome press did not reprint the editorial, but the Rome La Tribuna carried a similar article which was titled "Either Rome or Zion."

The Rome newspaper specifically attacked the journal Israel, published at Florence, which it said "tenaciously is keeping alive among Italian Jews their sense of race and religion and position."

SHOWBOAT DIXIANA HALF SUBMERGED AT FIRST PORT ON TOUR

Buffeted by wind and wave on its lake journey, the showboat Dixiana held together yesterday long enough to get from the Chicago river to the harbor in Michigan City, Ind. Then, after it was tied up at the dock and the two towing tugs prepared to return to Chicago, the showboat's seams opened and it listed over on its side.

The Dixiana was there, half submerged, last night as owners sought a way to raise the craft. They said they would have to postpone the scheduled opening Friday night of "Tobacco Road," the play banned in Chicago by Mayor Kelly.

After a long run of old time melodramas, the showboat had been dark at its mooring in the north branch of the Chicago river at Diversey parkway for more than a year.

BOMB DAMAGES CHICAGO HEIGHTS OFFICIAL'S HOME

A terrific bomb explosion early today wrecked the front of the home and business quarters of John A. Zimny, 250 East 14th street, Chicago Heights. Zimny is a city commissioner of the suburb. His undertaking establishment occupies the first floor and his home is on the second.

The blast, which roused residents for miles around, demolished the lower part of the building, smashed all the windows, and broke windows in adjoining structures. Zimny, his wife, Veronica, and five small children, who were sleeping on the upper floor, were not hurt, although some members of the family were showered with glass.

Zimny estimated the damage at $3,000. He said he did not know whether the attack was due to a political or a personal grudge, but he gave Chief of Police Louis Smith the names of several suspects. Recently a political storm broke over the village when three policemen and one fireman were ousted. This department, however, is under another commissioner. Zimny is in charge of the water department.

Andy of Noted Radio Team Is Sued by Wife

Charles J. Correll, to thousands of radio listeners the Andy of Amos and Andy, was sued for divorce yesterday in the Superior court by Mrs. Marie Janes Correll of the Drake hotel. The grounds were cruelty.

The bill, filed by Ald. B. A. Cronson, alleges that Andy, the deep voice basso of the radio team, slapped his wife on two occasions. One was last Christmas eve.

The Second Slap.

The second bit of cruelty occurred at Palm Springs, Cal., on May 1 of this year, according to Mrs. Correll. Andy slapped her, the bill alleges, and she left him.

It was indicated there will be no contest of the divorce. Although Ald. Cronson refused to comment, it was reported that Mrs. Correll will receive a large financial settlement.

The Corrells were married Jan. 27, 1927, after Correll had spent six years on tour with Freeman F. Gosden, the Amos of their skit. The two blackface comedians first started radio as Sam and Henry over W-G-N.

Their Popularity Grows.

On March 19, 1928, they started the now famous Amos and Andy continuity and soon were coming on the air nightly over a national hook-up. Their popularity increased rapidly, as the pair introduced other characters into their act, including the now well-known Kingfish and Madame Queen. Their Fresh Air Taxicab Company, Incorpolated, became well known in almost every home.

Since then, for nine years, Amos and Andy has been one of the most popular radio acts on the air.

FRENCH MARITIME STRIKE SETTLED BY PREMIER BLUM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 25.—A general maritime strike was called off tonight after Premier Leon Blum intervened and persuaded the strikers to return to their ships. The strikers had demanded a 40 hour week and old age pensions. The terms of Blum's settlement were not announced.

Among the many ships affected by the brief walkout was the giant liner Normandie. One thousand members of its crew had walked ashore in Le Havre. Liners in other ports also had been affected by the movement.

The government acted quickly to end the walkout, because of the menace it presented to the newly opened Paris exposition. Officials feared the walkout would shut off incoming tourist travel.

Logansport, Ind., May 25.—[Special.]—Three ruthless killers whom Indiana state police assert are more vicious than John Dillinger ever was were sought in a widespread man-hunt tonight following their latest bloody foray.

The desperadoes, all former paroled convicts, shot two peace officers in an ambush west of here today after robbing a bank in the home town of the gang's leader, Al Brady. One of the policemen was expected to die.

The new scourges boasted they would outdo the exploits of Dillinger. They have exhibited his cold ferocity in three killings and nearly a dozen robberies. The careers of the two Indiana gangs parallel in numerous instances.

Four Planes in Hunt.

More than 300 armed men were engaged in the hunt tonight. Four airplanes were used before dark. The state police department sent out 130 men.

Sherifs' forces in the 92 Indiana counties and all community police chiefs were notified by radio to block highways. Illinois, Ohio, and Michigan also established highway blockades near their state lines.

A report that the fugitives had holed up in a dense woods near Nyona lake, 20 miles southeast of Logansport, sent a big posse speeding there late tonight. Fifty American Legionnaires joined state troopers in the advance on the supposed hiding place.

Policeman Shot 12 Times.

While the hunt surged back and forth across central Indiana farm lands, State Highway Policeman Paul Minneman, 27 years old, who tried to halt the gang's getaway, lay near death in a hospital here.

The young policeman, who had been on the force only a year and nine months and was considered one of the department's best men, was shot twelve times with a .30 caliber automatic rifle. Two blood transfusions were administered in an effort to save his life, but he continued to sink.

Deputy Sherif Elmer Craig of Cass county, Minneman's companion in the ambush, also was seriously wounded but was expected to recover. His foot was nearly torn off by a bullet and he was shot in the face and chest. The officers' car was riddled with 51 bullets.

Three Raid Home Bank.

Brady was accompanied by his two lieutenants today when he descended upon the Goodland State bank in Goodland, Ind., a small town sixty miles west of here, where Brady was born and reared.

With him were Clarence Lee Shaf-

SENATE ADOPTS VENEREAL TEST MARRIAGE BILL

Horner Promises to Sign Measure.

Action was taken yesterday to put Illinois in the list of the few states that have hygienic marriage laws when the state senate, by a vote of 32 to 1, passed the Saltiel bill requiring all prospective brides and grooms to take tests for syphilis and gonorrhea. The lone dissenting ballot was cast by Senator H. S. Burgess [D., Fairfield].

"If the measure comes to me in its present form, I will sign it," Gov. Horner promised last night. The bill already has received house approval by a vote of 105 to 4.

The bill must go back to the lower branch for concurrence in two senate amendments. One of these eliminated the clause providing for a maximum fee of $2 by the examining physician. The other provides that the doctor's statement of good health must be accompanied by a laboratory certificate showing that negative results have been obtained in tests for the two venereal infections.

Bill May Be Law July 1.

Members of the house indicated that both the amendments would be accepted, so the bill is expected to become a law on July 1.

Wisconsin also made an advance in hygienic marriage legislation yesterday when the lower house at Madison, by a vote of 76 to 9, passed the Thompson bill, which makes syphilis tests mandatory on both men and women. Wisconsin for years has required this test of men only.

The Illinois measure will affect about 75,000 couples each year. Of these, about 40,000 apply for marriage licenses in Cook county. Under the new dispensation they will be required to present themselves to a physician not more than 15 days prior to their application for a license. The physician must give each party a thorough physical examination and make the necessary smears and blood samples for the laboratory tests. The tests may be made by the doctor or by a commercial or state laboratory. In the latter case, they will be free of charge.

Good for 30 Days.

When a license is issued on the strength of certificates from doctor and laboratory, it will be valid for only 30 days.

"Passage of this bill is the greatest step yet taken in the United States toward the control of venereal disease," said Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, veteran leader of Chicago's war against the two plagues. "Credit for the legislation must be ascribed almost exclusively to the long and enlightened campaign of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE against these diseases.

"The elimination of the $2 fee clause removes the possibility that the law may be declared unconstitutional, and the requirement of a laboratory certificate is the best guarantee that can be devised that a thorough test will be made. If anything can stop the peddling of good health certificates by quacks, it is that clause."

Bundesen Praises Bill.

"Final passage of the bill will mean much for public health," said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, "because it will safeguard the large number of persons who contract these infections innocently and because it will bring about a sharp reduction in stillbirths and babies born with congenital syphilis.

"Tragic cases of this kind are being brought to light in ever increasing numbers just now because of the better reporting of syphilis by doctors as a result of the work of Mayor Kelly's committee for the control of venereal disease."

Cost of Free Tests.

The free laboratory tests which must be made by the state under the terms of the legislation will cost about $60,000 a year, according to Dr. Frank Jirka, state health commissioner. Wassermann tests can be made in volume at a cost from 25 to 65 cents, according to Dr. Schmidt. However, this figure is bound to be higher if the tests are made by a private practitioner, and it does not include his other services. Still, Dr. Schmidt felt that few persons would be charged more than $3 for the examination.

Representative Edward J. Saltiel [R., Chicago] said he inserted the $2 fee clause to protect persons who cannot afford to pay fancy prices, but added that he would not oppose the amendment. He said he was heartily in favor of the other senate amendment.

The senate yesterday passed the measure without debate and only one speech, a favorable one, was made by Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton].

WISCONSIN HOUSE ACTS

Madison, Wis., May 25.—[Special.]—The Thomson bill requiring that a negative Wassermann test for syphilis be filed by both parties to a proposed marriage in Wisconsin before the license to wed is issued was passed by the house today, 76 to 9. It immediately was sent to the senate under suspension of the rules.

Failure of a county clerk to comply with the provision requiring the presentation of a physician's certificate that the applicant is free from syphilis would be punishable under the Thomson bill by a fine of not more than $100 or by imprisonment of not more than six months. Physicians who knowingly or wilfully make false statements in the certificate would be liable to a similar fine or imprisonment.

TUPY, SABATH'S INVESTIGATOR, IS ACCUSED IN SUIT

J. L. Tupy, chief investigator for Congressman A. J. Sabath's committee investigating bondholders' committees, was named a defendant yesterday in a suit filed in federal District court asking for the removal of Bert C. Roach as receiver for the First American National Bank and Trust company, which took in the First National Bank of Berwyn on a merger.

The suit, filed in behalf of Frank J. Stastny, former vice president and secretary of the bank, charges that Tupy connived with Francis Karel, former president of the institution, to borrow more than $10,000 from the bank and that he never has repaid the money. Karel also is made a defendant in the action.

The petition charges that fraud recently was perpetrated on the federal court in connection with the dismissal of a suit in which the bank's receiver sought an accounting of $50,000 from Karel and others. The court again is asked to order an accounting and to issue an injunction restraining the defendants from disposing of any of the bank's assets.

DENTIST FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN LOCKED CLOSET

Dr. Nathan Marshall, 45 years old, a dentist, was found shot to death last night in a locked closet in his office at 3215 North avenue. On the floor was a .38 caliber revolver and a flashlight. There was a mirror on the wall.

Police said Dr. Marshall, after locking himself in the closet, apparently stood before the mirror, and, using the flashlight for illumination, carefully held the pistol against his temple and fired.

Dr. Marshall's home was at 3043 Logan boulevard. His body was found by his wife. Dr. Florence Brosiloff, a physician, who uses her maiden name professionally, and his brothers, Samuel and Solomon.

Middle Aged Gunwomen Seize $600 in Robbery

Two women, middle aged and well dressed, entered the Chicago Silver House, Inc., rare metal buyers at 108 West North avenue, late yesterday and asked Mrs. Bertha Speiner, 50 years old, to appraise a gold ring. As she examined the ring one of the women produced a gun and forced her into a back room. After taking $458 from Mrs. Speiner's purse the women stopped at the cash register for $151 more and fled.

industry elsewhere included these items:

1. Chairman H. E. Lewis of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation signed a contract at Pittsburgh with the S. W. O. C. recognizing the committee as sole bargaining agency for the concern's 27,000 employés.

2. The C. I. O. won its second employé representation election in the steel industry when 1,773 workers for the Sharon Steel corporation plants at Sharon, Pa., and Lowellsville, O., voted in favor of the S. W. O. C. and 721 voted against it. The balloting was peaceful. However, at Lawrenceville, Ill., employés of the Indian Refining company voted against a C. I. O. union acting as their collective bargaining agent. They will bargain through their own association, which is not affiliated with any labor group.

3. Republic Steel corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company continued firm in their refusals to sign contracts with the C. I. O. group.

4. Philip Murray, chairman of the S. W. O. C., stated at Pittsburgh that the Bethlehem Steel corporation soon would announce a wage increase of 10 per cent, bringing the minimum scale to $5 a day, as stipulated in its contract between the S. W. O. C. and the United States Steel corporation. A company statement said there was no foundation for nor truth in Murray's statement.

5. Union workers went on strike last night at the Canton, O., plants of the Republic Steel corporation. Frank A. Hardesty, subregional S. W. O. C. director, said the strike vote was unanimous. The Canton plants employ 7,500 workers, of whom 3,500 to 4,000, Hardesty said, are union members.

Says Strike Is Inevitable.

Van A. Bittner, director of the S. W. O. C. for the Great Lakes region, asserted following a conference with the Inland management yesterday morning that a strike is inevitable at the company's plants because of the refusal to sign a contract. Bittner, with Nicholas Fontecchio, Calumet region director of the committee, met with J. H. Walsh, Inland works manager at Indiana Harbor.

The union asked the management to sign a contract calling for recognition of its members similar to the agreements in effect between the C. I. O. unit and subsidiaries of the United States Steel. Bittner claims that more than 90 per cent of the Inland workers are with the S. W. O. C.

Meetings to Be Tonight.

He announced that massmeetings of Inland workers would be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Indiana Harbor and Chicago Heights.

Walsh stated that the company "does not feel it is for the best interests either of the company or its employés for us to sign a contract."

"I am advised by the representatives of the committee," he said, "that there are no material complaints as to wages, hours, or working conditions in our plant and that the principal issue is the signing of their contract. This we have declined to do."

The company issued notices to employés that it would recognize the S. W. O. C. for workers who select that agency for collective bargaining and that "the company will abide by the principle of collective bargaining as provided by law."

Strike Inevitable

Van A. Bittner, Chicago regional director of Steel Workers' Organizing committee, C. I. O. affiliate, anonunced yesterday that a strike at the Inland Steel company plant in Indiana Harbor was inevitable.

BIG HEINZ PLANT SHUT BY STRIKE OF PICKLE UNION

Halt Operations for First Time in 68 Years.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25.—[Special.]—For the first time in sixty-eight years, operations at the vast north side plant of the H. J. Heinz company [of the fifty-seven varieties] were interrupted today by hundreds of pickets carrying out a strike of the Canning and Pickle Workers' union.

Hundreds of the plant's 2,300 workers picketed the gates of the factory, while across the street from this patrol stood hundreds of other employés who wanted to go back to their jobs. The big plant, which covers several blocks along the Allegheny river front, is the headquarters of the Heinz system.

The strike was called last night at a meeting of a group of employés who demanded recognition of the union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, as the collective bargaining agency for all the workers. The union also sought a 10 per cent wage increase.

A company spokesman said the management was "helpless" in effecting a settlement because two opposing employé factions were seeking recognition on the grounds each represented a majority.

Prepare Ford Demands.

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—[Special.]—Plans for distributing union literature at the Ford Motor company's huge Dearborn plant were announced today by the United Automobile Workers of America.

The leaflets will demand a six hour day and a minimum wage of $8 a day. Ford employés now work five eight hour days a week and receive a minimum wage of $6 a day.

These campaign plans in the unionization war against Ford were announced soon after the union had opened two recruiting offices in abandoned bank buildings just outside the Dearborn city limits.

Walther Reuther, president of the west side local of the union, said the Dearborn city clerk had promised to mail to the union the permit required by a Dearborn city ordinance for the distribution of handbills.

Mail Order House Closed.

Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—[Special.]—A strike affecting 2,000 workers closed the Montgomery Ward & Co. retail and mail order plant here today. Pickets refused to permit any one to enter the building.

Emil Talley, chairman of a C. I. O. committee in charge of the walkout, said the strike was called because of the refusal of W. C. Weaver, the plant manager, to negotiate with the C. I. O.

STRIKING MINERS REMAIN IN SHAFT AS THEY GET PAY

Gillespie, Ill., May 25.—(AP)—Sitdown striking miners, spending their fifth day deep in the Superior Coal company's No. 4 mine at Wilsonville, were paid today for their two weeks' work from May 1 to May 15, bolstering family coffers for what the strikers believed will be a "prolonged siege."

With strike settlement negotiations deadlocked, Fred S. Pfahler, president of the coal company, left for Chicago, announcing "the next step is up to the men themselves."

Encouragement for the sitdowners, who have been in the pit since last Thursday, came from 200 of their children, who left the Wilsonville Grade school for a half day demonstration in support of the strike.

POLICE WASH UP SOAPWORKS; FOIL COUNTERFEIT ACT

Clean Out Company and All of Its Products.

State's attorney's police under Lieut. Thomas Kelly backed up a moving van in front of the Ideal Soap company, 3807 Ogden avenue, yesterday and moved the soap works to the prosecutor's office. This was done after discovery of a plot to flood the market with an imitation of a nationally advertised household cleaning product manufactured by Fitzpatrick Bros., Inc.

When the van moved away from the Ogden avenue soap plant, which was opened about two weeks ago, it was loaded with 25,000 cans of the imitation cleaning powder and with counterfeit labels which were ready to be pasted on the cans.

Two Partners Go Along.

With the powder went the two partners in the newly established soap business, five employés of the company, and the printer, who made photographic imitations of the genuine label. Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers, who took charge of the investigation, said he would decide what action to take against his prisoners today. He said government officials would be notified for possible prosecution of the soap partners for counterfeiting a trade marked product.

Courtney Fitzpatrick, president of Fitzpatrick Bros., made the complaint on which the police acted. He said he traced the source of the contemplated powder after he received reports that salesmen were offering to sell the product of his company at amazingly low prices. The police made the raid yesterday because labels for the cans were to be delivered at that time.

Seek to Make Few Dollars.

Ralph Silverman, 3938 18th street, and Phillip Glacir, 5463 Ingleside avenue, were held as the partners in the new business. According to Lieut. Kelly they told him they were just trying to make a few dollars. Among the others arrested were two truck drivers who were to make deliveries as soon as the labels were pasted on the cans.

This the first "White Collar" movement among employés of the United States government. Workers in the bureau of printing and engraving are mostly union men.

OUST 'MERCHANT OF VENICE' FROM SCHOOLS IS PLEA

Buffalo, N. Y., May 25.—(AP)—A Jewish organization pressed today for the removal of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" from public school curricula.

Delegates to the northeastern convention of B'nai B'rith held that Shakespeare's picture of Shylock creates unfriendliness between Jews and Christians. Accordingly, delegates voted to support a campaign which, they said, already had resulted in elimination of the play from school courses in more than 50 cities.

Harry J. Greenblatt of Boston, Mass., chairman of the organization's anti-defamation committee, said the drive was started some time ago and has been pushed "vigorously."

BREAK RECORDS IN DISTRIBUTION OF LILAC BLOOMS

Bouquets Put at Bedsides of 21,000 Patients.

Names and addresses of contributors in Chicago's two lilac days, yesterday, and last Wednesday, will be printed in the Metropolitan sections of next Sunday's Tribune.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

All records for lilac distribution were broken by suburban and city gardeners yesterday, when they completed their work of putting bouquets by the bedsides of more than 21,000 patients in hospitals and other institutions caring for shut-ins. It was the second and final day of Chicago's ninth annual "share your lilacs" campaign.

Twenty-four big truckloads of blossoms were delivered in the two days, compared with twenty in 1935, when the former record was set. Seven truckloads were delivered yesterday and seventeen last Wednesday, the first lilac day.

Pour In from All Suburbs.

Most of the lilacs distributed yesterday came from the north shore and northwest suburbs, although generous supplies came from the south and west suburban gardeners who supplied most of the blossoms last week.

Lilacs were distributed this year to a total of 132 hospitals, social settlement houses, and associations of visiting nurses. Several institutions received lilacs for the first time. This was made possible because lilacs are blooming in much greater profusion than usual this year.

The Cook county jail was among the institutions added to the list. Some of the prisoners had not seen a lilac in many months.

Veterans Spread Cheer.

Veterans of Foreign Wars picked up the lilac day idea as a means of spreading cheer among their buddies. Members of four veterans' posts—Irving Park, Berwyn, Henry A. Hoenick, and Harmony—loaded automobiles with lilacs gathered in the suburbs and took them to the hospital for former service men at Dwight yesterday afternoon. A. R. Kays of Kankakee, state commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, received the lilacs in Dwight.

Some of the lilacs brought in from Glencoe served a double purpose. Great masses of the blossoms used yesterday afternoon in the suburb's annual lilac tea, given by the Women's Guild of the Glencoe Union church, were taken to a north side hospital in Chicago immediately after the program ended.

Trains with lilacs piled high on the seats and in the vestibules came rolling into the terminals from north, south, and west suburbs early yesterday morning. Some of the coaches were so heavily loaded that passengers gave up their seats and stood in the ailes.

Loop Workers Bring Bouquets.

Many workers on their way to loop offices got off the trains with armloads of lilacs that they had cut in their own yards and gardens in the suburbs, for distribution to the hospitals. Some started from home with extra bouquets for their offices, but when they reached the downtown stations they decided to add all their blossoms to the masses that were being loaded into trucks to be promptly hauled to the city's sick, cripples, and shut-ins.

The "share your lilacs" enterprise is conducted jointly by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild and THE TRIBUNE. Thousands of gardeners in Chicagoland contribute lilacs each year. Many new ones joined with their neighbors in sharing blossoms this year for the first time. It is reported that many others have set out bushes in recent years so they will have lilacs to give in the future.

GERMANY PROTESTS TO VATICAN AGAINST MUNDELEIN SPEECH

VATICAN CITY, May 25.—(AP)—A formal German protest against the recent anti-Hitler speech by Cardinal George Mundelein of Chicago has been presented to the Vatican secretariat of state, a reliable source asserted tonight.

The protest was presented by Diego von Bergen, Germany's ambassador to the Vatican, yesterday, this source said. The Vatican has not replied, it was said, and German circles expressed doubt there would be any reply.

Cardinal Mundelein in his speech called Hitler "an Austrian paperhanger and a poor one at that" and characterized German "immorality" trials of Catholic monks and lay brothers as "crooked" propaganda. Germany already has made informal representations in Washington concerning the cardinal's remarks.

PRESIDENT FIRM ON COURT PLANS DESPITE RULINGS

Won't Concede Defeat for Packing.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Despite his victory in the Supreme court yesterday, capping an unbroken record of favorable decisions on his policies since his reëlection, President Roosevelt today refused to halt his drive to pack the court with six new members.

Senator Frazier turns down president.

He is not satisfied, he made it known, with the slender liberal majority now existing in the court, represented by the 5 to 4 decision, or with the majority after he fills the Van Devanter vacancy, when the alignment will become six liberals and three conservatives. He wants a liberal majority large enough to make certain beyond a doubt the validation of the wage and hour measure he proposed to congress yesterday and other projects on his program.

In the back of the President's head, it is learned, there is the vision of getting a court eventually that will reverse the decision knocking out the NRA which was unanimous and that invalidating the AAA which was 6 to 3.

Refuses to Concede Defeat.

So the President ordered full steam ahead on his court packing bill, although administration leaders in congress have informed him it is doomed to defeat and, since the Supreme court decisions yesterday, is weaker than ever.

Mr. Roosevelt rejected advice to compromise on an addition of two judges to the court after being informed by Democratic leaders that there will be just as much opposition to such a packing of the court as to the six judge bill.

As a matter of fact, the President had learned this at first hand for himself. It transpires that he called on Senators Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] and Lynn Frazier [R., N. D.] and sounded them on a compromise. They turned down the proposition flatly.

In some quarters the theory is entertained that the President while not confessing defeat intends to allow the court packing bill to be shelved, at least for the remainder of this session.

Discusses Security Decisions.

Mr. Roosevelt made his attitude known at his conference with the press this afternoon.

The President said he thought all in the administration were very, very happy over the court's decisions and hoped that in the days to come the court would continue to exercise the same human point of view it had in dealing with social security. He pointed out that there was no such guarantee as yet.

For example he cited his labor message of yesterday. He declared it raised four questions of national policy which by the nature of things will probably come before the Supreme court.

He listed them as child labor, which will necessitate a reversal of a long standing court decision; minimum wages, which is in the same position as child labor; maximum hours, and the barring of goods manufactured under unfair employment conditions.

In one message, he said, four issues are raised which some day will come before the court. In addition there are a good many administration policies which the court has not acted upon, he added.

Mr. Roosevelt cited the TVA decision, favorable to the administration. This, he said, concerned merely Wilson dam and similar objections might be raised against Boulder and other dams. Other questions he mentioned were the right of the goxernment to condemn land for housing projects; the right of municipalities to borrow or receive federal funds for publicly owned power plants, and phases of carrying out flood control projects.

Asked if his point is that his concern lies not with what is before the court but what may come before it, Mr. Roosevelt nodded and said that the whole thing was a continuing process.

Asked if the court's decisions and the favorable decisions of the present term did take away the emergency phase of his court plan at least for the present session of congress, the President replied sharply that he would let his interrogator do his own imagining.

Causes Little Excitement.

The administration's wage and hour bill produced strangely little excitement in congress for such a sweeping legislative proposal. The senate constitutional lawyers who heretofore have scrutinized all administration measures from that standpoint refrained from comment today, declaring that they had not read the bill.

There were indications that the senators fighting Mr. Roosevelt on the Supreme court packing project will not seriously challenge the constitutionality of the wage and hour bill because they have been accused of using the court plan as a smoke screen for opposition to all social and economic legislation. They prefer to concentrate their attack on the packing scheme and let the court itself consider the constitutional aspects of the new labor measure.

Expect Fight on Differentials.

A controversy is expected, however, over the question of geographical wage differentials, source of great trouble in the NRA days. The wage and hour bill would empower the special administrative board to establish differentials according to standards and costs of living in the various areas.

All organized labor and all industry except the south, which benefits, oppose geographical wage differentials. Senators and representatives from southern states favor this form of discrimination because it invites tax paying industries to move in.

Two questions left open in the bill and still to be settled in committee relate to the number of employés of business establishments that might be excluded from the operation of the act and to the number of working hours below which the board could not fix the maximum work week. The bill as drawn prohibits the board from fixing minimum hourly wages of more than 80 cents, or at such a figure that would produce annual earnings of more than $1,200.

Treasury Is Relieved.

The validation of the social security act dispelled a lot of anxiety at the treasury. If the act had been invalidated the treasury would have been deprived of about 1 billion dollars of tax revenue in the next fiscal year on which it was counting for the retirement of large blocks of outstanding obligations.

Such a deflationary move is considered of the utmost importance by the treasury experts, as it would tend to bolster the market for government securities. To continue offering government obligations, on the other hand, would tend to weaken the market, which already has shown some unsteadiness.

Receipts from social security taxes are expected to total 250 million dollars up to June 30 of this year, and nearly a billion dollars for the full fiscal year of 1937-'38.

Court Told of Problem.

Government lawyers told the court, in asking for a prompt decision, that if the cases were decided adversely congress "must not only find other sources of revenue to substitute therefor in appropriations already made, but it must find revenue to provide for the refund of the collections under the act and the amount of interest thereon, which would be substantial and would increase with the delay in the decision."

Corporations currently operating private pension plans are expected to begin a rush to adjust themselves to the old age pension law.

Some companies have already made such changes, but the majority have delayed action until they were assured of the validity of the act.

Those firms which have made adjustments have done so in such a way, that, so far as can now be ascertained, employés in every case are as fully protected against old age as before. It is assumed that these plans, already effective, will be used as models by other employers when considering adjustments.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS A SLIGHT COLD; CUTS CONFERENCES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—A slight head cold kept President Roosevelt in the White House proper until late afternoon today. He canceled all conferences except his press conference and attended that only to stop possible rumors of serious illness.

Mr. Roosevelt blamed his cold on capital reporters, according to his aids. The President sat for 15 minutes in an open automobile in a driving rain last Saturday at Quantico, Va., waiting for newspaper men and congressmen to arrive at the Marine baseball diamond.

The President was scheduled to throw the first ball to start the annual game which the Vice President umpires. The reporters and congressmen kept to a chartered boat during the rain.

Dr. Ross T. McIntyre, White House physician, advised the President to cancel the day's conferences when he found Mr. Roosevelt had the sniffles. The President is susceptible to head colds. He plans to resume his full official schedule tomorrow.

CLIP ROOSEVELT SPENDING WINGS IN RELIEF FIGHT

House Rebels Inject New Restrictions in Bill.

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Another revolt flared in the house today and a new rebel war cry was raised as the members shouted down Democratic leaders and shot the billion and one-half million dollar relief bill into tatters with a series of amendments restricting expenditures.

"No more blank checks for Roosevelt and Hopkins" was the battle whoop which inspired the representatives to a series of votes which the leadership frantically protested were "insulting" to the President and his chief spender.

The huge total of the bill was not reduced. But the economy bloc expressed complete satisfaction with the amendments which definitly earmarked 505 million dollars for projects outside the authority of Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator.

In desperation, the leaders postponed final action on the bill until Thursday.

Leader to Seek Reversal.

Incensed and a little frightened, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn announced that record roll calls would later be forced on all the amendments which were passed by standing and tellers' votes today. He expressed the hope that he could force a reversal of action by putting the members on record where they would be subject to patronage punishment from the White House.

"You're wrecking the President's relief program," Rayburn yelled on the floor, but the members rode rough shod over his plea for delivering the entire billion and a half dollars into Mr. Roosevelt's hands to spend as he saw fit.

Commenting on the house's action, President Roosevelt said at a press conference that every dollar earmarked for other purposes in the relief bill meant that fewer persons on relief rolls would receive jobs.

Threatens Jobless March.

The noisy disorder of the floor and in the lobbies was augmented when Herbert Benjamin, secretary of the Workers Alliance, composed of several hundred thousands of WPA workers, appeared in the lobby to threaten that the action of the house, if upheld, would precipitate a march upon Washington by the unemployed.

"You've cut relief to one billion when it should be three billions," shrieked Benjamin, a member of the communist party. "Watch out or you'll have an army of jobless besieging the capital."

The first insurrection today occurred upon a motion by Representative Joe Starnes [D., Ala.] to earmark 45 million dollars for flood control projects. Chairman Marvin Jones [D., Tex.] of the agriculture committee suggested raising this total to 55 million dollars by setting aside another 10 millions for the construction of ponds and small lakes in the great plains area.

Both Proposals Approved.

Over the strenuous objections of the leadership, both suggestions were approved by a vote of 156 to 89.

Representative Millard F. Caldwell [D., Fla.] next offered an amendment setting aside 300 million dollars of the appropriation for Public Works administration projects under Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

This amendment attracted wide support.

"The next best thing to cutting 500 millions off the bill is to earmark 500 millions for worthwhile projects," declared Representative Scott Lucas [D., Ill.]. Last week the economy group was defeated in an effort to slash the total of the bill by half a billion.

"The question here is whether we're going to continue to write blank checks for the spenders or assume our responsibility of determining how money shall be spent," asserted Representative John L. McClellan [D., Ark.] "Let's start getting something for our money."

Other Funds Earmarked.

"We ought to earmark every dollar of the appropriation," interjected Representative Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.].

The 300 million earmarking amendment was approved 172 to 48.

Immediately, Representative Wilburn Cartwright [D., Okla.], came forward with an amendment earmarking another 150 million dollars for road construction. He proposed that 75 millions be spent for highways, 50 millions for feeder roads, and 25 millions for grade crossings.

After a half hour of hectic argument, with the leaders continuing to object, this amendment also was adopted, 175 to 53.

Another rebuff was tendered Hopkins when the house, by an overwhelming vote of 179 to 26, adopted an amendment providing for the expulsion from the relief rolls of any unskilled or agricultural laborer who refuses private employment at the same scale of pay or higher than he was receiving on relief.

HONOR GEN. SHAND'S 50 YEARS OF ARMY SERVICE TOMORROW

Brig. Gen. R. J. Shand.

Brig. Gen. Richings J. Shand, assistant adjutant general of Illinois, will be the honored guest of the officers of the Illinois National Guard tomorrow evening at a dinner in the Racquet club. Fifty years ago—on May 27, 1887—Gen. Shand enlisted as a private in the Third infantry. He has been in military service since, serving in the adjutant general's office from the time of his appointment as chief clerk in 1902. Gen. Shand will observe his 70th birthday on Aug. 18.

27,000 Illinois WPA Men Go Off Pay Roll July 15

The Works Progress administration pay roll in Illinois will be reduced from 142,000 relief workers to 115,000 by July 15. That was announced yesterday at the close of a two day conference of WPA officials in the Stevens hotel. Howard O. Hunter, assistant WPA administrator, said no new assignments to WPA projects will be made until after July 15. A survey will be made to eliminate those incapable of performing WPA tasks. Workers will be encouraged to accept jobs in private industry with the promise of reinstatement on WPA rolls within ninety days if the need arises. Mr. Hunter said the government hopes to reduce the WPA roll from the present total of 2,200,000 to 1,700,000 by July 15.

CIRCLE INDIANA KILLER GANG; 2 OFFICERS SHOT

Police Ambushed After Trio Holds Up Bank.

fer Jr., alias Lee Jackson, 20 years old, a Chicago hoodlum, and James Dahlhover, 29, a former bootlegger.

Two of the desperadoes walked quietly into the bank while a third remained at the wheel of their car. Mrs. Leona Hamilton, assistant cashier, was alone at a desk when they entered.

Speaking in low tones and addressing the young woman as "miss," the gunmen ordered her to keep quiet while they looted the vault. They had to wait fifteen minutes for a time lock to open.

Bank Director Walks In.

While they were waiting, R. Lyle Constable, a director of the bank, walked in. He was forced into a rear room, where Mrs. Hamilton was being held.

"If you see Lieut. Donn Winn give him my regards, for he knows me," one of the outlaws, believed to be Dahlhover, told the young woman. Winn, in charge of the state police barracks at Seymour, Ind., came from Dahlhover's home town of Madison, Ind.

When they could open the vault the two men looted it of $2,500. Then they sauntered outside, got into their car, and sped out of town.

Chief of Police Albert Hotler of Goodland was quickly summoned. He notified state police. Soon the state department's radio was crackling out the alarm.

Deputy on the Scene.

Deputy Sherif Craig was in the state police station here when the alarm came over the radio. He jumped into State Policeman Minneman's squad car and they started northwest on highway No. 16.

They were about twenty miles out when they sighted the bandits' fleeing maroon colored car. The gangsters immediately opened fire, but missed as the two cars roared along the highway.

Two miles farther Minneman momentarily lost sight of his quarry. He slowed down as he approached Caley's Crossing to see if the outlaws had turned into a side road. The squad car cruised cautiously up to the intersection.

Suddenly a blast of bullets came from the southwest corner where stands a small frame white church. The desperadoes had hidden their car in the rear and were waiting there to ambush the policemen.

Minneman was wounded in the first volley. Bullet after bullet pierced his body. A slug smashed the door handle of the squad car and his body rolled out onto the pavement.

Craig leaped out with a shotgun in his hands. Doubling over to offer as small a target as possible, he began to sprint across the road. But a blast of slugs tore his weapon from his hands and cut him down.

With both policemen rendered harmless, the gangsters emerged from their hiding place. Craig said they walked up to the unconscious Minneman, kicked him several times, turned him over, and said: "Well, we got this ——. Shall we finish the other one?"

Craig fainted from his wounds at that moment. He believes the bandits mistook the coma for death and his life thus was saved. The gangsters stole his billfold and gun after he became unconscious.

After the gunmen had sped away, Frank Lind, a farmer who heard the shooting at the church, hurried to the scene. He placed the wounded pair in his car and brought them to the hospital here.

The search for the quick shooting robbers immediately was widened and intensified. Capt. Matt Leach of the Indiana state police gave his men orders to "shoot to kill."

Make Dillinger a Tyro.

"From the experience I've had with this mob, their viciousness and the way they operate," Leach said, "they're going to make Dillinger look like a neophyte."

The gangsters had promised just that. Shaffer had said, "We'll put Dillinger in the shade when we really get going." He and his accomplices boasted they were tougher than Dillinger and, by avoiding his mistakes, would outdo his exploits.

About six years ago, when he was living at Kentland, Ind., Brady was arrested for the theft of an automobile and sent to the Indiana state penal farm at Pendleton. After serving five months he was paroled.

Definitly committed to a life of crime, the parolee looked about for a gang. He was joined by Shaffer, who was reared on Indianapolis' tough west side, source of some of Dillinger's mobsters, and had been schooled by association with the Chicago underworld.

All Three Paroled.

The two soon took in Dahlhover, who had been a tough bootlegger ranging from Kentucky through Indiana and up to Cincinnati. Dahlhover served time in Kentucky for bootlegging and Shaffer served a sentence at the Indiana penal farm. All three were paroled. Their parol periods now have expired.

The gang's first killing was at Anderson, Ind., during a burglary there on Nov. 25, 1935. Policeman James Levy was shot down, supposedly by Dahlhover, when he interrupted their work.

During the brief times they were in the custody of authorities the gangsters admitted numerous robberies in Ohio. But they were next definitly placed at a $50,000 jewelry robbery in Lima, O., the city in which Dillinger shot a sherif to death in executing a spectacular jail delivery of his pals.

Shoot Clerk to Death.

On March 21, 1936, the gang held up a grocery at Piqua, O., and shot to death a clerk whom they said "stuck his head around a corner at the wrong time."

A month later, on April 26, they returned to Lima, O., and held up another jewelry store. A fourth member of their gang, Charles Geisking, now in prison, was wounded in a fight with policemen as they escaped.

The mob sped to Indianapolis, where they had their headquarters, and took Geisking to a doctor. The doctor's wife tipped off police. In an ensuing fight Sergt. Richard Rivers was killed.

Two days later, on April 29, 1936, Brady was arrested in a Chicago hotel with his sweetheart, Mrs. Margaret Barker Larson, 21 years old, former Chicago high school girl, who had deserted her husband and young baby to go with him.

Indicted for Police Killing.

Dahlhover was arrested shortly afterward in Chicago and Shaffer several days later in Indianapolis. All three were indicted in Indianapolis for the killing of Policeman Rivers.

They got a change of venue, which caused their removal to the little old country jail at Greenfield, Ind. They were held there about a month when they broke out in traditional Dillinger fashion.

On Oct. 11, 1936, they clubbed Sherif Clarence Watson into unconsciousness, shot at a citizen, seized his automobile, and fled. Like Dillinger, they found a small Indiana jail not strong enough to hold them.

Free of Chain Gang

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Leon Bertrand, age 15, who was sentenced to chain gang at Tupelo, Miss., for possession of stolen clothing, being greeted on his return to Los Angeles yesterday by his mother.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 25.—[Special.]—"I'm going to stay at home and do my school work," husky, 15 year old Leon Bertrand told his mother as she embraced him when he arrived today from Mississippi, where he had spent a term on the chain gang. Leon ran away last February and was arrested near Tupelo, Miss., charged with possession of stolen clothing.

The mother paid a $25 fine and obtained Leon's freedom. Leon arrived wearing overalls and heavy shoes given him at the jail and smoking a cigaret but at his mother's disappointed expression he threw the latter away.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN WOMAN'S DEATH.

A verdict of suicide while despondent was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Emma J. Hoffert, 42 years old, 4407 Lincoln avenue, who swallowed poison on May 10 in the Garlane hotel, 2062 North Clark street.

A paroled convict, flourishing a long black revolver, held up the box office of the Palace theater at 159 West Randolph street last evening. While dinner hour loop crowds watched in amazement, he was pursued and captured at Wacker drive and Randolph street in a car he had commandeered for his getaway.

The gunman was later identified as the man who held up the A. G. Spalding & Brothers sporting goods store at 33 South La Salle street fifteen minutes before the theater robbery. Police records disclosed later that he is Benjamin Kremin, 29 years old, paroled from Joliet prison, where he was sentenced for auto theft. He gave a fictitious address.

Scrambles for Bills.

It was 5:55 p. m. when a big revolver was thrust through the theater grill at Mrs. Hazel Conrad, 32 years old, of 3731 Wilton avenue, the ticket seller. A man whose face was partly concealed by a green bordered white hankerchief said:

"This is a stickup. Give me the money."

Mrs. Conrad hastily put part of the money in a drawer and then stuffed about thirty $1 bills through the grating. They fell to the sidewalk and the gunman scrambled after them. Mrs. Conrad ran into the lobby calling for help. Calvin Oldham, the doorman, dashed outside and saw the bandit fleeing with what money he had picked up.

Others Join Pursuit.

The bandit ran west to Wells street and thence south to the first alley, with Oldham in pursuit. Louis Lombardi of 753 North Central Park avenue took up the chase in his cab. West in the alley the gunman ran.

Firemen of the station on Franklin street near Randolph street joined in the chase when Oldham called to them. Oldham leaped aboard the cab. Mounted Policeman John Connors joined the pursit as the gunman ran into Wacker drive and jerked open the door of a passing automobile driven by Julius Baron of 6640 North Ashland avenue. Baron obeyed the robber's order to drive north.

Halted by Trafic Jam.

But a trafic jam halted the car at Randolph street. Policemen John Schulpiel, directing trafic at the corner, heard the pursuers' shouts and pulled open the door of the car. On the floor of the back seat cowered the bandit, his revolver between his knees. Schulpiel seized him.

At the Central station the robber was found to have $21 in his pockets. Police believe $15 of it was taken from H. L. Becker at the Spalding store and the rest from the theater. Most of the money the theater cashier threw the bandit is believed to have blown away before he could seize it. Pedestrians returned part of it.

Kremin's police record began in 1928. He was subsequently arrested for forgery, issuing bad checks, violating the prohibition law and, in 1933, for stealing an automobile. Dec. 7, 1935, he was paroled from Joliet penitentiary, where he had been sent for the car theft.

PROBERS RENEW WAR ON BOX DUNGEON IN TENNESSEE INQUIRY

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 25.—[Special.]—Special investigators demanded today that the widely publicized county dungeon be dynamited as a "disgrace to a civilized community."

The standup dungeon.

Squire J. W. Johnston, heading a special County court committee, tried to catch the workhouse unawares. County Engineer E. G. Murrell in charge of workhouses warned his men of the call. The investigators found the dungeon empty and freshly cleaned out. Later, however, Squire Johnston learned that a convict had been removed from the dungeon ten minutes before the committee arrived.

Workhouse officials said the man had been incarcerated 60 hours but other prisoners said he had been kept in the cell on a bread and water died for 96 hours. The dungeon is nine feet high and four feet wide resembling an oversized mechanical refrigerator. It has double doors that exclude all light. Nine small holes admit air. There is no space for prisoners to lie down.

Piccard's Stratosphere Balloon Destroyed by Fire

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 25.—(AP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard's $35,000 stratospheric balloon was destroyed by fire today as final preparations were being made for a new ascent. The 14,000 cubic yard rubber silk bag was eaten up by the flames in a few seconds. No one was injured. The fire was started by a gas burner used to heat air.

King is 48 years old. He lives at 165 North Green Bay road, Lake Forest. No one was injured in the collision that caused his arrest.

ILLINOIS SENATE ADOPTS LOESCH PAROLE REFORM

Favorable House Action Considered Likely.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—Prospects for the enactment of parole reform legislation for Illinois were brightened materially today when the state senate brought back to life and passed the Loesch plan bill to provide that trial judges fix the maximum and minimum sentences imposed under the indeterminate sentence act.

The senate tacked the maximum-minimum sentence provision to a parole bill that already had been passed by the house and then it passed the amended bill. Now it goes back to the house on the question of that chamber's concurrence in the amendment, a procedure that requires only a single roll call.

The amended bill will be ready for the house next week. Leaders who consider the early action indecisive, because 45 members failed to vote, say the outlook for favorable action is good.

Engineered by Ward.

This procedure, giving the house an opportunity to reconsider, was the work of Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], floor leader for the majority, who sponsored the original bill killed in the house. In his effort he had the approval of Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago].

It was a Schnackenberg bill that Ward amended, a bill prohibiting the parole board from passing on the sufficiency of the evidence or the indictment upon which an applicant for parole was convicted.

The contention of Ward and other supporters of the Loesch plan is that the parole board now has too great a leeway under the indeterminate sentence act and that the trial court, having seen and heard the defendant and the witnesses in a criminal trial, is better qualified to set the shortest and longest time a convict shall serve than is a board judging chiefly from a prisoner's conduct in prison.

Roll Call Line-Up.

Those voting in the affirmative were Senators Baker, Baumrucker, Beckman, Benson, Broderick, Connors, Crisenberry, Dixon, Downing, Gunning, Huckin, Kielminski, King, Lantz, Laughlin, Lee, Loughran, Madden, Maypole, McDermott, Mendel, Menges, Monroe, Searcy, Serritella, Thomas, Tuttle, and Ward.

Those who voted in the negative were Senators Burgess, Graham, Harper, Hickman, and Lohmann.

The senate also passed, with a slight amendment which will require house concurrence, the Daley-Schnackenberg-McCabe bill for the preadjudication of tax levies by the major local governments in Cook county. It is intended to avoid the confusion and delay in the collection of taxes that have occurred in recent years through court attacks on levies after the taxes have gone into collection.

FORMER VANITIES GIRL AWARDED A DIVORCE; PLANS MOVIE CAREER

Grace Geraldine Landers Michael, former Earl Carroll Vanities beauty, won a divorce yesterday from Charles Joseph Michael. She told Judge Donald S. McKinlay in Superior court that Michael, a musician, deserted her without any reason at all. The stage beauty said she was 22, and confided that she's on her way to Hollywood to take screen tests. She has been living at the St. Clair hotel. The judge told the smiling brunette that she might have her maiden name back, as she asked.

3 MORE RUSSIAN PLANES ARRIVE AT NORTH POLE

MOSCOW, May 26.—[Wednesday.]—(AP)—Three soviet Russian planes bearing a year's supplies for the Russian North Pole base completed their flight to the top of the earth today. They circled the camp seven hours after taking off from Rudolf Island for their 560 mile Arctic flight. The crews of the three planes were believed to total about 15 men.

Blizzards, fogs, and generally bad weather had kept the three planes grounded at Rudolf Island since Saturday. Their mission was to carry supplies and the portable hut in which four men plan to spend a year on the ice at the pole. Their goal was the ice floe on which the first party of thirteen men was landed twelve miles from the pole on May 21.

Three Puppies Left in Box by Road to Starve to Death

Chief of Police Frank Druba of Libertyville was looking last night for the person he called the prize heel of 1937. This person abandoned three mongrel puppies, about two months old, in a cardboard box near the Buckley road cutoff, one mile northeast of Libertyville. One puppy worked his way out. The others were trapped. All had been without food or water for 24 hours. Police, notified by a passerby, gave one of the pups to a family in Libertyville. The others were taken to a Deerfield animal shelter.

EXUBERANCE

By CALEB

THE impetus given businesses by enthusiastic, exuberant founders carries them far. Generally, exuberance accompanies hearty good-will and honesty. We cannot imagine crooks and poor craftsmen being excitedly good-humored and effervescent over their occupations.

Hensleigh Wedgwood, descendant of Josiah Wedgwood, who was a contemporary of George Washington, chatted with us some time ago about the family business.

We asked Mr. Wedgwood if the founder of the famed china firm had not been a man of lively and vigorous enthusiasm, as so many originators of great businesses have been. For answer, he showed us a copy of a letter, dated June 17, 1765, written by the founder to his brother John, who was London representative.

We quote briefly from it. "Dear Brother"—and after some opening banter—"An order has come here from St. Jame's for a service of Staffordshire Ware, about which I want to ask an hundred questions . . .

'The order came from Miss Deborah, alias Deb. Chetwynd . . . to Mr. Smallwood of Newcastle, who brought it to me (I believe because nobody else would undertake it) & is as follows:

> "A complete sett of tea things, with a gold ground & raised flowers upon it in green . . . . Pray put on the best suit of Cloaths you ever had in your life, & take the first opportunity of going to Court—Miss Chetwynd is daughter to the Master of the Mint. What I would be glad to know from Miss Chetwynd is whether she expects the gold to be burnt in . . . . or secured with a varnish only . . . . whether the flowers upon the cups &c must be in alto relievo or basso relievo . . . ."

We can see in our mind's eye the victorious thirty-five year old experimenter in the production of fine china penning this missive to his brother. We visualize a twinkle in his eye and such an eagerness to be about his further interminable experimenting as to make difficult his sitting quietly in his chair as he wrote.

Business in terms of good-natured banter and enthusiasm is on a different plane from business in terms of "We have an order of this date and wish you to note the following." Our store's founder was an enthusiastic and exuberant individual. Current exponents of enthusiasm in our business, and among our customers and our sources of supply, help keep us spiritually alert and alive.

HOUSE ADVANCES INSURANCE BILL TO THIRD READING

Up for Passage Next Week, It's Predicted.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Springfield, Ill., May 25. — [Special.]—Hopes for enactment of the ponderous insurance code, which rewrites the insurance laws of Illinois, appeared brighter today when the house sponsors beat off 17 of the 26 proposed amendments. The house sent the bill to third reading in substantially the same form in which it was passed by the senate.

The 268 page measure is on its third trial for legislative approval and is closer to passage than it has ever been before. Drafted after months of hearings, under the guidance of Ernest Palmer, director of insurance, it first was introduced in the regular session in 1935, passing the house, but dying in the last minute jam in the senate.

Up at Special Session.

Subsequently it was introduced at a special session in the fall of 1935, but failed again in the senate. During this session it sailed through the senate, without much delay, only to bog down under the maze of hearings in the house insurance committee, finally emerging without much change.

Today's action of advancement consumed hours of time and debate, but when Democratic floor leader Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago finished his work, only nine minor amendments had been attached.

Passage roll call will come next week. Adamowski predicts the bill will be approved. Gov. Horner is certain to sign it. He has supported Palmer consistently throughout his fight for adoption.

Plan Aimed at Lloyds.

Most contentious of the amendments sought today was one which would have eliminated the provision requiring Lloyds of London, the famous three century old concern, to place on deposit in Illinois a sum based on the amount of insurance it writes in this state—as do domestic concerns. Spokesmen for Lloyds contended that it could not comply by sending money from England to the United States.

Representative Frank E. Foster [R., Harvey] handled the Lloyds amendment, but it was tabled, on Adamowski's motion, 81 to 36.

In an attempt to preserve the code in its original form, the floor leader moved, early in the debate, to table all pending amendments, arguing that senate concurrence might be withheld from a major amendment and the bill die in conference committee at the end of the session. He was voted down. With only minor amendments adopted, the senate is not expected to raise much objection to concurrence.

Story in Pictures

Texas sent Lois de Fee to New York City, where her 6 feet 2 inches and 185 pounds got her a job as bouncer in a night club on West 52d street.

According to Lois, who is proud of her Amazonian physique, Lew Brice, brother of Fannie, the actress, started a conversation in the night club without proper introduction. Lois slapped him.

Lew, a Broadway booking agent, took a sock at her, Lois said. At any rate she appeared in court yesterday with two black eyes and a broken nose—broken in five places. A warant for the arrest of Brice was issued.

Gets Safety Prize on Way to Pay Four Trafic Fines

Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—(AP)—L. Q. Skidmore laughed and laughed today when a policeman gave him a "safe driver" sticker. He was on his way to city hall to pay fines on four trafic tickets.

A CONVICT WINS BABY FROM DEAD WIFE'S MOTHER

Goes to Court for Child He'd Never Seen.

A convict who came from prison to fight for possession of the son he had never seen won the battle from his dead wife's mother yesterday in the Lake County court at Waukegan.

The convict did not ask immediate possession of his son, who has lived with the maternal grandmother for the three and a half months since the mother's death from childbirth. But the convict did ask that when he has finished a three to twenty year sentence in Pontiac reformatory for a robbery he committed eleven years ago he be given back his child.

Members of Old Families.

The convict is Leslie Kilbane, 36 years old, a member of an old Waukegan family. The child is Clyde Kilbane, born Feb. 6 in St. Therese's hospital, Waukegan, two and a half months after his father had been sent back to prison as a parole violator for the second time. The mother, Mrs. Corinne Denman Kilbane, also a member of an old Waukegan family, died five days later. Clyde has since lived with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Denman of 323 Fourth street, Waukegan.

Yesterday's hearing was technically to determine whether the child is dependent. Mrs. Denman planned to begin adoption proceedings if the youngster were declared dependent.

Mother Aids Son in Action.

Kilbane in opposing the dependency action had the support of his invalid mother, now Mrs. Mae Zewe, who said she and her other sons and daughters would gladly support the child in the family home at 808 Helmholz avenue, Waukegan.

Kilibane took the witness stand to tell the jury his son is not dependent because of a good home with one grandmother and the offer of one from the other. He was represented by Attorney J. A. Miller. Mrs. Denman, who is 53, has Minard Hulse as her lawyer.

Weeps at Sight of Son.

The jury took just an hour to decide that the child was not dependent.

Mrs. Denman wept when she heard the decision. While the jury was deliberating the father went to her home with her to see his son and burst into tears upon seeing the youngster for the first time.

Kilbane was sent to prison in 1926 when he was 24 years old. Paroled Nov. 28, 1931, he was married the next year to Mrs. Denman's daughter. July 5, 1935, he was returned to prison as a parole violator, being reparoled May 14, 1936. Last Nov. 23 he was again sent back as a parole violator for turning in a false fire alarm while drunk.

DRIVERS' LICENSE FAVORING HUGHES VOTED BY SENATE

Action Leaves Final Fate of Bill Uncertain.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—The senate, without any mention of the Horner versus Hughes patronage battle in the house, today passed its own bi-party drivers' license bill placing the administration with Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes.

The bill, sponsored by Senators Louis J. Menges [D., East St. Louis] and Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia], will now go to the house, where Gov. Henry Horner's powerful lobby last night succeeded in keeping his highway department as the administrative agency in the house drivers' license bill. The house bill will be on third reading, the passage stage, before the representatives next week.

The senate action did nothing to free the life saving legislation from the squabble within the Democratic party for the new pay rolls to be created by the enactment. Under one popular interpretation it complicated the situation.

Two Uncertainties Arise.

At least two uncertainties jeopardize passage of a driver regulation by this year's general assembly. The senate, controled by anti-Horner Democrats friendly with Republicans, may refuse to approve Horner's house bill. The lower branch, where the governor holds the edge, may refuse to adopt the senate bill.

The vote in the upper chamber today, viva voce, was 37 to 0. This unanimity represented the sentiment for some type of life saving measure. It was not expressive of the majority favoring Hughes as opposed to Horner. If the house bill reaches the senate next week, which is likely, it will receive a strong vote. Whether it receives a majority will be determined by the influence of the objections to giving the governor more jobs.

The senate bill differs from the house measure in several respects. The Menges-Benson proposal does not provide for examinations of applicants for a license. The safety value of such tests is disputed by some authorities. The main reason for this elimination, however, is that it would slash administration costs.

The senate bill does not charge a fee for the license. The representatives last night reduced the fee in their measure from $1 to 50 cents for three years.

Hazards of Rush Seen.

With other amendments adopted in the house last night, both bills now provide that courts shall have revocation and suspension authority. The governor originally proposed that his appointees in the highway department should have discretionary power to suspend the driving privilege.

With only four and half more weeks left for this assembly, it is evident that the life saving legislation, stymied by the political controversy since January, will be exposed to the hazards of the rush in the final days of the session.

At 10 a. m. yesterday her attorney, Norman Becker, dismissed the bill. He told Judge Philip J. Finnegan that Saunders telephoned his wife Monday night after learning of the suit and arranged a reconciliation. They have three children.

FIVE MOTORISTS SENT TO JAIL FOR ERRATIC DRIVING

Five persons were sentenced to jail yesterday in Safety court by Municipal Judge George A. Weiss for reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Robert Collins, 30 years old, 152 West Superior street, got 10 days for driving while drunk; Henry Brown, 60, 419 North Avers avenue, 9 days, and Thomas Mulkerin, 57, 4045 North Hermitage avenue, 6 days. Henry Moody, 21, of 1233 Vine street, and Robert Holt, 36, of 203 East 50th street, both colored, were sentenced to 5 days for reckless driving.

Municipal Judge John J. Gutknecht issued a capias yesterday in Trafic court for the arrest of Charles Salvatore, 25 years old, 5301 Flournoy street, who failed to appear to answer a charge of speeding. Salvatore was fined $48 by Judge Gutknecht on May 20 when he learned that Salvatore had been arrested nine times in the last three years for speeding and other trafic violations. When Salvatore failed to appear on still another charge yesterday Judge Gutknecht said: "If we had a drivers' license law we could keep such motorists as Salvatore off the streets."

BASQUES DECREE DEATH FOR THIRD GERMAN AVIATOR

Convicted of Flying for Spanish Rebels.

BILBAO, Spain, May 25.—(AP)—A Basque court tonight condemned to death Hans Joachim Wandel, the third German aviator captured while serving in the rebel forces to receive the death sentence here within a week. Capt. Walter Kienzel and Lieut. Gunther Schulze were sentenced last week. Wandel was captured when he landed by parachute in Basque territory after his plane was shot down.

The Basque government today sent an urgent appeal to the Valencia government for fighting planes to help defend Bilbao. But Basque leaders admitted that even if Valencia sends planes their operations will be handicapped because both Bilbao's airports were severely damaged by rebel airbombers today.

Tons of bombs were dumped on Bilbao's suburbs in a series of raids which began at dawn and continued all day.

Anarchists Seize Town.

PERPIGNAN, France, May 25.—(AP)—Reports reaching the frontier tonight said a battalion of anarchists serving with the Spanish government armies on the Huesca front [northeastern Spain] had revolted, marched to the rear, seized the town of Barbastro, and there shot 100 persons.

Gen. Sebastian Pozas, commanding government troops in Catalonia, was reported to have sent two battalions of regular army infantry from Lerida to quell the revolt and free Barbastro. Barbastro lies about thirty miles southeast of Huesca on the road to Barcelona.

[An anarchist uprising in Catalonia early this month, centering in Barcelona, was suppressed after more than 100 had died in fierce fighting.]

British Freighter Bombed.

VALENCIA, Spain, May 25.—(AP)—A dispatch from Almeria, government held port on the southern coast, tonight said the 1,495 ton British freighter Greatend suffered "considerable damage" when struck by bombs from rebel planes which today raided Almeria for the third successive day. The Greatend was loading at a dock.

The air ministry announced the government air forces yesterday twice bombed Palma harbor, chief port of rebel held Mallorca in the Balearic Islands. A small armored vessel was reported sunk. Palma was chosen for attack because it was considered the base from which recent rebel air raids on the Mediterranean coast have been made.

Shoot Down Loyalist Planes.

SALAMANCA, Spain, May 25.—(AP)—Headquarters of Gen. Francisco Franco announced today that rebel planes had shot down two government planes trying to make a reëntry into Spain from France. One was brought down in flames near Bilbao and the other near San Sebastian.

The planes were part of a squadron of eighteen that "lost its way" in France last week, one plane being damaged in the landing at Pau. The remaining fifteen planes reached Bilbao yesterday.

Rebel headquarters protested government air bombing or rebel civilian populations asserting 300 persons had been killed and 500 wounded in raids of the last few days.

Accuse Italy Before League.

GENEVA, May 25.—(AP)—The Spanish government placed a "white book" before league of nations delegates today to support its contention Italy has continued to intervene in the Spanish civil war. The publication was distributed privately to members of the league council.

One chapter was headed "How Italy Became Mistress of Mallorca," the rebel held Balearic island which Madrid has said is a base for Italian planes.

Great Britain's proposal for a truce in the Spanish war had not made much progress, but a British spokesman said there was still hope for removal of foreign volunteers from the war.

ILLINOIS FLYER'S PLANE DOWNED IN FLAMES ON FRONT NEAR MADRID

Harold E. Dahl.

VALENCIA, May 25.—(AP)—Frank G. Tinker of Dewitt, Ark., a training pilot for the Spanish government air force, revealed today that Harold E. Dahl of Champaign, Ill., who flew under the name of "Whitey" Evans, was one of the 3 American pilots whose planes were brought down in flames in a fierce battle with rebel planes on the Madrid front last Feb. 18.

The fight was above San Martin de la Vega, southwest of Madrid. "Evans," Tinker said, "was forced to bail out and came down uninjured, although the enemy planes attempted to machine gun him as he dropped."

The other Americans downed were Ben Leider, former New York newspaper man, who was killed, and James Allison, who was wounded in the leg.

Storm Rips Into Missouri; 9 Farm Homes Wrecked

Gallatin, Mo., May 25.—(AP)—Two persons were injured and nine farm homes demolished by a tornado which tore through the southeastern section of Daviess county late today. The twister ripped a path 300 yards wide for two miles. A three inch rain accompanied the storm.

Seize Slot Machines in 18 County Taverns

Morton Grove county highway police, led by Lieut. Henry J. Andel, resumed their slot machine raids last night. They visited eighteen taverns and restaurants in the north and northwestern sections of the county, seizing one machine in each place.

U. S. BEGINS QUIZ INTO RECRUITING FOR SPAIN'S WAR

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—The department of justice today launched an investigation into enlistment of Americans to fight in Spain in violation of federal criminal law.

The investigation was caused by a story told in Paris by Paul Burke, a Minneapolis bricklayer. Burke said he answered a newspaper ad in Minneapolis for skilled workers to take the place of men who had gone to the front.

Burke said he received a ticket to New York following his reply and only after arrival in New York did he learn that the tools of his trade were to be the rifle and bayonet. He was put through two weeks of military training with other "volunteer workmen." He "deserted" in Paris.

Under the United States criminal code any one who accepts a commission to serve a foreign power in a war against a people with which the United States is at peace is liable to a fine and imprisonment.

CHARLES R WARD
COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS

"The modern trolley car is far more satisfactory and less traffic congesting than the motor bus.

"Buses should be used only in outlying sections as feeders to trolley lines."

This is the opinion of Charles R. Ward, Commissioner of Public Works of Brooklyn, the most populous borough in Greater New York.

His opinion is worth considering at this time, when Chicago is discussing its transportation future. It's worth considering, too, because Chicago and Brooklyn are comparable in many ways.

Brooklyn's population is 3,000,000; Chicago's is 3,500,000.

Brooklyn has serious street congestion; so has Chicago.

In Brooklyn, 81 per cent of all surface transportation vehicles are street cars and 19 per cent are buses; in Chicago the proportionate number of street cars and buses is exactly the same.

Brooklyn has begun the modernization of rail equipment with new streamlined cars, and so has Chicago.

What Brooklyn's Commissioner Ward has to say, therefore, is of especial significance here.

"The substitution of buses for trolleys is a very important question with us," he declares. "For a time I was convinced that the abandonment of trolleys and the establishment of a borough-wide bus network was the answer.

"I am now of the opinion that COMPLETE MODERNIZATION OF EXISTING TROLLEY LINES AND NOT THEIR REPLACEMENT BY BUSES is the solution to Brooklyn's surface transportation problem. I believe this is the opinion not only of transit companies but also of the riders. This conclusion is the result of intensive personal survey into the transit situation.

"THE MODERN TROLLEY CAR IS FAR MORE SATISFACTORY, AND, CONTRARY TO PUBLIC OPINION, LESS TRAFFIC-CONGESTING THAN THE MOTOR BUS. BUSES IN MANY AREAS, PARTICULARLY BUSINESS SECTIONS, WOULD MAKE TRAFFIC CONDITIONS ALMOST UNTENABLE INSTEAD OF BETTER.

"Buses should be used only in outlying sections as feeders to trolley lines."

This is the voice of experience from a public official who has made a thorough study of transportation in a metropolitan area similar to Chicago.

In both Brooklyn and Chicago
of all surface transportation vehicles are street cars—19%

YOUTH ACCUSES SWEETHEART AS HATCHET KILLER

Attacks Girl's Version of Her Mother's Death.

Donald Wightman.

Jersey City, N. J., May 25.—(AP)—Donald Wightman, 19 years old, the boy friend of Gladys MacKnight, 18 years old, told a jury today she chopped her own mother to death with a hatchet and then made love to him to persuade him to shoulder the blame.

Testifying at their joint murder trial the former choir boy made blunt denials to the girl's defense: "Donald did it."

Gladys snuggled over to him as they sat parked in the automobile in which they fled the Bayonne house where lay the body of Mrs. Helen MacKnight, the youth related.

Tells Her Sobbing Pleas.

"She began to sob a little," he testified. "She said it would be nice—it would prove my love—if I would go back and take the blame."

He then described how he succumbed to her pleas and her caress.

The story Donald said Gladys told him to tell was the same one she told over and over again in her four gruelling days in the witness chair. She repeated it unwaveringly for the last time this noon, insisting, "Donald did it," as cross-examination ended.

But Donald flatly denied that story and all its details.

Repudiates First Story.

He denied he "petted" Gladys in the MacKnight kitchen on that fatal evening last July 31 and thus precipitated, as Gladys contended, a knife attack by Mrs. MacKnight. He denied he swung the hatchet, and reiterated it was Gladys who chopped Mrs. MacKnight to death.

The first statement he gave to police after he and Gladys were arrested named himself as the slayer, he said, as Gladys had instructed. A few hours before, Gladys had sworn from the witness stand this was the "true" account. Young Wightman branded it false. The second statement, which named Gladys the hatchet slayer and which the girl charged was "manufactured" by police, was the true statement, Wightman contended.

TWO ABANDONED GIRLS IDENTIFIED BY THEIR FATHER

Two little girls abandoned Monday night in front of the Senate theater, Madison street and Kedzie avenue, were identified at the St. Vincent's orphanage yesterday by their father, Charles Mitchell, 3940 Madison street. They are twins, Jo Ann and Mary Ann, 4 years old.

Mitchell, a city water department employé, said he believed his estranged wife, Marie, abandoned the children while suffering from a mental upset. He said he had been separated from his wife since last October.

At that time she took the twins and youngest child Walter, 2 years old, leaving Charles Jr., 6, with his father. Monday afternoon Mrs. Mitchell left Walter on his father's doorstep, fleeing after ringing the bell. The twins will be kept at the orphanage until Mrs. Mitchell is found and her fitness to care for them decided upon.

There is a midway season—it's here now—a season to which imported light weight fabric suits like these definitely belong. SOCIAL SECURITY.

Many citizens will find fault with the doctrins enunciated by the Supreme court in upholding social security laws but relatively few will object in principle to such legislation. A case can be made against compulsory insurance but it is significant that in the 1936 electoral campaign both candidates and both parties indorsed unemployment and old age insurance. The differences concerned details.

In that sense the differences were minor but they were not unimportant. It was agreed that the hazards of old age and unemployment should be met by governmental action. It was not agreed that the scheme set up in the recent acts was the most serviceable plan which could be devised or the one best calculated to advance the welfare of all concerned.

Support of the social security principle was not a partisan matter. Neither is opposition to the administrative arrangements set up in the act. There is widespread criticism of the plan as it was hastily put together and widespread agreement that a revision of the act is necessary if it is to serve the purposes for which it was intended.

As long as there were doubts regarding the constitutionality of the legislation congress could find a certain justification for neglecting the subject. Why spend time rewriting a law which any day might be declared invalid at every point? The doubts have now been removed and congress cannot much longer remain deaf to the criticisms of a large number of specialists in the field of insurance and social welfare. If the scheme is to work with reasonable efficiency and economy it must be revised in a number of important particulars.

One of the chief objections has been to the piling up of enormous reserves, aggregating in the course of the next few decades a sum approaching 50 billion dollars. The law provides in effect that the taxes paid by employers and employés be invested in government bonds. The benefits would then be paid from the interest earned on these bonds. That was only a roundabout method of providing that the aged dependents of each generation be supported by those in their earning years. Those who devised the plan overlooked the fact that the existence of such a fund would be an invitation to congress to squander money in order to create deficits in order to create bonds to sell to the fund. Moreover, the presence of such a fund would encourage a lowering of the premiums and an increase in the benefits until the fund was exhausted. Obviously, the support of the aged could be accomplished far more economically if it were made a direct charge upon their juniors.

The analogy of life insurance reserves led to the setting up of the government's reserve fund, but the analogy is not a good one. The money paid to an insurance company is invested in productive enterprises. It increases the nation's capacity to produce and distribute goods and by so doing increases its power to pay benefits. The government scheme as now set up works in the opposite direction. It diverts the nation's savings from production. Social security money, if invested in government bonds, will buy battleships, build courthouses, and find its way into megalomaniac reclamation and power schemes which never will earn a return on the outlay. When the fund is all invested the young will have less to share with the aged than would have been available otherwise and will be further handicapped by needlessly high taxation to pay interest on the borrowings.

The whole question of unemployment insurance also needs to be reëxamined. There is reason to doubt if, in the nature of things, unemployment of the sort produced in a depression is an insurable risk. To make the scheme work in a depression would require a good deal more actuarial knowledge than we now have of the extent and intensity of cyclical unemployment, and, in any event, would require such heavy premiums that the beneficiaries would rebel. The present insurance offers a subsistence wage for a few months of unemployment. It will meet the needs of the seasonally unemployed and offer some assistance to the technologically unemployed, but a depression would wreck the funds in six months.

These are a few of the weaknesses in the existing act. Congress ought not repeat the mistake of legislating too hastily on so complicated a subject, but the sooner hearings are started the better.

ANOTHER CRISIS.

Monarchy has no monopoly of the embarrassments of ritual. Even as the British court emerges from the perilous and exhausting formalities of the coronation, we learn with concern that a crisis has appeared in Manila. The issue seems to be whether at public dinners the health of the high commissioner shall be proposed before that of the president of the Philippine republic.

Without access to the advice of that mysterious official of our own state department, known, we believe, as chief of protocol, we are not able to advise our anxious readers what grave consequences must flow from error in the solution of this conundrum. The incumbent high commissioner is reported to be at his summer capital at Baguio and the honor, obviously involved, of our proud republic seems to be in the keeping of Commissioner McNutt's "administrative assistant," Mr. Coy.

This is a situation which must give the American people acute concern, though it must be noted that Mr. Coy, belying his name, is reported to be exhibiting every evidence of his readiness to fight and die in his nation's cause. Providence, Prince Bismarck is supposed to have said, looks after drunkards, lunatics, and the United States, and we trust that favor has not been withdrawn from the republic on this momentous occasion. We shall, at any rate, hope for the best as long as High Commissioner McNutt is in the cool and safe precincts of his summer capital. The home folks acquainted with High Commissioner McNutt in these parts may wonder why a toast to him should be required at any state or public banquet, but that is a realistic view which has no place in the high matters of state guarded so zealously by Mr. Coy.

PROGRESS IN VENEREAL DISEASE CONTROL.

Senator Conner's amendments of the Saltiel bill adopted by the senate improve that measure in important details. Sensible friends of venereal disease control favor a moderate beginning in this long overdue and urgently needed public health reform without sacrifice of essentials. But it is essential that the safeguards provided by the law shall be real within their own limits. Senator Conner's amendment requiring that laboratory tests shall be made and attached to the report of the examining physician will diminish if not prevent the danger of evasion or incompetence which might largely defeat the purpose of the measure.

An amendment providing that the state department of public health make laboratory tests free of charge on request of physicians is a proper provision in relief of the indigent and is probably justified by practical considerations of public defense from the plague, although it would seem that a couple proposing to take on the responsibilities of matrimony with provision for a home and for the support and upbringing of children ought to have means of meeting the moderate expense of laboratory service. But physicians should consider themselves bound to make these requisitions with care and not as a mere favor to their patients. Applicants who are able to pay for examination and tests should do so. The public treasury may fairly be taxed only where the individual is unable to meet this charge.

Another amendment removing the limitation of the fee for examination at $2 seems expedient and will eliminate probably justifiable opposition on the ground that it was unfair to the private practitioner. Venereal disease control is a public as well as a private consideration and physicians should not be specially taxed for its maintenance.

The measure in its improved form now goes to the house for concurrence in the senate amendments. We hope house approval is assured. It is a well considered measure, the adoption of which will represent lawmaking on a high level of intelligence and public spirit, and every legislator who has helped to put it on our statute books will deserve the thanks of his constituents and of all intelligent citizens. Illinois has been too long backward in the welfare of civilized communities against this frightful plague. We hope our legislature will now go forward in well advised legislation until, so far as mere lawmaking and adequate provision can accomplish it, Illinois is where it belongs, in the forefront of the movement.

Complete success requires not only good laws but faithful administration, and this can be had if an enlightened public opinion demands it. Happily that opinion is growing. Discussion has escaped the inhibition of false modesty and is now frank and emphatic, as it must be if adequate attack upon the plague is to be persistent and therefore successful. The present assembly has been doing its part admirably and under its encouragement all other agencies involved, both public and private, should be inspired to coöperate.

Editorial of the Day

FEDERAL EMPLOYES.

[Baltimore Sun.]

There are more employés now on the federal pay roll than there have been at any time since the close of the world war. On Nov. 11, 1918, the number of civilian workers in the government service, but not including legislative and judicial employés, was 917,760. On April 1 of this year the total was 829,193. If we take into account judicial, legislative and military employés, the total comes to 1,103,354.

After the war the federal pay roll was drastically pruned and the number of employés dropped sharply. By June, 1923, it had fallen to 515,722, the lowest point it was to reach during the post-war decade. Thereafter and until June, 1933, the total fluctuated within fairly narrow limits, reaching its high point in 1931, when it went up to 588,206. But beginning in 1933 it expanded enormously, the Roosevelt administration adding no fewer than 257,102 employés in the four years since then.

Moreover, the additions made under the New Deal have been mainly in the unclassified or political category. Under the Coolidge and Hoover administrations there was a net increase of about 2 per cent in both civil service and noncivil service employés. Under President Roosevelt the number of civil service employés has increased by 10 per cent, while the unclassified employés, the political appointees, have increased by 180 per cent.

This not only suggests that the federal burocracy is growing bigger, but that its quality may be deteriorating, since the unclassified employés are not selected by test, or according to their fitness, but solely upon the basis of political preference. It may also be interesting to note that while the government, after the world war emergency, promptly turned to the task of cutting down its pay roll, it is now adding to its pay roll, though almost every one is agreed that the emergency of 1933 is long since passed.

Now, What'll They Think Up Next?

(The Tribune, via E. G. E.)

The suitor, Matt Coffey, 60, a roomer in the Natterstad home for several years, was found dead in his automobile near Loda, five miles north of here, a few hours after the shooting with a hose to his exhaust.

UNQUALIFIEDLY we condemn those who refuse to take newspaper advice. And that goes straight to J. M. V., who quoted a TRIBUNE headline, "A Caution! Dog Must Be Bitten to Get Rabies," and cynically asked who wanted to bite a dog, anyhow.

WHO WOULD MAKE POEMS?

Who would make poems
  Days like today?
Each hour's a poem
  Flaming with May.
Verses seem foolish
  Out on God's lawn;
I have new duties
  Now winter's gone.

No more dull writing,
  Scanning out feet!
Orchards are calling,
  Peach bloom is sweet.
Toiling is sinful
  Starting today.
Bluebirds and poets
  Stop work in May.

Springtime's fresh music
  Weaves a wild tune.
Long roads are winding
  Deep into June.
Let fools write poems,
  I have grown wise.
Ho, for new countries!
  Ho, for strange skies!

SHARP EDGE OF THRIFT.

Some sixty years ago Tom Collins was the thrifty and efficient owner of a small farm near ours. He was, of course, a patron of the Dudley hardware store and his trade was highly valued. One evening he was looking around the rear end of the store and Mr. Dudley asked what he wanted. "I was just looking for a scythe stone," said Tom. "I am all out of them," said the merchant; "call the next time you're down." . . . When he went back Tom, handed two samples, asked what the price of one would be. "Oh, nothing," replied Mr. Dudley. Tom didn't hesitate. "Thanks," he said; "guess I'll take 'em both." Frank Burtt.

FUNERALS.

We've noticed certain types of folks who dote on funerals. When neighbors shed their mortal cloaks they are on hand with bells. They gather 'round the defunct gent with lily in his hand and say, "Too bad that he has went," and "Don't he look just grand." They revel in the doleful scene, and dwell on each detail. They stick around with mournful mien; inspect each coffin nail. The lament of the relatives they note with interest. They help to make for those who live a lachrymose gloomfest. For those whom funerals do please, we leave them to their fun. We relish not the obsequies of folks whose life is done. In fact, if we but had our way we'd leave them all alone. If we had anything to say we'd not attend our own. Les R. Plettner.

THE FILTRATION SYSTEM OF THE BODY.

No city water supply system derived from shallow rivers or ponds would be complete without a filtration plant. No more can the body function without the kidneys. Nature has provided two of them and either is capable, if free from disease, of carrying the entire load of withdrawing poisonous products from the blood, helping the human engine to drive away its figurative smoke and soot.

Most of us understand that body wastes are eliminated via the intestinal tract, the skin, and the lungs. While each of these, and all put together, spare the kidneys no end, yet the latter are designed to dispose of certain noxious substances which cannot be got rid of in any other way. They fill an office which is not transferable.

Because they are composed of such delicate cells, damage is inflicted readily—sometimes very quickly—and a considerable number of us have suffered some temporary loss of kidney power because of an acute sore throat, for example, or influenza. For the most part, however, such affairs are repaired without delay, particularly so if the patient will remain in bed, consume a bland diet, and thus avoid throwing an extra load on the renal organs. Even cases of acute nephritis [inflammation of the kidneys] may heal promptly with no aftermath. On the other hand, mild cases of infection in which toxins are poured into the blood in small amounts each day may so irritate the renal cells as to bring on chronic degeneration slowly but surely.

Fortunately we possess a simple test which will show the existence of some lesion, namely, the detection of albumin in the urine. To be relied upon, however, it must be made carefully, as other situations [bladder inflammation, pus in the urine, etc.]—unless accurately ruled out—will give a positive reaction.

Little more than one hundred years ago Richard Bright recognized the rôle of the kidneys as initiating or accompanying some disorders inimical to health. Dropsy [accumulation of fluid in the tissues], apoplexy [hemorrhage from a ruptured blood vessel in the brain], and uremia [the accumulation of wastes in the blood] pointed to the kidneys as the culprits. Later the relation between the presence of albumin in the urine and dropsy was demonstrated.

The work of these organs depends first of all upon the integrity of the blood capillaries which permeate them. If these tubes are narrowed, hardened, or destroyed, blood cannot make its way into the filtration compartments. If, as a result, toxins cannot be extracted from the circulating medium, they will continue to pile up and sooner or later display their vicious influences.

Other than finding albumin and cell débris in the urine there is no single characteristic symptom of nephritis. While headache and dimness of vision may be a part of the picture, yet these phenomena may arise from many different sources. One thing can be said definitly, namely, that backache rarely if ever indicates kidney disease. Most of the pain in the lumbar region is low down, just above the hips—a figurative quarter of a mile from the kidneys.

In no single condition is the physician required to study more intensively every sign and symptom and to exercise his best judgment in summing up the evidence. High blood pressure alone is not enough. In fact, many cases of hypertension will show no impairment whatever of the kidneys. Only later, after the incessant "pound" has continued for a long period of time, will renal cells give way.

We should guard against exhausting activity or exposure to chilling winds or rain, as it is no uncommon experience to find this sort of neglect followed by an acute flareup in the renal structures. Furthermore, infections are likely to play havoc. At least once each year every one should have a careful urine examination.

EXPECT HEALTHY CHILD.

Mrs. C. writes: Two months before our marriage my husband became infected with syphilis, but it wasn't until four months later that he discovered he had the disease. At that time it was found that I too was infected. We immediately began rigorous treatment and continued it for over a year after the blood tests became negative. It has now been two years since we discontinued treatment, but frequent Wassermann tests are still negative. We love children and want to have one of our own.

1. Would our baby be apt to be deformed or unhealthy?

2. Would treatments during the first month of pregnancy be of any benefit?

3. I am violently ill after each treatment. Would this have a bad effect on the baby?

REPLY.

1. You have every reason to expect a healthy child.

2. If both blood and spinal tests are negative, further treatment during pregnancy is unnecessary.

3. No.

You and your husband are to be congratulated on having pursued the right course.

SEEING DOUBLE.

J. L. S. writes:

1. After looking at any object for a while I see it double. What causes this?

2. The joints in my ankles and arms crack. Can anything be done for this?

3. I was told I have a mild Bright's disease. Can it be cured.

REPLY.

1. Double vision is a symptom of several nervous diseases. A temporary attack follows an injury to the eye, intoxication, or some febrile disease. Sometimes the eye muscles tire, whereupon the symptom ensues. This is probably the cause in your case.

2. This condition is due to diminution of the synovial fluid and is frequently a forerunner of arthritis. There is nothing to be done other than to keep the general health at or above par.

3. Bright's disease cannot be cured, but it can be held in control.

SORE TONGUE.

D. A. writes: I often suffer from small white spots at the tip of the tongue. Can this condition be caused by constant friction of the tongue against the teeth that are split? How can I avoid and remedy such a situation?

REPLY.

Chronic irritation of the tongue may be caused by broken teeth. Canker sores are likely to form on irritated surfaces. Have the teeth attended to—when the spots will probably disappear. A mouth wash or gargle may help.

CHRONIC SINUSITIS.

S. L. writes: I have chronic sinusitis and have been using ephedrine in drops. Will the steady use of this drug affect the sight or prove harmful in any other way?

REPLY.

Continued use of ephedrine to shrink congested nasal mucous membrances will have no effect on the eyes. There are no other major deleterious effects, although increasing doses may influence blood pressure.

CAN FLARE BACK.

H. F. K. writes:

1. Can there be a recurrence of gonorrhea after having been pronounced cured?

2. If so, is there any chance of transmitting the disease to another person?

REPLY.

1. Yes it can flare up after apparent cure.

2. It is always contagious.

NOT INJURIOUS.

J. P. writes: Would the eating of one grapefruit and one lemon a day injure the heart?

REPLY.

Not unless alkalis—supplied by the citrus fruits—are disturbing to the digestion.

NO INFLUENCE.

A. B. writes: Can a woman with the left jugular vein cut have children?

REPLY.

The jugular lies in the neck and has no influence on childbearing.

Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

TO MAKE A WILL.

Chicago, May 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A current article on wills brings the fact to mind that our parents have been wanting to take care of this matter for several years. However, here are some questions we should like to have ironed out first:

1. All property is in both mother's and father's name. A small bank account, however, is in mother's name only. There are four children.

2. It has always been my parents' wish that a building and bank account be divided equally among all four children. However, one child has borrowed a considerable sum of money from one of the girls, with a verbal promise to pay as soon as possible. Mother should like to have it understood that if he has not yet paid at the time of both parents' death, that this sum be subtracted from his share and passed on to the daughter.

3. It is also mother's and father's wish that the bungalow in which we now live be left to the three girls only, since they have paid for it.

4. Should either parent die would the surviving one be left all the property?

5. Should both parents die at the same time how would the property be divided?

6. If we were now to put the flat building in the names of all four children, in addition to mother and father, and the bungalow in the names of the girls, in addition to the parents, would not this step save much trouble in the absence of a will?

7. If a will were made out now would both parents have to be present?

8. Could we children serve as witnesses?

9. Is it necessary to appoint an executor of the estate?

10. Can such a person serve as a witness, also? M. S.

1. To create a joint tenancy in real estate the conveyance should expressly declare that title is to pass not in tenancy in common but in joint tenancy, [Ill. revised statutes, chapter 76, section 1.] If title is already in one of the parties it should be deeded to a third person who is not subject to judgment liens. He should then deed back to the two, using a joint tenancy form, which can be secured from a stationer.

To create a joint tenancy in personal property the "will or other instrument in writing" should express "an intention to create a joint tenancy . . . with the right of survivorship" [section 2]. Under the statute we consider it advisable not to rely on the wording of a stock certificate nor on the fact that the parties have joint access to a safety box. The intention should be expressed in a writing by the owner or owners.

On the death of a joint tenant the property passes to the survivor without necessity for probate and to the exclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first. The one-half that thus passes by survivorship is subject to inheritance tax.

2. It should not be left to an oral understanding but should be expressly stated in the will.

3. This should also be stated.

4. Depends on the facts as to joint tenancy and as to whether there is a will.

5. The court would try to decide which was the survivor. If there was no evidence on this point then the assets of each parent would go to the heirs of such parent. If no stepchildren are involved we do not see that it makes much difference.

6. Yes, but it would mean that any one of the parties could borrow upon his interest or sell his interest, that a judgment creditor of any one of the parties would have a lien on the share of the judgment debtor and the coöperation of all parties would be necessary for a sale.

7. No.

8. A person cannot be a beneficiary and a witness.

9. No, but it is ordinarily advisable.

10. We advise against it.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WARRANTY DEED.

Chicago, May 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am desirous of obtaining information in regard to the extent of time it is necessary to pay taxes on real estate when the taxpayer holds a quitclaim deed purchased from a preceding taxpayer [1] before the present taxpayer can give a warranty deed for the real estate.

2. Is there a law in the Illinois statutes which definitly pertains to this situation? In case the quitclaim deed was purchased while there was a deficiency judgment against the property [3], would this judgment affect the present quitclaim deed holder and taxpayer? If he is affected [4], in what manner?

5. Can the present taxpayer ever be in a position to warant title? W. S. C.

1. A warranty deed is a deed in which the grantor warrants that his title is good. Obviously it is physically possible for a grantor to execute such a deed even when his title is not good, but in such case he would be liable for a breach of warranty. It is also possible for him to execute the warranty deed expressly stating that it is "subject to" certain taxes and other liens. It is not clear what question you really intend to ask.

2. See 1.

3. A judgment lien would last for seven years.

4. Presumably the title in his hands would be subject to the lien as above stated.

5. See 1.

SECTARIAN ACTIVITIES IN THE SCHOOLS.

Chicago, May 23.—It might be well for Mrs. Harvey A. Tyler, who signs herself president of the Parents' Public School association, to acquaint herself with the organizations that already exist in the public high schools of Chicago, organizations that are conducted during school time, with the assistance of teachers who are paid out of the taxpayers' money, in buildings that are maintained also with public taxes.

The Girl Reserves, a junior Y. W. C. A., a distinctly Protestant organization; the Hi-Y, a junior Y. M. C. A., a distinctly Protestant organization; and the Jewish Youth league, a distinctly Jewish organization, have been established for many years in the public high schools. Their meetings are announced in the daily bulletins read to the students. Their activities are recorded in the school newspapers. Their right to exist in the schools seems to be recognized.

All this time the Catholic youth have had no organizations in the public schools. Why the note of alarm in Mrs. Tyler's letter because they wish to be represented? Why does she as a citizen and as a taxpayer suddenly resent any attempt on the part of one group to do exactly as other groups have been doing for years? Why the patriotic plea for the separation of church and state as if just now our intelligent democracy were being endangered, the occasion being the forming of clubs of Catholic young people on exactly the same basis that the Protestant and the Jewish young people have been organized and have been functioning for years?

OBSERVER.

JOLIET'S CITY GOVERNMENT.

Joliet, Ill., May 22.—I am a resident of Joliet, but business takes me regularly to Chicago. I suggest that you read an article in the June issue of Illinois Journal of Commerce headed "City Efficiency." It concerns George T. Jones, mayor of Joliet and the squarest two fisted gent ever to be dragged into politics, and I mean he had to be dragged.

Mayor Jones took over the job two years ago and found that the city treasury had but $297. During office he has paid up all back salaries, $97,000 in debts, and has a city bank balance of over $200,000. From bankruptcy to solid financial standing in two years is a record which might well cause some of your city fathers to consider asking Mr. Jones if he'd like to govern the city of broad shoulders.

But I hardly think Joliet would let him go. J. N. ERHART.

EDWARD THE OUTCAST.

Chicago, May 26.—In today's issue your editorial on "Edward the Outcast" is typical of a certain type of American attitude toward the administration of law which has rendered, or made, law enforcement in this country almost impossible. It is nothing less than sob stuff which can be worked so easily with the American crowd but is utterly ineffective anywhere in the British empire.

If there is one thing above all others which strikes deep into the English mind and heart it is the impartial administration of law which governs both rulers and ruled alike. And this impartial administration of law touches the throne as well as the humblest subject in the realm. That is why Britishers feel themselves so secure, and also why so many of our American worthies go to England to find refuge and even safety.

May I suggest that you begin to say something about appalling crime conditions in the country which make us look like a nation of half savages? The crime situation is becoming increasingly terrible and yet more terrible.

JAMES MCGINNIS.

THE AIRPORT.

Chicago, May 20.—I have read Mr. H. J. Varhanik's comment on my previous letter regarding the airport.

To me it is the old question of whether we should have the hat cleaned and blocked or buy a new one. Right now we can't afford a new hat and if we fix the old one up a bit it will do very nicely until we can see our way clear to invest in a new one. Certainly we intend to have a fine new hat as soon as possible.

So it is with the airport. To start from scratch and build up a new lake front airport would necessarily take time.

Meanwhile, what is going to happen? Air lines will be forced to drop Chicago from their schedules through no fault of their own, and when Chicago does wake up and provide a suitable airport it will be too late.

Maybe we are trying to streamline the old horse and buggy, but let's not wait until the horse is stolen to lock the barn.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI. — The Japanese are putting up a fight against American and German avation interests for the control of important air lines in North China.

The recently formed, Japanese controled Hui Tung Aviation corporation has announced an increase in its capital from $2,700,000 to $5,000,000. Launched as a "Sino-Japanese" concern, it initiated a service linking Peiping and Tientsin with Manchukuo and Inner Mongolia last Nov. 19. The Japanese announced at the time that the Hui Tung planes would supplant a service previously maintained by the Japanese military authorities. But the Chinese allege that Japanese military planes still make regular flights over the area.

The agreement granting permission for the concern to operate planes over North China territory was signed by K. Horiuchi, Japanese consul general at Tientsin, and Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan, chairman of the Hopeh-Chahar Political council.

The Nanking ministry of communications claims it has no information regarding the transaction and also alleges that the contract was not approved by the Nanking government. In short, Nanking claims the Hui Tung service is just as illegal as were the previous flights of Japanese military planes over Chinese territory. Despite this, however, the Japanese planes are operating on regular schedule.

A Chinese official in North China declared apologetically that it was purely a trial operation granted by the Hopeh-Chahar Political council pending approval by the officials of the central government at Nanking. Of the seven directors of the company four are Japanese and three are Chinese officials of the Hopeh-Chahar council, which is a Japanese dominated organ.

American and German aviation interests, who operate here through two Chinese corporations—the China National Aviation corporation, which is 45 per cent controled by Pan-American, and the Eurasia Aviation corporation, of which 45 per cent is controled by German interests—were disturbed by the initial development of the Hui Tung company, because neither of the Chinese companies containing American and German capital could operate in Manchukuo.

But recently there was a development which further aroused the apprehensions of both Americans and Germans. That was the inauguration of a weekly service between Tientsin, Chefoo, Tsingtao, and Tsinan, the most important cities of Shantung province, all of which already are served by either the American or German companies. The Japanese have ignored Chinese protests about this service and are even planning an extension.

BRITAIN MOVES TO GET EMPIRE READY FOR WAR

Prepares to Organize All Dominion Resources.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 25.—The coördination of every phase of the British empire's defenses occupied the entire attention of the imperial conference today. A special committee was formed under the chairmanship of Sir Thomas Inskip, British minister for the coördination of defense, to organize all the empire's resources for an instant shift to a war footing, if necessary.

Hit U. S. Ship Competition.

Alfred Duff Cooper, secretary of state for war, outlined the steps taken or being taken to bring the regular army and the territorials [corresponding to the United States National Guard] up to date.

Viscount Swinton, secretary of state for air, gave a similar report on the air force.

Tomorrow Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, will continue with a report on the navy.

While the main imperial conference was discussing defense, a subcommittee studied a problem that has aroused much bitterness here for many months—American competition with British shipping in the Pacific.

Demand Aid for Selves.

British ship owners charge that the Americans are driving them out of the Pacific because of heavily subsidized competition. They demand similar aid for themselves, or else a ban or restriction on American shipping in British Pacific ports. They ignore the higher operating costs of American vessels, due to higher pay and higher living standards for the crews.

New Chinese Ambassador to U. S. Visits in Chicago

Dr. C. T. Wang, newly appointed Chinese ambassador to the United States, spent yesterday in Chicago as the guest of Dr. Robert Kah Wong, Chicago consul. He is en route to Washington, D. C. The ambassador was the guest of Tang Chan, president of the Chinese Merchants' association, and a group of prominent Chinese citizens at luncheon in the Old Cathay restaurant, 115 East Chicago avenue. Dr. Wang, a Harvard graduate, will replace Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze as ambassador.

Mrs. Marshall Field Buys 13,000 Acres in So. Carolina

Charleston, S. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. Marshall Field of New York has purchased the 13,000 acre estate near Ridgeland, S. C., formerly owned by the Chelsea club. The price was not announced. The plantation including some of the best quail shooting in the southeast, was owned by the club more than 35 years.

2 'CLIPPERS' TRY OUT FIRST LEG OF U. S. TO EUROPE PLANE ROUTE

Port Washington, N. Y., May 25.—(AP)—Two big flying boats, which probably will inaugurate regular passenger service between New York and Bermuda next month, blazed over the 783 miles of open ocean today in what was described officially as survey flights.

From Manhasset bay a Pan-American Airways plane of 21 tons picked up a tail wind and droned into Hamilton, Bermuda, 4 hours and 54 minutes later.

The British Imperial Airways boat of 20 tons encountered headwinds on its trip from Hamilton to the harbor here and settled its silver-hued hull into the water after five hours and 46 minutes of flying time.

The Bermuda-New York service, will be begun on regular schedule in June, it was said. The flights were regarded generally as the first steps in regular trans-Atlantic air mail and passenger service to Europe.

Brockelhurst and Girl May Ask Venue Change

Lonoke, Ark., May 25.—(AP)—Defense attorneys today said they might seek a change of venue for Lester Brockelhurst, 23, and Bernice Felton, 18, who pleaded innocent here to a charge of first degree murder in the hitch-hike slaying of Victor Gates. Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner set their trials for June 14.

MRS. LINDBERGH TO LEAVE CLINIC WITH BABY TODAY

Expected to Return to Country Estate.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 25.—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, wife of the American flyer, was reported tonight to be progressing satisfactorily after the birth of a son on May 12. Arrangements have been made for her to leave her three room suite in a London clinic with the baby Thursday.

It is presumed they will return to their sixteenth century home, Long Barn, at North Weald, Kent.

Choose Nursery for Baby.

The nursery for her third son, chosen by Mrs. Lindbergh before leaving for London, is on the first terrace of the house with a southern outlook over smooth lawns. Little Jon, the Lindbergh "other living son," who is now nearly five years old, will sleep upstairs in the night nursery.

It was suggested that the new baby will be named Dwight Morrow, after Mrs. Lindbergh's father, capitalist and former ambassador to Mexico, who died in 1931.

Mrs. Lindbergh Sits Up.

Mrs. Lindbergh sat up in bed today. She wore a blue bed jacket around her shoulders. Day and night nurses attend her.

The baby is being bottle fed. He lies in a blue beribboned cot in a nursery adjoining his mother's bedroom.

Masses of flowers, telegrams and messages of congratulations arrived at the clinic following reports of the baby's birth, which became known to the public only yesterday.

LAYER-CAKE HEAT

Dont Live in Layer Cake Heat NEXT YEAR!

ENJOY STEADY, EVEN HEAT. There's no off-and-on to coal or coke heat; just a steady even flow all day long. Give the children the advantage of warm floors. It means good health!

AUTOMATIC REGULATION HEAT REGULATORS AT LOW COST. Your local coal merchant can tell you about automatic heat regulators and draft controls which bring added convenience and comfort.

AVOID Layer-Cake Heat

Some folks put up with layer-cake heat because they don't know the cause of it. They get stuffy in the head, watery eyes, parched nasal membranes and icy cold feet—but don't put two and two together. Here are the facts:

Air that's not in motion stratifies or divides into layers—hot layers around your head, cold layers on the floor. You have to have a constant flow of heat—to keep the air in motion and circulated so it won't give you layer-cake heat.

During the off periods of off-and-on fuels, the air is not sufficiently in motion, causing layer-cake heat. Coal or coke provides steady constant heat. That's why so many folks are switching to these ideal economy fuels. They're getting more comfort and protecting health for less money.

So don't go through another winter with chills and headaches and stuffy air. Order coal or coke from your coal merchant today. If you are not sure that he is a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association call STAte 9723, and we will tell you.

JURY SELECTED TO HEAR MALONE TAX FRAUD CASE

First Evidence Will Be Taken Today.

After spending the day yesterday in selecting a federal court jury and disposing of motions, the way was cleared for the hearing of the first evidence today in the long delayed trial of William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois state tax commission, on charges of evading income tax payments.

Malone was indicted in October, 1933, while he was in Germany, on a charge of evading taxes totaling $59,574 for the years 1929 and 1930. He was characterized as a fugitive from justice by government officials, but on his return to his Park Ridge home last Christmas day he said he had remained in Germany to collect a debt of $90,000.

Jury Quickly Selected.

The selection of a jury before Federal Judge William H. Holly moved rapidly in contrast to the time often taken in the state courts. The first panel of four was completed in about 75 minutes after a start was made shortly before noon and before 5 p. m., the twelfth juror had been chosen.

In whispers, Malone sometimes gave his opinion of prospective jurors to his attorney, Charles F. Rathbun.

On the government side were Michael L. Igoe, United States district attorney, and his assistant, Austin Hall.

The Jurors Chosen.

The jurors and two alternates, who were locked up last night on the order of Judge Holly, are:

FRANK R. BAKER, 726 Sheridan road, president of the Universal Cosmetics company.

W. J. DAVIDSON, 1257 Lunt avenue, a building materials salesman.

W. G. IRWIN, Aurora, electrical maintenance man for the Western United Gas and Electric company.

FRANK KILBANE, Waukegan, confectioner.

FRED H. MILLER, 3537 Wentworth avenue, stove repair business.

DAVE J. CALLAHAN, Ottawa, unemployed salesman.

NORMAN BUCKLEY, Waukegan, unemployed salesman.

ROBERT A. BEAUDETTE, La Grange, Western Electric employé.

L. E. McADAMS, Aurora, railroad machinist.

HOWARD GAHLBECK, Elgin, watchmaker.

CHARLES C. NEAL, 3055 Normandy avenue, life insurance agent.

GEORGE F. OELKER, Aurora, electric line foreman.

CHARLES PFLAUM, Dundee, retired farmer.

HARVEY PASTOR, 1049 North Richmond avenue, a dress shop manager.

Before calling for the jury, Judge Holly overruled a motion by Attorney Samuel A. Ettelson to quash a subpena issued for Attorney Albert H. Veeder.

Kentucky Girl, 14, Wins National Spelling Bee

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—A 14 year old Kentucky girl spelled "plebeian" correctly at the proper time today. Waneeta Beckley, plump, assured eighth grader from the Holy Name school, Louisville, Ky., received a $500 check after spelling down 15 opponents in the national spelling bee. She said she would use it to get a business education. Her father is William J. Beckley, an auto mechanic. Second place winner was tiny Betty Grunstra, 12, of Clifton, N. J. Betty hazarded "plebeian" and was through. She won $300.

WATCHMAN FOUND DEAD.

Ole Nelson, 74 years old, failed to pull a signal last night in the plant of Charles H. Besly & Co., where he has been a watchman for the last 18 years. A special policeman went to the building and found Nelson dead, apparently from heart disease.

N. Y. HIGH COURT RULES NUDITY IS FOR HOME ONLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals, highest tribunal of the state, today ruled that nudity should be confined to the home in a decision that was expected to loom important in the final determination of the "strip tease" controversy.

The case at hand was the conviction of Rose O'Gorman and William Matthias for strolling scantily clad down the sidewalks of Yonkers in violation of a city ordinance. The appeals court held that "people can dress as they please and wear anything so long as they do not offend public order and decency." The conviction was reversed.

"Indecency on the street, of course, may be restrained," admitted the court. "If people like to walk around naked they must stay in the house and not appear on the streets. Tastes may differ, but we are all agreed on this.

"When it comes to the kind and sufficiency of clothes one must wear to appear decently in public, we of the law have generally left such matters to the good sense and force of public opinion. The law of the proper thing to do is not written in a book."

Pianist Guilty of Getting $400 by False Pretenses

Russell Boyd, a pianist, was found guilty yesterday by Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli of obtaining $400 from Miss Gertrude Mason of 59 West Schiller street on a false story that he was going to open a school for pianists in Detroit. He was arrested in the loop last week after Policeman Joseph Libretti had wounded him in the shoulder as he was running away. Boyd is 44 years old and lived at the Washington hotel, 157 West Washington street. The judge deferred sentence until Friday to give Boyd an opportunity to settle with Miss Mason.

PAYSOFF TINKOFF, LAWYER OF MANY WOES, IS EVICTED

Deputy sherifs carried out an eviction order yesterday against Paysoff Tinkoff, attorney and income tax expert. They moved all his belongings out of his eighteen room home at 506 Sheridan road, Kenilworth, in a residential district which is not famous for having frequent evictions.

Tinkoff's costly household furnishings didn't stay out in the street very long. Three moving vans soon appeared and hauled them to an undisclosed destination. The writ of eviction was obtained for the Chicago Title and Trust company, according to Attorney Frank T. Huening, who said he had been trying for three years to accomplish yesterday's ouster.

Tinkoff was sentenced to serve 18 months in Leavenworth penitentiary in 1934 for aiding William J. Newman, wealthy excavator, to evade income tax payments of nearly $1,000,000. He served nearly a year, then gained his release to prosecute an appeal. Last January the United States Circuit Court of Appeals denied him a rehearing. Tinkoff is now petitioning the Supreme court for a review.

Ralph Eaton Root, Chicago Broker, Jailed in Omaha

Ralph Eaton Root, 28 years old, Chicago grain broker, was jailed last night in Omaha, according to a dispatch, after complaints that he had created disturbances in a hotel lobby and in a tavern and had fired several pistol shots from a taxicab window. Root denied the charges, declaring he was on his way to Wyoming for some hunting and had stopped in Omaha to seek a reconciliation with his wife, Mary Elizabeth, whose divorce suit is pending in Chicago. On May 4 Judge Donald S. McKinlay ordered Root to pay her $100 a month temporary alimony.

SUBURB HUNTS TWO DEER WITH PLUG TOBACCO

Highland Park's citizens were out hunting deer last night—with plugs of tobacco and pinches of salt to lure the deer and lassos to rope them if they came up to nibble.

Until a week ago, two deer named Hank and Harriet had been content to live on the grade A hay and No. 1 quality oats which Carl Christ fed them in his back yard on West street. Then they jumped the fence, discovered fresh garden vegetables and tender bushes, and refused to come back, although they play around the streets at night.

Their owner sent word to his fellow townsmen that the deer just dote on plug tobacco.

CHOPS AT STEPS TO FORCE TENANT OFF HIGH HORSE

Two months ago Andrew Tades, 25 years old, and his wife and baby passed a vacant store at 902 North Eastern avenue, Joliet, and noticed the second floor flat was empty.

"This is where we're going to live," announced Andrew, who had no job, no money, and no home. They climbed a flight of steps on the outside of the rickety building and moved in. A week later Anton Furman, owner of the place, who lives across the street, saw he had tenants. He went over to collect some rent. He didn't get any.

Yesterday Mr. Furman decided to chop down the steps. Andrew caught him at it and called the police. After long argument it was decided to let the Tades remain for another week. "By that time I hope to be able to pay some rent—maybe," said Andrew, waving good-by to the policemen.

Girl Singer Seeks $18,000 for Bee Sting on Her Nose

Miss Harriet Norris, 27 years old, 1215 Sunnyside avenue, a night club singer, filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday for $18,000 damages against Isbell's restaurant, 590 Diversey parkway. The suit, filed by Attorney J. Lester Fink, charges that Miss Norris was stung on the nose by a bee when she smelled a corsage set at her place by the management at a dinner party May 12. Miss Norris says her swollen nose made people laugh at her.

FINDS EDWARD AND WALLY LEAD A HAPPY LIFE

to the Château de Cande his chef at Buckingham palace, Le Gros, who was released when King George VI. came to the throne.

"No, Le Gros is not here, but the duke has a very good cook, a master of his craft, who was formerly with the duc d'Albe," was the reply. "Windsor likes him very much. He is always devising new dishes which is what the duke likes and so does Mrs. Warfield. They are both very fond of specialties that can be had in this part of Touraine and along the Loire generally. There is, of course, excellent salmon of the Loire. Then there are mushrooms, another specialty, with cream sauce. They are not as abundant as usual because the mushroom cellars recently were badly flooded.

A Compliment for the Chef.

"The wines of the Loire do not travel well. They are especially good to drink in this country, as you know, and go well with local dishes. We have all been enjoying these wines and dishes. They are so well prepared by the chef that we seldom visit any of the many restaurants in the Touraine region."

I asked Rogers if it were true that Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux of New York wanted to sell the Château de Cande and were hoping the duke would buy it.

"I do not think so; the Bedaux seem quite crazy about the place themselves," he said. "At any rate the duke has no intention of buying it."

For the last fortnight, by the way, the Bedaux have been at the Ritz in Paris and are supposed to be returning to the chateau for the wedding.

Bids Handled in England.

When I inquired what prospect there would be of my getting an invitation to the wedding Rogers replied that the matter of invitations had been wholly taken out of his hands and was being arranged in England.

"I understand," he said, "that the decision of what newspaper representatives will be invited to the ceremony at the Chateau de Cande has been put entirely up to a well known London journalist."

And that was that.

I told Rogers I had two messages for Edward. One was from Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines company, who said he would gladly offer the duke training and a position with that concern, and believed it would hold a brilliant future for him.

Praises Duke's Vigor.

"I will tell the duke," Rogers said. "With his vigor and directness he would make a success of anything to which he turned his attention."

The other message was from a British representative of General Motors who, when he heard of Watson's offer, told me the duke could have a great career with General Motors.

As to plans for the near future of the principals in the June 3 wedding, Rogers said they were looking forward to a rest and an escape from publicity. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are returning to their villa at Cannes. Later in the summer they intend to go to Wasserleonburg castle in Carinthia, southern Austria, to join the blushing bride and groom. Edward has leased this castle from his friend, Count Paul Muenster.

RETURNS VERDICT OF SUICIDE.

CHEF FOR ACTRESS IS SUED FOR DIVORCE BY FORMER BARONESS

Mrs. Anita Le Normand, 27 years old, 422 Melrose street, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday from Fernand Le Normand. When last heard from, the bill states, Le Normand was a chef for Miriam Hopkins, the screen actress.

Mrs. Anita Le Normand.

According to the bill the Le Normands were married Jan. 17, 1928, in Paris, and he deserted her in Chicago a year ago. They have one child, Sergei, 8 years old. Mrs. Le Normand asks that the court restore her former name, Baroness Anita von Maydell, the Russian title she relinquished when she married Le Normand.

Attorney Irving R. Norman described Mrs. Le Normand as a striking brunette, who was born in Persia, educated in a convent and speaks five languages.

KING AND QUEEN ATTEND BALDWIN FAREWELL DINNER

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 26.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin gave his last official dinner as prime minister tonight and as a fitting tribute to his stewardship, it was attended by the king and queen of England. Not far twenty-five years had a royal standard fluttered over 10 Downing street. Then George V. shortly after his coronation dined there with Premier Asquith. The evening was so warm King George VI. arrived without a hat or overcoat, the blue ribbon of an order his only decoration over evening dress. Queen Elizabeth wore a cloak of peacock blue velvet over a silver gown. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were waiting at the door to receive them as a big crowd outside the gates sent up a cheer that echoed as far as Parliament square.

BRITAIN RELENTS SLIGHTLY; EASES WAR ON EDWARD

Cabinet Offers to Give Him an "Official Status."

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTS, France, May 25.—The British cabinet, THE TRIBUNE learned tonight, intends to maintain an official boycott of the wedding of the duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, because it feels it cannot accept any responsibility for his marriage, but it is anxious to make some compensatory gesture to take the sting out of this decision.

Accordingly, if Edward accepts overtures which THE TRIBUNE understands have been made to him, an official announcement concerning his status may be made shortly, either immediately before or soon after his wedding on June 3. At present Edward has no official status. His title is a courtesy one, and he is dependent upon the charity of his family for every cent he gets.

May Get New Title.

The idea now is that, while withholding official recognition of his marriage, the government will grant him some kind of official recognition as an individual. His title as duke of Windsor may be officially established so there can be no doubt of the right of Mrs. Wallis Warfield [Simpson], after she and the duke are married, to use it, or King George VI., the duke's brother, might confer another title on him.

More important still, the duke will, according to present tentative plans, receive a fixed official allowance. The money almost certainly will not come from the British civil list, but King George could allot him some of the crown revenues with the approval of the cabinet.

If Edward accepts this arrangement, THE TRIBUNE understands, Sir Walter T. Monckton, attorney general for the duchy of Cornwall, may fly from London to the Château de Cande to settle the details with Edward. There were persistent reports that Monckton was expected at the château tomorrow.

Release Wedding List Today.

The reason for this sudden generosity on the part of the cabinet is to combat the belief that Edward is being persecuted or ostracized because his marriage is not recognized.

It was learned that the list of wedding guests will be released by Herman L. Rogers, American friend of the duke, tomorrow morning. The list will not include any of Edward's friends who hold court or government posts in England.

Originally, THE TRIBUNE understands, the guest list was to have been released tonight and the communique would have been worded in such a way as to emphasize the break with the cabinet. At the last minute it was decided to withhold publication of the list until tomorrow, presumably so as not to endanger the new negotiations. Whether these negotiations are proceeding favorably or have fallen down may be apparent in the wording of tomorrow's announcement.

At the same time will be announced arrangements for the press coverage of the wedding, and the honeymoon plans of Edward and Mrs. Warfield. According to the latest indications they have changed their minds again and will proceed directly from the Chateau de Cande to Wasserleonburg castle in Carinthia, southern Austria.

Wally To Tint Hair Blue.

MONTS, France, May 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield [Simpson] will have her dark hair tinted deep blue to match her gown and eyes for her wedding on June 3 to Edward, duke of Windsor, who busied himself pushing a lawnmower about the Château de Cande estate today.

Paris' well known coiffeur, Pierre, will come to the estate Monday to do the tinting. Other announcements were that the civil wedding servi will be a double-ring ceremony.

The rings to bind the troth of t abdicated British monarch and t woman for whom he gave up h throne will be exchanged during t civil ceremony to be performed Dr. Charles Mercier, mayor of Mon

Edward's ring to Mrs. Warfield w be of Welsh gold in the tradition the British royal family. The brid ring has not yet been described. S will not wear a coronet during t ceremony,

The Golden Gate is bridged

BETHLEHEM STEEL COMPANY

ON Friday, May 28, the bridge across the famous Golden Gate will be formally opened.

Ever since the fabulous days of '49 the Golden Gate has had a unique place in the hearts of men. It stands as a symbol of "joyous venture," of the lure of fortune, of the willingness to chance new and greater things. And what more fitting than that the Golden Gate should be the site of a bridge far transcending any of its kind ever built!

With the passing of time, the Golden Gate became the busy door for maritime traffic of the seven seas as it entered the great harbor of San Francisco Bay. This mile-wide arm of the sea hindered the northward growth of the metropolitan area of San Francisco. But the growing ingenuity of man in conquering obstacles made a bridge across the Golden Gate inevitable.

Now the bridge is built. It has the longest span and the tallest towers of any bridge ever built by man. Such a bridge is a remarkable tribute to the personnel of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, the organization under whose authority and supervision the bridge was designed and erected. The single clear span of 4,200 feet, stretching in one mighty sweep across the Golden Gate, challenges belief in its reality. It is supported by two tremendous sky-scraper towers, each 746 feet high, each the equivalent of a sixty-story building. The total amount of steel in the bridge reaches the staggering figure of over 100,000 tons.

Steel is the essence of this, and of similar modern bridges. Steel made possible the Golden Gate Bridge, especially the high-tensile-strength steel that increased the load-carrying capacity of many of the parts.

Bethlehem Steel Company is proud of its part in building the Golden Gate Bridge. Bethlehem made and erected the structural steelwork of the two towers and the span, and also furnished other steel material.

It seems quite fitting that Bethlehem, the largest steel construction organization in the world, should have built this structural steelwork for the largest suspension bridge in the world. And Bethlehem is happy indeed to have taken part in this tremendous achievement; an achievement that by surmounting one of nature's notable barriers, marks a decisive step forward in the progress and development of the Western Empire.

ROCKEFELLER'S BODY ARRIVES AT POCANTICO HILLS

Rites at 11 Today; Burial in Ohio Tomorrow.

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Family funeral services for John D. Rockefeller will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in the living room of his home at Pocantico Hills near Tarrytown.

While simple rites are being observed for the oil magnate and philanthropist who died at his Ormond Beach, Fla., estate Sunday in his 98th year, workers in the oil empire that his genius flung to the far corners of the earth will pause for five minutes in tribute to his memory.

From Bayonne, N. J., where the Socony tanks stretch for miles, to Manchukuo, where the natives roof their huts with flattened Socony tins, such employés of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company as would be working will lay down tools in tribute.

Honored by Nations.

Throughout the world, nations, municipalities, and institutions that knew his benefactions have arranged to pay tribute to his memory. The office of the public health service in Managua, Nicaragua, will be decked in mourning. The streets of Versailles, France, will be hung with crepe.

The train bearing Mr. Rockefeller's body arrived at the Tarrytown yards at 7:38 o'clock tonight. Accompanying the train were Mrs. Fanny Evans, a second cousin; Ward Madison, Mr. Rockefeller's secretary; Mrs. Florence Mitchell, a friend, and six employés.

Relatives at Station.

John D. Rockefeller Jr., now head of the family, together with John D. Rockefeller III. and Lawrence, Nelson, and Winthrop Rockefeller, grandsons, were at the Tarrytown station.

Sixty-six relatives, members of the Rockefeller "office family" and friends will attend the services tomorrow. Prayers, scripture readings, and organ renditions of Rockefeller's favorite hymns will comprise the simple service, at which the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of Riverside church and the Rev. Lester P. Bent of Pocantico Hills Union church will preside.

At 8:50 tomorrow night the funeral car and a special car carrying members of the family will leave for Cleveland, O. Only the family will be present when burial is made Thursday in the family plot.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Fooling with Dynamite?

HUNDREDS OF MEN MUST HAVE BEEN WORKING HERE RECENTLY. THOUSANDS, PERHAPS-ONLY A DOZEN NOW-
THE REST ARE GONE- THESE FEW ARE IN OUR POWER- WHY WORRY-?
BUT THE BEARDED ONE- IS HE SUCH A FOOL AS TO TURN OVER THIS TREASURE TO US SO WILLINGLY?
HA! WHO CARES ABOUT HIM, SANE OR CRAZY? BUT DO NOT FRIGHTEN HIM- WE NEED HIM TO GUIDE US TO ALL THE TREASURE-
A FEW MORE DAYS- THEN WE LEAVE HIM AND HIS SLAVES BELOW- DYNAMITE THE NARROW SHAFT- AND FORGET THIS PLACE-
YES, MY FRIENDS- A FEW MORE DAYS, YOU SAY- HA! HA! WELL, WE SHALL SEE- YES- WE SHALL SEE!

U. OF C. WILL HONOR ROCKEFELLER TODAY IN CARILLON SERVICE

A carillon service in honor of John D. Rockefeller Sr. will be given at the University of Chicago at 11 a. m. today, the same hour as his funeral service in Tarrytown, N. Y. Frederick Marriott will play Mr. Rockefeller's favorite hymn, "Come Thou Font of Every Blessing," on the carillon which John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave to the university in honor of his mother, Laura Spelman Rockefeller.

The university will hold a memorial service for Mr. Rockefeller at 4:30 p. m. on June 2 in the university chapel, great gothic structure built at his request at the time of his last personal gift to the university in 1910.

Chicago relatives and associates of Mr. Rockefeller sent several hundred pounds of flowers to New York on a United Air Lines plane for the funeral service today. Among the offerings was a spray of 100 orchids and 2,500 lavender violas sent by Mrs. Fowler McCormick.

Elphege J. Daignault Dies; Recalls Old Church Dispute

Woonsocket, R. I., May 25.—(AP)—Elphege J. Daignault, 58 years old, one of the sixty-two persons excommunicated by Pope Pius XI. after a four year diocesan feud, during which Daignault fought the late Bishop Hickey in the courts and from the public platform, died today. He and his associates later repented and were reconciled with the Roman Catholic church. Last rites of that church were administered to him by the Rev. Arthur Fournier of St. Anne church.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Farm Is All Abloom.

May 25, 1937.

THE Wheaton farm is all abloom. Trees, shrubs, and flowers—tame and wild—are at their best in the fields, woods, and gardens.

Fruit trees—apples, cherries, and pears—have been loaded with an unusually heavy crop of blooms this spring. Last week the apple and late cherry trees were in full bloom. Petals virtually had all fallen off the pear and early blooming cherry trees by the end of the week.

About two-thirds of the leaf buds are open on maples and elms on high ground. Leaf buds are all open on the aspen trees. Leaves are beginning to come out on the catalpa trees.

Wild Cherry Trees Bloom.

There is an unusually heavy crop of blossoms on the wild plum, crab, and hawthorn trees. A big crop of wild cherry blossoms is developing.

The lower woods at the east end of the Wheaton farm are almost a solid mass of light green. Foliage now is developing rapidly after being held back by the late spring weather. Leaves are out on the shell bark hickories. About half the leaf buds have opened on the ash, white oaks, and red oaks. More than a third of the leaves are out on the black oaks.

Horses running in the lower woods have become "tree blazers." There were plenty of signs yesterday where they had been gnawing the tender bark off the trunks of small wild cherry trees.

Recent frosts nipped a few of the leaves on the hawthorns and crabs. Leaves of the hawthorn were injured more than the crabs. The frost "burnt" the leaves so badly in some cases they turned brown.

In the wild orchard of hawthorn and crabs near swan lake May apple plants are more than a foot tall, but have not yet started to bloom.

Cool, cloudy weather has retarded the growth of the annual and perennial lespedeza plants in test field A. The plants are of a pale green. Clovers in the same test field are thriving. White Dutch clover already is beginning to open its blossoms; the plants are about six inches high. The ladino clover plants are nine inches high in some spots. Many of the plants have exceptionally large leaves for this time of the year. Some of the leaves are 1½ inches long and 1¼ inches wide. The English white clover is much thicker and has leaves less than half the size of those on the ladino plants.

Hop Vines Growing Wild.

Hop vines are growing so fast in the test fields that caretakers are trying to figure out some way of supporting the upper end of the plants now drooping over the top strand of wire on the trellises. One of the vines already is more than eight feet long.

"Day by Day on the Farm," a new 94 page illustrated book dealing with activities of the experimental farms, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices—1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price 25 cents; by postpaid mail, 32 cents.

ROGER G. PICARD, 16, HAS ESTATE ABOVE $450,000

The estate of Roger Georges Picard, 16 years old, grand nephew of the late Moise Dreyfus, steel manufacturer, will exceed $450,000, according to an inventory filed yesterday in the Probate court by Attorney Samuel R. Rosenthal, the boy's guardian.

Roger is living in Paris, France, with his father, Arthur Pierre Picard. He has been a ward of the court since 1923 when his mother, Helen Sophie Picard died, leaving him the bulk of her estate. The principal assets are 3,022 shares of Inland Steel company stock, worth $332,420 at the present market.

Mr. Dreyfus, who formerly acted as the boy's guardian, died March 6 at the age of 75. He left his $1,350,000 estate to his widow, Caroline, 3330 Lake Shore drive, and their two children.

ONLY 40 G. A. R. VETS TO BE OUT ON MEMORIAL DAY

Chicago's civil war veterans will have their day of days Monday when the city celebrates its sixty-ninth Memorial day. Forty of the veterans, it was announced yesterday, will answer roll call to lead the annual Memorial day parade down Michigan avenue.

Again this year, as for the last several years, the Grand Army of the Republic veterans have been given strict orders they must not march, but ride in automobiles at the head of the parade.

Seven Veterans Are Ill.

Officers of the G. A. R. reported yesterday there are forty-seven civil war survivors in the Chicago area. Seven of these, however, will be unable to attend the Memorial day observances because of ill health.

Led by Lieut. Julius H. Reed, 95 years old, grand marshal of the parade, the march will start promptly at 2 p. m. at Chicago avenue and proceed south in Michigan boulevard. When the veterans reach the reviewing stand at Congress street they will leave the parade and take special places set aside for them on the stand to watch the other marchers.

Officials in Reviewing Stand.

On the reviewing stand will be Gov. Horner, Mayor Kelly, United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Brig. Gen. Charles D. Herron, commander of the 6th corps area here, together with resident consuls, army, state, federal, and city officials. Commissioner James P. Allman will head the special police escort.

The parade this year will be in five divisions. Leaders of the Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Association of Cook county, sponsors of the parade, estimate more than 65,000 marchers will stream down Michigan avenue to the sounds of drums and music.

Orders Lowell Weber to Pay Wife $15 a Week

Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday ordered Lowell Weber, 37 years old, son of William Weber, former Republican county chairman, to pay $15 a week temporary alimony to his wife, Beryl, 1214 Lunt avenue, who is using for separate maintenance. The younger Weber, who was represented by Attorney Benjamin Ehrlich, is personal bailif to Judge Oscar Hebel of the Appellate court. Mrs. Weber's attorney is Norman Becker.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NORTH AMERICA TO OPEN SESSION TONIGHT

The Rev. R. W. Thompson.

The 78th annual general assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America, will be opened tonight at First United Presbyterian church, Oak Park. The Rev. Dr. Robert W. Thompson of Monmouth, will deliver his address as retiring moderator of the assembly at the opening session. Following this address, Dr. Thompson's successor will be elected. Many Chicago delegates are predicting the election of the Rev. Dr. Charles P. Proudfit, 1180 East 63d street, general secretary of the church's board of education. Others considered include Dr. Henry W. Temple of Washington and Jefferson college, and Dr. A. R. Robinson and Dr. James M. Ferguson, both of Pittsburgh.

IDENTIFY BODY OF RIVER VICTIM.

The body of a man taken out of the north branch of the Chicago river at Grand avenue on Monday was identified yesterday at the county morgue as that of Samuel Costa, 53 years old, 937 West Oak street, a Works Progress administration worker, who disappeared three weeks ago. His widow, Fannie, and four children survive.

U. S. HIRES 13 AIR FIRMS TO SPY ON NATION'S FARMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—A mighty armada will take to the air shortly in maneuvers against the American farmer. Under contracts awarded today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, thirteen aviation firms will be paid $753,909 for aerial mapping of 377 agricultural counties in 22 states.

The aerial spying is to determine the performance of coöperating farmers in the soil conservation program. From a study of photographs of farm land in the states agricultural experts will be able to determine how much of his acreage each farmer retired from production and put into soil building legumes.

Their reports will be the final test of claims for farm subsidies under the new AAA. Department of agriculture officials estimate there may be from 200,000 to 300,000 overpaypayments to farmers.

Aerial mapping has been demonstrated as a relatively cheaper and improved method of following farmers' performance than a ground survey of individual farms, AAA officials said.

I'LL OIL-PLATE YOUR ENGINE

Nobody but a Conoco Mileage Merchant like me can Oil-Plate your engine, because nobody else can change you to Conoco Germ Processed oil. There's a patent on it. The Germ Process is not like all the processes that "take away" from an oil—sort of like making skim milk. Instead of that, after the oil is refined in every right way, something altogether extra is put in Germ Processed oil. This is a great discovery, because then a genuine plating of oil is able to form in your engine. If you would imagine a slippy skin of oil really grown to every working surface—and not just floating around—that's a picture of Oil-Plating. A plating can't flow down while your car is parked, so you won't punish your Oil-Plated engine doing all the stopping and starting you please. Or if you're hitting a pace all day—maybe even pulling a trailer up the mountains—it does not make Oil-Plating rub away. That's letting you out of all the worst wear, at the same time that your Conoco Germ Processed oil is saving you quart after quart.

'Evergreen' One of the Favorite Tree Quilt Blocks

Evergreen Tree.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

If we fail to have a tree block in our collection every few months, we are besieged with requests for a pattern. "Evergreen" is one of the favorite designs, although there are half a dozen varieties of the evergreen tree, depending upon the arrangement of the patches. "Pine Tree," "Little Beech Tree," "Birch Tree," and even the "Palm Tree" are as popular as the old standbys, such as "Double Wedding Ring," "Friendship Ring," and the various "Irish Chains." "Evergreen" is set together on the diagonal in an alternate arrangement with plain white blocks. The quilt is squared up with plain half and quarter blocks and surrounded by a five inch white border and a ½ inch bias binding.

Presbyterians Reject Plan to Withdraw Sanction of War

Columbus, O., May 25.—(AP)—The Presbyterian church in the United States of America has declined, it was learned today, to withdraw its sanction of war.

The church's 276 presbyteries' nine votes rejected a proposed amendment which would have deleted from the church confession of faith, or constitution, this sentence:

"Christians . . . may, lawfully under the New Testament, wage war."

Defeat of the proposed amendment will be reported June 1 by the committee on policy to the 149th general assembly of the church, meeting here from Thursday until June 2.

The proposal, which originated in the presbytery of Cayuga, whose seat is Auburn, N. Y., was ratified by 175 presbyteries. Ratification by two-thirds of the presbyteries, or 184, was necessary to bring the overture before the general assembly for a vote. It did not specifically condemn war.

Little Theater Gains Fame as Movie Farm

Pasadena Playhouse Has a List of Successes.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., May 25.—[Special.]—The leading source of motion picture stars since 1932 has been the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

This theater project also has developed oldsters, such as Samuel S. Hinds, who was a prosperous, gray haired practicing attorney before he succumbed to the footlight lure, and Dr. Cecil Reynolds, a wiry, nervous quick tempered medical specialist.

It has produced such youngsters as Robert Taylor, Helen Mack, Tyrone Power, and character performers like John Carradine and Akim Tamiroff.

Mr. Hinds is one of the outstanding character actors. Dr. Reynolds has played in several Charlie Chaplin pictures. He also plays an occasional character rôle elsewhere but he still remains one of Los Angeles' leading psychopathists.

Betzi Beaton, comedienne, declined film offers, stayed with the stage, went direct to Broadway from the Pasadena playhouse and made her impression in that brighter theatrical forum.

Newest of the playhouse "finds" to attain acclaim in pictures is Wayne Morris, a tall, blond, athletic young fellow who came to the limelight with a rush as the good natured prize fighter in "Kid Galahad" with Bette Davis.

Film celebrities who were graduated out of Pasadena's theater casts, or from the Pasadena Community school of the theater since sound films came in are Douglass Montgomery, Randolph Scott, Ann Shirley, Sylvia Sydney, Robert Taylor, Gloria Stuart, Victor Jory, Helen Mack, Onslow Stevens, Lois January, Tyrone Power Jr., Robert Young, Karen Morley, Lloyd Nolan, Mischa Auer, Jonathan Hale, Frances Farmer, Francis Dee, and Sterling Holloway.

Probably only five or six of those named would have obtained their big chance in movies had it not been for the "show window" which the Pasadena theater provided them.

The Pasadena community organization was started by a group of amateurs enthusiastic over theater arts in 1927. Gilmore Brown has been the director from the start. The playhouse has grown to a financial and artistic position which has made a deep impression upon movie magnates. In a bulky graystone structure that cost $600,000 the playhouse has put on plays by Shakespeare, Thackeray, Drinkwater, Molnar, Chekhov, and George M. Cohan in recent seasons.

Sonja Henie's tall brown haired brother, Leif, is playing a rôle in her current starring picture, "Thin Ice," at Twentieth Century-Fox. Leif, who operates the family's fur business in Oslo, hurried here for the recent funeral of the father of the family, Jacob Wilhelm Henie, and the studio signed him to a contract for a double reason, one of which was to keep the brother in Hollywood for a while until the edge wore off the sorrow of Sonja and her mother, who were extremely devoted to Mr. Henie.

Mary Frances Averill Reveals Pleasant Manner at Debut

Mary Frances Averill, a young soprano who sings in costume and who gives dramatic and character sketches besides, divided her Kimball hall program of last night between her two specialties. She appeared in the guise of Violetta for "Ah, fors'è lui" from "La Traviata" and in the gay image of the youthful Rosina to sing "Una voce" from "The Barber of Seville." Following the intermission came four sketches of diverse character.

Miss Averill has a pleasant manner in her lighter moments and practices the art of pantomime with an attractive spontaneity and conviction. Her singing is agile and accurate.

On the basis of last night's debut recital, the young artist has yet to build her voice to a point where it will be fully equal, in both quality and strength, to the demands of the music which she essayed. E. B.

Care of Feet Should Begin in Childhood

That's When Structure Is Being Developed.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

As I reported one day recently, foot health and foot care are in for a period of beneficial propagandizing. Physicians are beginning with the feet in their examinations and conducting their body studies from this basic foot point. Which is sound application of the principle that if your feet aren't good, you can't be a thoroughly well person.

But let's talk about children's feet today, where the foot health propaganda really should start.

The time to take care of feet is during childhood, when tiny bones are forming and the muscles are developing, according to a bulletin issued by the National Foot health council. Children grow normally except for their feet, which usually are distorted by ill fitting shoes or stockings. Foot defects in childhood can be prevented or corrected.

Children's feet grow rapidly, at certain ages a full size or even more in a month or two. It is ten years before the foot and arches are entirely formed. It is twenty years before the feet are full grown.

Common foot defects in childhood, the council reports, are red spots, blisters, corns and calluses caused by thick, stiff, heavy, or outgrown shoes. Neglected, these defects bring about bunions, weak feet and ankles. Prevention means cotton or wool stockings that are big enough, flexible lether soled shoes with lightweight calf or kid lether over the toes so that feet bend without restriction or chafing. Children's feet, parents are reminded, always should be fitted and measured by competent fitters at dependable shoe stores. The shoes of the child determine the feet of the adult.

The periodic examination of children's feet by chiropodists or school physicians will detect and correct foot troubles which, if neglected, may become painful in later life.

With the shoes one sees being worn by young women today, you can well imagine how grateful to parents they are for seeing that their feet are shapely and fine enough to be seen. As years go on, the beauty requirement alone of well shaped feet will become more imperative.

Thirty slenderizing exercises are described and illustrated in the booklet, "West Point Exercises." They can help you reduce hips and waist and give you poise and smart appearance. Summer Frock for Full Figure

WOMAN'S DRESS.

The woman with a fulsome figure often becomes discouraged over clothes problem. After a few hours of shopping around she comes to disconsolate point of view that all the cool, crisp styles are designed trim silhouettes, in spite of the fact that she herself must be cool and freshing looking all during the hot months. The best solution for this ty of woman is sewing for herself, and the frock we are offering today is c she is certain to like because it is young in lines and in spirit and it tak beautifully to all the lovely sheer cottons and silks the stores are showi
It is easy to make, too, and lends itself to all kinds of decorative touch
The wide revers lend an illusion of slimness to the bust area, and the c sleeves, while cool, nevertheless do their slenderizing duty because slee less frocks usually are not becoming to women with plump arms.

The waistline detail also is cleverly designed to minimize figure bread
It dips up into the bodice and drapes softly around the midriff. The sk has no plaits, but its four panels create a good deal of width for grace a comfort.

The neckline is plain but may be embellished with ruching in organ or lace. There is an ideal place for a nosegay, too, right where the neckl meets the point in the bodice.

Style No. 2558 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inch bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with

Roof Gardens Provide Beauty Spots in City

Woodruffs Have Terrace That Grows Trees.

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHAT to plant and where to plant it is no longer the concern of country dwellers alone, for more and more arden lovers are discovering that a kyscraper terrace or an apartment ooftop is an ideal spot for a garden etreat. Not that such a location does ot present its problems, for up mong the high buildings spring omes two or three weeks after its rrival at ground level, as some urban ardeners have learned to their sor- ow.

The C. Shreve Badgers are the new- t converts to roof gardening, and e now putting a floor on their ousetop in Arlington place prepara- ry to having a garden. It's three ights up, so there will be no dining der the stars, but with chairs set mong the boxes of pansies and petu- ias it will be the family's favorite ace to relax on hot nights.

Mrs. Badger is planning to leave r new retreat from city heat to otor east about the first of July. e will spend the latter part of the mmer with her mother, Mrs. John Winterbotham, at her summer me in Vermont, and Mr. Badger ill join them there for his vacation.

William C. Boydens Grow Their Own Mint.

Already this season the William C. oydens have had mint juleps made ith mint grown in their own terrace rden atop 33 Bellevue place. Chairs d a swing make this a restful spot, d mignonette and petunias flourish, t Mrs. Boyden has found that just in any other garden weeds do st of all.

Near by is the William M. Scud- rs' roof terrace, where they will nch and have tea as soon as the eather is warm enough.

Another delightful roof garden on ellevue place is the John C. Mur- ys', but it will be deserted for me time to come, for it is still un- rtain just when they will return om a trip abroad.

Blue ageratum and white petunias d sweet alyssum grow in the win- w boxes on the Bowman C. Lingles, are leaving iday to spend the summer at the ingles' camp near Traverse City, ich. Mr. Lingle will join them ere for week-ends.

Mrs. Inez Stark has discovered that ne 1 is the earliest that her terrace rden on the 14th floor at 1430 Lake ore drive will come into bloom. is season, however, the garden will t blossom even then, for Mrs. Stark s decided that her garden shall be all green one. The narrow beds rdering the marble pavement will planted with boxwood, and green nes will make the spot delightfully ol.

Hatpins.

WHEN Katharine Cornell, in the first act of her superb performance of "Candida" at the Grand, sits down in her late Victorian, braid trimmed traveling costume and reaches up to pull two long, wicked looking hatpins from her hat a reminiscent smile travels swiftly over the faces of the women in the audience. Hatpins. Of course. The gesture has dreamlike familiarity, for even the younger women, who grew up in a bobbed hair era, remember their mothers performing that same rite, as feminine as the taking down of hair at night.

LONG hatpins were in use until about 1918, and they must have come in when bonnets, with strings to secure them to the head, went out of style, yet an attempt to acquire any information as to their origin, in encyclopedias, dictionaries, or costume books was singularly vain. Such stray facts as the finding of prehistoric hairpins along the Riviera near where the Cro-Magnon man was disinterred, were to be found, and fascinating lore about the origin and use of handkerchiefs, snuff boxes, gloves, fans, and parasols but not a printed word about the hatpin could be discovered. Leech must have drawn hatpins in his pictures for Punch in England, and perhaps Nast in America. Certainly Gibson girls were users of hatpins, but should hatpins have been portrayed in art, they seem to have been neglected in type. True, news stories reveal that the long hatpin was finally barred by federal law, and that as early as 1910 the Chicago city council fixed a fine of $50 for a hatpin worn with the point protruding more than a half inch from the hat crown, but no information as to their origin is included. After the federal law was passed little guards were worn over the protruding points.

ONE remembers the plain black and white headed pins milliners gave away with every hat, and the handsome jeweled pins that were popular as Christmas gifts. What has become of them? Does any one collect hatpins? Are there cameo hatpins and jeweled dragon fly hatpins and sapphires ringed about with diamonds serving as hatpin heads in collectors' cabinets or old jewel cases? Or have the jewels been reset and the pins sold for old gold? Anyway, if no one has done it, it is time for a piece on hatpins to be written for posterity's sake, while users of hatpins are here to give data. Or one day a long threadlike murderous looking jewel headed metal instrument will be found, and, with no data in the encyclopedias to explain it, it will be classified as a weapon of the horse and buggy days.

A PROPER source of information to the collector of data on hatpins should be, upon further reflection, Queen Mother Mary of England. She certainly has never stopped using them, considering the height and style of her much discussed chapeaux.

Good Morning!

The "tomorrow" referred to in this opus refers to that day when one's hair has turned to silver and one puts on one's old gray bonnet and goes to live with one's children. UNLESS one has been more provident than a grasshopper and protected oneself against that catastrophe.

This is a greatly simple picture. It tells the story of an old couple, who find the nest in which they had lovingly reared their young, swept away from them. Unwanted by their offspring, they are, nevertheless, compelled to seek shelter in the homes of their children—and separately. For not one of the brood feels able to take care of BOTH parents. . . .

The frail, little old mother finds herself under the roof of her eldest son—and terribly in the way of his bridge playing wife and flapper daughter. Father goes to live with an elder daughter.

There's the main situation—a situation as familiar as the morning and as unsolvable as a crossword puzzle with wrong leads. For the times when the two-families-under-one-roof state of affairs DOES work out are rare as blue chickens and only by the grace of God and the luck of the Irish. . . .

So, after fifty happy years together, old Lucy and Barkley Cooper find themselves taking separate trails into a sunset that has lost all its glow. But a final gay shimmering rests gently on them for five hours they have together before father is shipped off to Addie on the coast and mother enters the Idylwild Old Ladies' home. During this period they run away from the children, ride in an automobile, and visit the hotel where they had spent their honeymoon.

Here they are treated like visiting royalty by a friendly manager; find a rhumba resolving itself into an old-fashioned waltz that they can dance to through the commiserating courtesy of the observant orchestra leader, and drink old-fashioned cocktails at a BAR—for don't you think that little old mother isn't a sport when she has her beloved life's companion to do things with her! . . .

Also, during this time, Barkley spends a brief session in a telephone booth, during which time the children get an earful they have had coming to them. . . .

I shan't tell you how "Make Way for Tomorrow" ends—nor any more of the story. I just WILL tell you that it is one of the most genuinly moving productions I have ever seen; one of the most beautifully acted; one of the best directed. And that—I cried quietly all the way through it. BUT

Some of the time I was laughing WHILE I cried!

See you soon.

Terry Cloth for Beach Wear Again

Through the Looking Glass

If you shop carefully enough you will find at one establishment in Chicago tiny combs that are absolute treasures for the short haired woman. They're imported and are unlike all others in that they have miraculous "grip teeth" that practically never relinquish their hold on short locks.

These are invaluable for keeping the coiffure in its proper beautiful lines. They're unobtrusive—quite unlike the hideous combs and barettes that are sometimes resorted to. Just tuck them in with the teeth forward and forget about them. They're available only in light and dark amber and are just a bit more than an inch in length. The grip teeth [there are only seven] are spliced in the center, which gives them the strong hold.

A Parisian hair stylist brought them to this country as a coiffure accessory last year. He often does whimsical things with puffs and coils and found these little combs a practical aid. They hold the hair in place without breaking the line. But their use isn't restricted to the complicated coiffure. Almost every woman with short hair has wished at one time or another for a small comb that would keep her hair in place.

And now that the casual season is approaching when so many of us will be hatless outdoors the tiny combs have a new value. Hair flying this way and that looks marvelous in the movies or in those glossy illustrations of long limbed beauties walking in a storm, but the average woman looks like the very devil when her hair blows with the wind. These little combs will keep you looking respectable; it would take almost a hurricane wind to dislodge them.

Being imported these are not inexpensive but they're worth the price.

Allan Jones Injured Twice in Horseback Accidents on Location

Hollywood, Cal., May 25.—[Special.]—Allan Jones, leading man to Jeanette MacDonald, was injured in two horseback accidents today in the Tuttle Creek section of Mt. Whitney foothills. He was making location shots for "The Firefly."

As a dashing Spanish officer in Napoleonic times, Jones was galloping after Miss MacDonald's stage coach through the "Pyrenees." The wind unwound his long cloak and whipped it into the spokes of the coach. Jones was pulled off his mount and narrowly escaped being run over. The actor was battered and his horse, a white Arabian, was cut on the left rump.

Jones was patched up and tried the ride again, but this time the horse dodged too far to the right on the mountain trail and rubbed his rider against a jutting boulder. Jones was again knocked down, cut by his own spur and his right leg badly twisted.

Dressy Clothes Feature Recent Fashion Trend

Simple Frocks No Longer Go Around the Clock.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The big surprise of the summer, an idea that started modestly last fall and went into the spring stretch with a burst of fashion speed, was the grand and soul satisfying urge to dress.

Daytime dresses no longer see you through from dawn till dusk; simple models are no longer just as good for a swanky luncheon as they are for a shopping trip. Afternoon or dress parade costumes and ensembles are grand finds, look the part, and make every woman who wears them seem more feminine and gracious than they have been in seasons.

Soft, luxurious silks, crêpes, nets, jerseys, and satins are the materials. Intricate drapery, fine tucking, handwork, and white frills are the details that mark them dress parade.

Shirred fitted bodice tops, just as cleverly shirred short sleeves, very low front necklines, narrow accented waistlines, and softly flared skirts keep them definitly in afternoon or dress parade class.

Black still leads, with copper brown, deep blue, and cypress green giving black a good race. Midsummer models are of sheer superflattering materials like chiffon, organza, crisp, cool nets, tucked or plain, and cotton organdies.

With these appealingly feminine dresses go the newest of costume accessories. The huge flat cartwheel hats, with fluttering veils, with entire crowns of flowers, or both in clever combine, or the small devastatingly smart hats, with long veils or short eye shadowing veils that hang down much longer in back. Soft, luxurious gloves in bush pink, pistachio green, tawny gold, and the thick creamy white affairs. And newest of all, the stunning afternoon or dress parade bags, the peak of feminine extras, the small dull crêpe, navy or black crêpe, small bags covered with cool white embroidered organdy. Or the same idea with white lace of coarse mesh resembling Irish crochet showing black or blue through the design. These are tremendously interesting and important.

Fashion photograph. . . . A preview of the coming cotton parade. A beach or sun suit of bright yellow terry cloth has well tailored slacks and matching jacket that buttons down the front. The short sleeved shirt is of kelly green silk with a small printed design. The sandals are of terry cloth. Skull cap with tassel is of yellow cotton cord. The entire outfit will be found in a Chicago shop.

SYNOPSIS.

Brave Alida French opens up Avalon, the ancestral home she has inherited on the Massachusetts coast, for paying guests—though the house, according to local gossip, is haunted. Four men have vanished from it. Her guests are Vance, a young man with a fatal heart ailment; Dr. Eugene Benedict, struggling young physician, and his wife, Lucy, a nurse. Bing Haven, her family lawyer's nephew, assists Alida. Alida hires Comfort Folger, who used to work at Avalon, also her nephew Nat, and Abraham Parsons, whom Comfort refuses to marry because of his drinking. Vance and the Benedicts, driving to Avalon, collide with the car of the rich, neurotic Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and her daughter Spring. They take them with them to Avalon. Bing Haven and Spring fall in love. A dancing skeleton and two strange men in antique clothes are seen on the grounds of Avalon.

INSTALMENT XXVII.

AN APPARITION IN THE HOUSE.

One midnight, around the middle of May, Alida was nervous and wakeful. There was a bright moonlight and a cool soft breeze. She got up, slipped a dressing gown over her pajamas, and looked out of her north window.

At first she saw only the lawn and its familiar trees and shrubs. Then, down below her, a shadow stirred. A tall, dark figure was clearly defined in the moonlight. It wore what looked like a dark uniform and a nautical cap. It stood in the dimness of a clump of small trees, and looked up at the house. Its face was very white. Alida stared, and for a moment its eyes seemed to meet hers. It continued motionless, looking up at her. She turned, hurried out into the central hall, and tapped urgently at Vance's door. He opened it and stood before her in pajamas, sleepy-eyed. She put a finger to her lips and led him into her room and over to her window. The figure in the nautical cap was still there. Vance stared an instant, listened to her few breathless sentences, and rushed out of the room. She followed him, but before she reached the hall she heard him leaping down the staircase. At the foot he looked back and saw her.

"I'll get that fellow," he whispered. He was at the front door almost as he spoke. Alida, leaning over the bannister and watching him, saw that he had a moment's trouble in unlocking the big double lock. The next moment he was in the grounds. She went back to her window and looked out. The figure under the tree was gone, but something swift and dark, silent and white faced, was disappearing around the rear of the house. She ran to the top of the rear staircase. Below, in the kitchen, she heard a door close softly. She remained motionless and breathless, staring down into the dark well of the rear hall. Something passed below her without a sound, but a white disc turned upward. She ran down the short staircase and flashed on the electric lights in the two halls. Nothing was there. She hurried to the front door and called to Vance in a strangled voice. He came running.

"No one out here," he muttered.

She explained. They went in turn through every closet and room on that floor, flashing on the lights as they entered. No one was anywhere, in the grounds or in the house, though Benedict, a light sleeper, heard their low voices and came downstairs to help in a thorough search.

"But it's inside the house now," Alida said with stiff lips.

Benedict raised his eyebrows and she broke out irrepressibly.

"Don't tell me I imagined it! I know better. Both Don and I saw it in the grounds. Then I saw it come to the back of the house and I heard the kitchen door close. That door closed, all right, so the thing that closed it is no ghost. But what is it?"

The three sat down in the living room to talk it all over.

With a shudder Alida buried her face in her hands. Benedict got up, caught her by the shoulders, and gave her a little shake.

"Steady's the word," he reminded her.

With a big effort she pulled herself together.

"I can easily imagine a little gang of thugs hidden in some secret place in or mighty near this old house and doing its damndest to discourage any one else from living here."

"I agree," Vance said unexpectedly.

Alida shuddered.

"I suppose it's possible. But I'd almost rather think of them as ghosts."

"I agree with that, too," Vance smiled. "A little group of four murderers or maniacs, cozily tucked away somewhere in these thick walls, who come and go in the still hours toward dawn, strikes me as much more serious than any number of ghosts."

Alida shivered again and Benedict gave Vance a glance of warning.

"Don't be as depressing as you can," he advised. "But now that we all agree there may be some usurperers here, the next step is to find them and oust them."

Vance's eyes kindled.

"A real man hunt!" he exclaimed eagerly. "That's more like it! We'll start soon after daylight. These lads are showing themselvs entirely too much."

Alida uttered a sound that was meant to be another sigh, but was half a groan.

"I can't take much stock in that theory," she admitted. "If they're here, though, I suppose they have to come up from their holes for air. Perhaps that's why we usually see them in the grounds."

"Or they may have their hiding places somewhere in the grounds, or in the woods back of you, or down by the river." Benedict got up. "Let's get to sleep," he suggested. "It's almost 3 o'clock. Have you noticed that there are strong bolts on the inside of all the bedroom doors? They're an unusual precaution in a house like this, but I suggest that we begin to use them."

"And see a secret panel in one's bedroom slide open at 2 in the morning and the skeleton come out of it?" Alida shuddered. "I haven't considered myself a quitter, but if you two are right I'm almost ready to close Avalon and go back to New York. I should feel that we're all in real danger—and I haven't had that feeling before."

Vance nodded, but his eyes were brilliant with interest.

"Sit tight," he advised. "We'll get busy the first thing in the morning. We'll go through this house again from attic roof to cellar floor."

Alida was almost herself again. She had not imagined the sailor in the grounds, but wasn't it possible she was asking, that, after all, she had not seen the shadow in the lower hall?

"I'm having a few ideas of my own," she confessed as they separated on the upper landing. "While you two are going about with hammers, tapping the walls, I think I'll do a little sleuthing, too."

The next morning she watched with interest the preparations of Vance and Benedict for another systematic search of the house. They were to begin with the attic and methodically work their way down to the cellar, exploring every wall and nook and corner as they went. Equipped with tools and flashlights, they mounted the attic steps immediately after an early breakfast. To Alida's relief both were very serious. This was to be a serious business. Benedict, who had really evolved his theory half-heartedly the night before, had now almost convinced himself that he was right. Vance felt that Benedict's theory was at least as plausible as any other that could be offered.

Alida did not go to the attic with them. Instead, standing at the top of the back staircase, she called Comfort up to her room. She told her of the events of the night and the conclusions the two young men had drawn from them.

"The doctor and Mr. Vance are in the attic now," she ended. "They're going to search this house as it has never been searched before."

"They wunt find nothin'," Comfort said simply.

"Cuz they ain't no one in the house but us."

"And why are you so sure of that?"

"Cuz I lived in this house all m' life. I know ev'ry stick 'n stone in it. Nobody could be in this house 'thout me knowin' it."

Alida dropped that point.

"How often have you seen the skeleton?"

The woman's face became rigid.

"That's a subjeck I don't ——"

"Don't tell me you never discuss it, Comfort," said Alida grimly. "You're going to discuss it right now. We're in a terrible situation here. Something horrible is going on. We've got to get to the bottom of it. I'm going to get to the bottom of it, Comfort, if it takes the rest of my life to do it."

Slow Tempo in Child Training Most Advisable

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
(Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.)

It often is true that many difficulties that develop in early childhood have been caused by too early forcing. Like plants, children have their own time for developing, and their own rate of speed. And if, instead of anticipating this time, we would follow in its wake, most of the difficulties with children which many mothers experience, both in behavior and in acquiring skills and control, would not be ours.

There is this matter of habit training. Suppose your baby isn't trained at the age that some book says he should be? Many a mother who has never read a book on child training and who hasn't the time to try to train her baby while he is too young for it, anyway, finds that when she finally gets around to doing so, he has reached an age that makes this problem no problem at all, but a natural and simple thing to correct.

As for eating and feeding, some mothers think if their child has not developed independence at a certain date that dire things will happen—that the baby won't learn independence or skill or the right attitude ever. All of these things, in the mother's mind, beginning with capital letters. But many a child when the time comes for him to learn, does so easily and naturally, because he is ready to do so.

Other mothers get jittery if their baby doesn't start to talk as early as other babies do. But suddenly these silent babies start to talk in, not words, but whole phrases. That is, of course, unusual, but it proves that each child has its own and individual time both for learning, and for speed of learning. And if we tend to lag behind rather than anticipate and force this time, we will find that the child learns more easily and more quickly.

Training too early is bad. Like that incomparable dancer, Isadora Duncan, lag behind the music. Let the child's own impulse to learn be the motivating force.

Our booklet on habit training will be sent on receipt of a 3 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

Money Cannot Buy the Finest Things in Life

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Can you truthfully mention one thing that is beyond the purchasing power of money, not excepting love?" Colter.

Colter introduces his theme with the confession of being sick and tired of hearing people say that money can't buy everything.

Well, for one, Colter, how about a mother's love? Or a beloved Dad's years of sacrifices for his wife and family? You couldn't settle these debts with money, supposing you owned the mint.

How about a child's affection, the deeply rooted kind that will forgive a parent for faults that involve said child, perhaps, in a lifetime of sacrifice? Does money figure here?

How about contentment? We won't say happiness, because people often love it misconstrued with high moments of gayety that may cost money. But contentment is something within the soul, fed upon nobility of character, grandeur, beauty. The money theme enters here not at all. One does not need to have an assured future of security to inspire this thing called contentment. It's something that experiences beauty in the mere performing of one's duty . It's something far apart from material possessions or competition with a neighbor's goods.

It's trite to argue that money cannot buy happiness. An extreme lack of money provides no particular happiness, either. But because the argument is trite that money cannot buy happiness, there must be, and is, a tremendous weight of evidence to prove its truth as a statement of fact. Need we go into the case histories of people marrying for money, to find their bargains short of the important ingredient which you say, Colter, can be bought? Need we recall instances in which the lives of heretofore devoted couples have been wrecked with the introduction of large sums of money on the scene?

Or, to apply a personal note, looking back from whatever age you are, Colter, can you say that the occasions from which you extracted the greatest sheer enjoyment were bound up with money?

We'll grant you that money can buy a number of things, and we'd enjoy the shopping spree quite as well as the next person, but until money can buy us the job we love to perform, the work which supplies us the most contentment, the affections which we hold most dear, we will not appoint it the key position you've given it, Colter.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

RESPONDING TO THE JUMP OVERCALL.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

The partner of the defender who makes a jump overcall should keep the bidding open on about as little strength as that which is required to respond to an opening bid of one, and sometimes even on less. In general, some response should be made when holding about one trick, either an honor or a ruffing trick. A ruffing trick consists of a singleton and three or more trumps. With a doubleton and three trumps, and one-half an honor trick outside, some response also should be made.

Lacking trump support, but holding one honor trick or more, partner should respond with two no trump.

A suit take-out of a jump overcall should show at least one and one-half honor tricks. With less, take out with two no trump.

When the defender who made the jump overcall is raised, or when his bid is taken out in no trump or in a suit, he guarantees to rebid at least once. If his jump overcall was based on a two-suiter he should show his second suit. If it was based on one long, strong suit he should simply bid game.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 diamond
Pass	1 spade	Pass	3 diamonds
Pass	3 spades	Pass	4 spades*

*Final bid.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I was South and allowed the opening lead of the diamond deuce to ride to a ruff and led a low spade which West ducked, for reasons best known to himself. I tried the ten and, when it didn't bring out the ace, resigned myself to the loss of two trump tricks. The diamond suit proved sour, so I considered the possibility of finding West with two doubletons, throwing him in with a trump at the tenth trick and forcing a lead away from the heart king, but abandoned the idea after a little thought, as it was obvious that he would have opened the bidding in a match point game if he had held that card in addition to the other stuff with which he was marked. Then came the dawn. If West had doubletons in hearts and clubs, five odd was a cinch anyway. As nothing could be lost by trying, I entered dummy with a club for the third ruff of a diamond, cashed my heart ace, got to dummy again with the other high club, discarded my two small hearts on the high diamonds, ruffed the heart queen, and led my last club. East won and, when his return lead smothered the trump queen, West threw his cards on the floor and East, having sensed what was coming, was ready with a ribald bit of sarcasm as to West's carrying his notorious fondness for the society of the fair sex somewhat to extremes.

"Yours very truly,
"F. H. RICHMOND,
"Birmingham, Ala."

Mr. Richmond's analysis covers all the vital points. Of course the trick stolen would not have been important in rubber bridge, but, since this was match duplicate, I have no doubt that "smothering" the trump queen earned a top on the board.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: In the following bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	3 clubs	3 diamonds

Is South forced to respond, or does the three diamond bid relieve him of responding to his partner's force?

Answer: South may pass, but if West passes North is obligated to keep the bidding open.

Inspiration Is One Result of Food Shopping

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Marketing for your own meat and vegetables isn't as hazardous a business as shopping for a hat or a dress. No attentive grocer is going to lean purringly over you as you inspect the cabbage and murmur, "This one is so lovely with your hair and eyes, dearie." And no white aproned meat counter clerk is going to browbeat you out of 30 cents because "You'd be foolish not to buy this steak when it actually takes inches off your hips!"

You can fondle the cabbages to your heart's content and select the one which seems most solid, and you can inspect the array of meats at will before making a choice which appeals to you as attractive and inexpensive. Nobody will take it as a personal insult, either, if you leave without making a purchase.

Doing your own marketing will give you ideas, too, ideas in the way of seasonal vegetables and fruits to add interest to your meals, ideas in the shape of new commercial products designed to make kitchen keeping more pleasurable, and ideas about extending and amplifying your culinary répertoire. Once a week sallying forth with a shopping bag or a market basket is recommended especially for the home and business woman whose office work occupies so much of her time that she doesn't do a great deal of thinking about menu planning.

A good refrigerator will handle amounts of vegetables and fruits to last a week, and, with a supply on hand, there needn't be a last minute worry about what to have for dinner tonight.

Bargains in fresh peas and in strawberries are to be found in many markets nowadays. That's why they've been included in today's business woman's menu. To give the can opener a well earned rest, tonight's menu excludes its use entirely.

Any preferred meat loaf recipe may be used, or a combination of sausage and hamburger, with the addition of soft crums, seasoning, and a little minced onion will do quite as well.

Wide Writing Reveals Girl as Complacent

Expert Sees Her Content in Any Station.

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: 1937: By Muriel Stafford.]

They say that you should consider marriage as you consider buying a hat. When in doubt—DON'T!

This is a good rule for most persons, but there are some writers who never can make up their minds definitly about anything and others who are emotionally overdone or underdone. Today's writer belongs in the last classification.

Would I be more content married

She asks in her letter: "Would I be more content as a beauty operator or married to this person?"

From this young lady's handwriting I'd say that the gift of content has been so plentifully bestowed upon her that she may be able to keep it regardless of what she does.

Notice the wide, almost vertical writing. The letters "m" and "n" look almost pudgy, they are so wide and round. This is a sofa pillow type of handwriting and the writer's disposition is like that. She has no false illusions as to her own importance, either. The capitals are very low and modest.

Patience, amiability, calmness, and a placid indifference are all revealed in a handwriting like this. Such a writer will never have the ecstasy or the unbearable pain of a broken heart. Her affections are mild and gentle and kind without always understanding the need of kindness. There is no imagination indicated.

The unpredictable thing about personality is the way it changes. Marriage seems to make more drastic changes in a handwriting than anything else. It is possible that after marriage all of the easy going complacency so apparent now will disappear.

When such a writer as this says "Will I be more content?" she is apt to mean "What would be easiest?" Not knowing all the circumstances nor what is to come, I could never answer that. Whatever you do I'm sure you won't be rushed into it and that you probably will take things peacefully.

FILIPINOS SCHEME TO TRIP M'NUTT ON 'DARE' TOAST

Just Want to 'See What He'll Do About It.'

MANILA, P. I., May 25.—(AP)—A test of High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's order that he be toasted ahead of Commonwealth President Manuel Quezon at all official functions appeared in prospect tonight.

Some observers expressed the belief a formal occasion would be chosen at which a toast to Quezon would precede one to the new high commissioner "to see what McNutt will do about it."

At the same time authoritative sources disclosed the diplomatic corps was circumventing another McNutt order—that all letters to commonwealth government officials regarding foreign affairs be routed through the high commissioner's office. Foreign consuls are communicating with commonwealth officials directly by telephone.

Cabinet to Discuss Toasts.

The Manila Bulletin said the cabinet would discuss the toast precedence ruling informally tomorrow.

Amid a flurry of controversy over the order, Wayne Coy, administrative assistant to the high commissioner, came to its defense. He said it was issued because of confusion over procedure in drinking toasts.

Coy said McNutt was "the ranking official of the Philippines" since the islands were dependent on the United States, and as such should have precedence over Quezon.

Only Two Toasts Necessary.

McNutt, taking the position that he is the personal representative of President Roosevelt, has said only two toasts are necessary at social affairs—one to the head of the sovereign state in whose honor the affair is held, and one to the President of the United States.

But if there are to be any more, he contends, the third should be to him and the fourth to Quezon.

President Quezon, in New York, revealed he and McNutt had taken a drink together there several weeks ago.

"Nobody was toasted first," he said. "We just had a drink."

To help you take the guess-work out of selecting your summer clothes, we have singled out fashions that were notable successes at the smart winter resorts. The new fishwife skirt, for instance, the two-piece play suits, slacks for golf, the dressmaker bathing suit. You see them presented here against the country club backgrounds that will be their natural habitat this summer.

At the Top and the Toe of Country Club Fashion

Many weeks ago the members of the Chicago eam began conditioning themselves or the various sectional preliminaes, which were held in 45 cities of 17 ates. Then came the Tournament of hampions and after that the interity bouts with New York. Through l that fighting, the boys had to keep hemselves in shape and at the same me guard against going stale. And ow the coaches and trainers have rought them up to the international atches—the climax of the whole ampaign—in top form.

Long Grind, Long Ride.

Likewise the champions of Europe ave come through a long, hard prepration. Many weeks ago they startd training for the tournaments hich were held in 16 countries of urope. Then they went on to the urnament at Milan, Italy, where ey won the right to represent urope in the forthcoming matches the Stadium. To the ordinary difficulties of training have been added 5,000 mile journey and a change of imate. But they, too, have come rough all this in fine condition for riday's fights.

BYRON NELSON'S 139 TOPS TRIALS FOR P. G. A. MEET

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25.—They have been trying to keep Byron Nelson out of the national professional golf championship for two years, but they could not halt the brash young man today as the qualifying round of the 20th annual P. G. A. tournament was concluded. The 25 year old Reading, Pa., professional made certain of his entrance by winning the qualifying medal with an elegant card of 139, five shots under par.

Byron first attempted to get in and play with the big boys in the New Jersey sectional trials of the 1935 tournament, but they told him to run along. He came back for more last November, going as far as the national qualifying round, and again they told him he'd have to have a note from his folks if he wanted to join their league.

Crashes the Big League.

But the sandy haired young Texan brought no note this time. He brought instead a variety of shots which yesterday enabled him to tie Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., with a course record of 68. While Paul was having a peck of grief in bringing down a 75 today, Nelson was welding a tidy 71.

So now they must allow Byron to make his first appearance in national match play competition. He and 62 others will join Champion Denny Shute of Boston in the match play

Talking It Over

TUG WILSON of Northwestern university will serve as manager of the Big Ten track team that will meet a squad of coast stars in Los Angeles next month. . . . Wayne Morris, who has the title rôle in the movie, "Kid Galahad," never saw a fight before he was given the assignment. . . . The story was written by Francis Wallace, former publicity director at Notre Dame. . . . Here's a likely setup for next year's professional tennis tour: Helen Wills Moody vs. Alice Marble and Ellsworth Vines vs. Don Budge. . . . Steve Mesner, who was returned to Los Angeles by the White Sox, is having a hard time getting into action. . . . He is still resting in the Angels' dugout while Bill McWilliams, who has been the club's sparkplug, continues to hold down third base. . . . McWilliams is a former University of Iowa football player. . . . Bob Pastor will receive $13,500 for fighting Bob Nestell in Los Angeles Friday night. . . . Nestell's share will be $11,000. . . .

Philip K. Wrigley, president of the Cubs, and Robert Lewis, traveling secretary, are members of the Harold A. Taylor post, No. 47, of the American Legion. . . . There are 200,000 registered table tennis players in the Japanese association, any one of whom could spot George Halas 20 points and then loaf. . . . Rogers Hornsby's latest appraisal of the White Sox relegates the Chicagoans to eighth place because of a bad outfield, a weak infield, and only one pitcher, Stratton. . . . George Coffman, rookie pitcher recalled from Toledo by the Tigers, is a younger brother of Dick Coffman, the old St. Louis Browns and New York Giants pitcher. . . . Clare Randolph, former Indiana university center, who more recently has been with the Detroit Lions, is now attached to the city attorney's office in Detroit. . . . The new refreshment parlor and rest room to be installed at the south end of the Wrigley field press box is to have a dainty maid behind the counter, she to serve beverages and viands to the authors before and during the ball game. . . . Most of the calls probably will be for cold beverages once summer comes, but a fancy percolator will be kept perking each day for coffee addicts. . . .

Mike Jacobs, who was associated with the late Tex Rickard in the promotion of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout in 1921, recalls that 24 hours after the announcement that the management was ready to accept ticket orders applications amounting to $400,000 were received. . . . Lieut. Charles Leonard, U. S. A., runnerup in the modern pentathlon at the 1936 Olympic games, will marry the daughter of a United States Military academy professor at West Point June 19. . . . Leonard set one Olympic record in the pentathlon, getting a perfect score in the 200 shot pistol event. . . . When the White Sox are in town there is nothing J. Dungan Rigney likes better than to accompany his River Forest neighbors to Berwyn for West Suburban Fastball league games. . . .

Johnny Goodman, national open champion in 1933, will compete in the national amateur and open tournaments this season, and he hopes to make the trip to the amateur at Portland, Ore., a honeymoon. . . . When Coach Henry Schulte's Nebraska track team won the 1937 Big Six championship it was the seventeenth title his squads have won in 24 years as coach in the Missouri valley region. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—The White Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 3, in 12 innings and moved within a game and a half of the league leading New York Yankees. . . . Frank Lockhart set a new record in the qualifying trials for the 500 mile Indianapolis auto race by driving his Miller Special at 120 miles an hour. . . . The Cubs defeated Cincinnati and were two games out of first place.

CUBS WIN, 5 TO 3, AS LEE WEATHERS PHILS' LATE RALLY

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Phillies waited a bit too long yesterday in the matter of getting tough with Bill Lee. Their tardiness and some early thumping of Claude Passeau enabled the big bayou boy and his Cub associates to stagger through to a 5 to 3 victory in the opener of the three game series.

Fifteen Phillies, the minimum, faced Lee in the first five innings. Until one was out in the sixth the visitors had a grand total of one hit, a single by Earl Browne, first batsman of the day. In the sixth, however, a single by George Scharein and a homer by Browne gave the Phillies big ideas.

Phillies Wake Up.

They pounded out three singles and a double in the eighth and would have tied the score or better but for some snowshoe base running by Manager Jim Wilson, who was thrown out at the plate. In the ninth, after the Cubs had added a run in the eighth, a single by Morris Arnovich and a double by Dolph Camilli had the tying runs on third and second with one out. At this juncture Lee decided he had come as close to swooning as the situation permitted. He made Wilson pop to Bill Herman and fanned Bucky Walters.

The Cubs made ten hits. Herman hit safely his first three trips to the plate and the only other multiple hit gent was Gabby Hartnett who made two singles, each of which drove in a run. Gabby also drove in a run with a pop fly.

Joe Marty made three spectacular catches in deep center but again put on a demonstration of befuddlement on the base lines. The catches more than made up for the perplexity on this occasion, however.

Start Scoring Early.

Passeau, who gave the Cubs a lot of trouble last season and held them to one run in a bobtailed Chicago victory in Philadelphia May 6, wasn't as stubbornly efficient in the first inning as they had expected. Galan walked and went to third on Herman's rolling single to left. Collins singled to left, Galan scoring and Herman reaching third. When Arnovich fumbled the ball Collins reached second. The runners held their bases while Demaree bounced out to Scharein, then Hack was given an intentional pass, filling the bases.

Hartnett popped to Young in short right and Herman scored after the catch. Marty singled to center, scoring Collins, Hack stopping at second.

Sox Defeat Senators, 9-2; No. 1 for Lyons

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—The venerable Ted Lyons recovered some of his one time vigor today and achieved an easy triumph over the Senators in the opening game of the series. The 36 year old right hander had a real fight on his hands during part of the journey, but toward the close his White Sox pals began to hammer the ball all over the place and compiled a 9 to 2 decision for him. It was Ted's first victory in four starts this season.

Lyons had to bear down for six innings because Jimmy [Ching-a-ling] De Shong created the impression he was going to repeat a recent Chicago performance. During this span the ex-Yankee whittled the Sox down to two hit size. Meanwhile Lyons was holding his own on three hits. But the Sox finally began blasting in the seventh and three scored. They picked up a run in the eighth and then in the ninth poured it in heavy against finisher Ed Linke. In fact, the latter didn't even complete his task as four more runs came in.

Sox Take Lead.

De Shong was slightly shy on control in the first inning, and the Sox used this as a means of getting away to one run lead. Radcliff led off with a pass. Kreevich got the idea he might draw the same, so he wasn't on guard when a third strike floated past. Instead of waiting, Walker punched a single through short, but Bonura loitered until he

WHAT ABOUT THIS BEAN BALL CRAZE, MR. PRESIDENTS?

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The consensus seems to be that Bump Hadley was not throwing at Mickey Cochrane when he fractured the skull of the Detroit Tiger manager in the fifth inning at Yankee Stadium yesterday. The fact that the score was tied, there were two out, and the count was three balls and two strikes on Mickey, would seem to outbalance the thought that Bump Hadley would throw at a man who had nicked him for a homer his last trip to the plate. And, too, Hadley's disposition and intelligence are above the average.

But Mickey Cochrane's skull was fractured by a pitched ball. It's mighty tough on Mickey, even if he gets well in a hurry. His accident was sufficiently spectacular to serve a purpose. As the years, almost seventeen of them, have rolled by since Ray Chapman was killed by a pitched ball, league officials, including umpires and managers, have become increasingly hazy in their recollection of that tragedy. The bean ball has been flourishing more and more each year.

Kid Bullies at Heart.

Many pitchers seem to have the idea that throwing bean balls is a mark of courage. Pitchers who would run across center field and climb the scoreboard if a good featherweight fighter were to challenge them have come to think they are pretty tough when they try, at a distance of 60 feet, to split open the heads of batsmen who want to make base hits.

The response of some batsmen to the bean ball is not always courageous. Too often the target batsman tries to hit a pitch in such a way that the pitcher will have to cover first base. The threat in this is that the batsman intends to spike the pitcher. Manly stuff.

The Courage Wanes.

As a matter of fact the pitcher and the batsmen in such instances usually make sure that their respective teammates are on the qui vive. The pitcher watches his legs, if indeed he does cover first, and the batsman is not too reckless with his blades. But there is a pushing scuffle and several wild swings and the belligerents are separated.

This is all right, though silly enough, when it turns out so painlessly. It is a far different matter when a skull is fractured or a concussion results.

It is expected that the accident will serve the belated purpose of curbing the use of the bean ball, whether or not it is believed the beaning of Cochrane was intentional. Whatever

CONDITION OF TIGER MANAGER, STAR SERIOUS

Hadley's Fast Ball Fells Catcher.

BULLETIN.

New York, May 26 (Wednesday).—(Special.)—Attending physicians reported Mickey Cochrane, Detroit manager, who suffered a fractured skull when hit by a pitched ball yesterday, "resting comfortably" early today.

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Gordon Stanley [Mickey] Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers, was in a hospital tonight in a serious condition with a skull fracture after being hit on the right temple by a ball thrown by Irving [Bump] Hadley, Yankee pitcher, in a game at the Yankee stadium today. X-ray pictures revealed the fracture after Cochrane was carried from the field on a stretcher.

Irving Hadley.

The accident occurred in the fifth inning and cast a gloomy shadow for a crowd of 11,026 on a game that was a thriller otherwise, ending with the Yankees winning, 4 to 3, as they fought off a ninth inning Detroit rally.

Attempts Futilely to Duck.

Fourth to bat in the fifth inning, Cochrane worked the count to three balls and two strikes before being struck by a high, fast pitch on the inside. He had hit a home run in the third inning to tie the Yankees, who had scored a run off Schoolboy Rowe in the first inning. As he saw the pitch coming Cochrane tried to duck out of range. Instead his head seemed to bob directly into its path. There was a distinct crack as the ball crashed on his temple, giving many within hearing the belief it had hit Cochrane on the wrist.

Dr. Robert Emmet Walsh, Yankee club physician, was summoned from the stand and ordered Cochrane's removal on a stretcher to the Detroit clubhouse. There a preliminary examination revealed a concussion. Dr. Walsh, summoning an ambulance, ordered that Cochrane be held absolutely quiet for an hour before being moved to the hospital. He authorized announcement of the skull fracture when X-ray negatives were developed tonight.

Put Off Operation.

No attempt will be made to operate tonight, it was said at the hospital. Dr. Walsh, after consultation with Dr. Alexander Nicholls, announced: "Cochrane is now holding his own very nicely, so we have decided to do nothing until we see how he passes the night."

Mrs. Cochrane, summoned from Detroit, arrived at Newark airport at 1 a. m. Cochrane's son, Gordon, 12, and a daughter, Joan, 6, did not accompany her.

Hadley was visibly upset by the accident, a fact he demonstrated when play was resumed with Ray Hayworth running for Cochrane. Hadley walked Charley Gehringer on four pitches, his greatest display of wildness in the game, to fill the bases. He ral-

HIGHLIGHTS IN CAREER OF NOTED PLAYER AND MANAGER

Cochrane signing with the late Frank Navin (right) in 1933 to manage the Tigers. He brought them their first pennant in 25 years his first year and their first world's championship the next. After a poor season last year because of illness, he had begun starring again.

Cochrane's play, always spirited and artistic, established him as one of the great catchers of all time. He was especially valuable because of his hitting, which was one of Detroit's fortes.

Harry Cooper Second; Match Play Today.

bracket, which begins tomorrow with two eighteen hole bouts. From Thursday through Sunday's final all of the stirring acts in the big show will be played at 36 holes.

Chicago Marches In.

Both Nelson and Shute doubtless will pay considerable attention to the Chicago unit, which marched into the man to man warfare almost en masse. For one there is Harry Cooper, the year's leading money winner and runner up in the 1936 national open. After yesterday's 72 Harry dashed around in 70 for a 142 and second place. Right back of him, tied with Runyan and Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., at 143, is Ky Laffoon of Northmoor, who equalled the record breaking efforts of Runyan and Nelson with a second eighteen of 68 today.

Eight of ten Chicagoans qualified for the match play. They include Cooper, Laffoon; Horton Smith, 75—74—149; Jimmy Foulis, 74—76—150; Tommy Armour, 78—73—151; Ralph Guldahl, 75—76—151; Johnny Revolta, 78—76—154, and Sam Bernardi, 82—75—157. Eddie Williams, with 80—78—158, and Frank Walsh, with 80—79—159, just missed having a chance at the playoff.

Bernardi Wins a Place.

Bernardi was one of the heroes of an extra inning struggle which involved ten 157 scorers in a fight for three places. The little Old Elm pro matched the fours made on the first hole by Willie MacFarlane, 1925 national open champion from Purchase, N. Y., and John Kinder of Plainfield, N. J., to win one of the precious three spots.

The battle for the Ryder cup berths remained as snug as it was last night. Eleven of the most gifted gents in the field are wrangling for the remaining four places on the team which will sail for England on June 16. This is being decided on the basis of their performances in the qualifying round here and in the four rounds of the national open at Detroit on June 10, 11 and 12.

Ryder Cup Hopefuls Shoot Well.

The eleven include Nelson, Laffoon, Runyan, McSpaden, Ed Dudley, Vic Ghezzi, Sam Snead, Olin Dutra, Craig Wood, Jimmy Hines, and Ralph Guldahl. The average score of these scrub candidates against the varsity six already named for the Ryder cup squad is interesting. The eleven have a P. G. A. qualifying mean of 145 4-11 strokes against the 151 submitted by the six regular members—Smith, Shute, Revolta, Henry Picard, Tony Manero and Gene Sarazen.

Pairings for tomorrow's matches:

Chapman defeated James Bruen, British boys' champion, 2 and 1, in a match that was decided on the final holes. He won the last nine, having been one down at the turn.

Other Americans surviving were: Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., who drew a first round bye; P. A. Valentine of Southampton, N. Y., who won by default; J. C. Freshwater of Hollywood, Cal., and R. B. ROBERTSON WINS AS CUT IS OPENED OVER COHEN'S EYE

Pat Robertson, former New York Golden Gloves featherweight champion, won a five round decision over Lenny Cohen, Chicago Golden Gloves product, in the featured match on the opening card at Western stadium last night. The contest, which was set for eight rounds, was halted by Referee Johnny Behr when Cohen sustained a cut eye. Chester Rudy, Los Angeles, Cal., welterweight, scored a five round decision over Herman [Kid] Collins of New Orleans, La., in the semi-final. Georgie White beat Billy Gladstone, Ralph Baker conquered Babe La Varra, and Lorenzo Robinson whipped Pat Schoenberger.

George Zaharias, Colorado heavyweight trial horse, who threw Fred Grubmier in 26 minutes 19 seconds Monday, will meet Cliff Thiede in a scheduled 90 minute bout which tops the show at Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue, tonight. Thiede, former University of California athlete, has won three straight victories at the Fronton. Supplementary bouts:

Amateur fight cards will be held tonight at 124th Field Artillery armory, 5200 Cottage Grove avenue, and Lyceum Circle gymnasium, Ogden and Kedzie avenues. Walter Schramm, South Chicago heavyweight, clashes with Jack Stamper in the featured scrap at the armory, while Eddie Lander, west side bantamweight, is paired with Eugene Gregory in the main event at Circle gym.

Jimmy Garrison, Kansas City, Mo., lightweight contender, who knocked out Nick Torres in Chicago April 12, slipped into the loop yesterday several days in advance of his scheduled arrival for his ten round headliner with Davey Day at Marigold outdoor arena June 2. He was accompanied by his trainer, Pop Gatto, and Chuck Giloti, welterweight stablemate, who will appear in a supporting contest.

SELL ST. MARY'S PROPERTIES AT AUCTION JUNE 25

Oakland, Cal., May 25.—(AP)—Announcement of a foreclosure sale of St. Mary's college properties climaxed today a depression plagued expansion program at the Catholic institution, nationally noted for its football teams. The Central bank of Oakland, acting for bondholders, who own $1,111,000 in defaulted securities, announced the properties would be sold June 25 to the highest bidder.

College officials could not be located for comment, but no sources foresaw closing of the institution, which has about 800 men students. The college is operated by the Christian Brothers.

Cochrane, Hit by Pitch, Has Skull Fracture

lied, however, and finished the inning without being scored upon. Hadley, explaining the pitch, said, "The ball sailed. I don't know why. It just did."

McCarthy Is Upset.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees maintained communication with the hospital tonight. "I hope there is nothing serious the matter with Mickey," McCarthy said.

Conditions surrounding the accident to Cochrane were highly dramatic. He came to the plate with two out, Pete Fox on first base, and the teams in a 1 to 1 tie. He worked the count to three balls and two strikes, watching for a pitch that might mean another Tiger run. When he collapsed in his tracks from the impact players rushed from both dugouts. On a stretcher carried by Spurgeon Chandler, Yankee pitcher; Babe Herman, Eldon Auker, and Coach Cy Perkins of the Tigers, Cochrane was carried from the field.

Arthur Sheehan and Coach Perkins accompanied Cochrane to the hospital where they remained most of the night. Sheehan, road secretary for the club, communicated by long distance telephone with club executives in Detroit, and advised Mrs. Cochrane to come to New York.

Recalls Chapman Accident.

Cochrane, voted the most valuable player in the American league in 1928 and again in 1934, has been in the major leagues since 1925, when he came up to the Athletics under Connie Mack. He was purchased by the Detroit club in the winter of 1933 and took up the management in 1934, replacing Stanley [Bucky] Harris, now manager of the Washington club.

In his first year as manager Cochrane brought Detroit its first American league pennant in 25 years. In 1935 he brought the city its first world series championship.

The accident vividly brought to the minds of many in the crowd a similar incident at the Polo Grounds in 1920 in which Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, was killed. A pitch by Carl Mays, Yankee hurler, fractured Chapman's skull, causing a hemorrhage from which he died the same night.

Budge's Play in Drill Buoys U. S. Davis Cup Hopes

Forest Hills, N. Y., May 25.—(AP)—America's stock in the Davis cup tennis matches with Australia's powerful team this week-end rose several points today following a sensational workout featured by the play of Don Budge and Gene Mako.

Playing for the first time on the grandstand turf, under a broiling sun, Budge unleashed the full power of his game to thrash Bryan Grant in four swift sets. The scores were 6-3, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, as Budge ran his teammate ragged with a brand of tennis that indicated the red headed ace of the American forces is at his peak.

"Budge played the greatest game I have ever seen," Grant said. "He had my tongue hanging out trying to get within hailing distance of some of his shots. His backhand was the most marvelously accurate thing I have ever been up against."

While Budge was polishing off Grant, Mako teamed with Bobby Riggs on the adjoining stadium court to rout the United States doubles coach, George Lott, and young Wayne Sabin, 6-1, 7-5, 6-1. Lott said Mako was the outstanding player on the court, playing his shots more effectively than at any time thus far, and apparently responding to demands that he bear down in practice.

Grant's disappointing performance against Budge did not alter the general belief that the Atlanta, Ga., star will be picked for the No. 2 singles berth over Frank Parker, who ranks a notch above him on the national list.

The probable nomination of Grant to split the singles assignment with Budge is based partially upon the expectation that Australia will call upon the veteran Jack Crawford for double duty with Adrian Quist, Australia's No. 1 man.

YANKS DEFEAT TIGERS, 4-3, FOR FIFTH STRAIGHT

Lazzeri's Homer in 7th Provides Margin.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—A seventh inning home run by Tony Lazzeri today provided the winning margin for the Yankees as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 3, for their fifth straight victory and widened their first place margin to two full games over the beaten Philadelphia Athletics.

Manager Mickey Cochrane tied the score with a homer in the third before he was struck by a pitched ball in the fifth.

The Tigers collected four singles and two runs off Hadley in the ninth and the tying and winning runs were on base when Johnny Murphy was called in to relieve Hadley. Murphy retired Gerald Walker on a fly to left.

DODGERS WHIP PIRATES, 2 TO 1, BEHIND MUNGO

Pitcher Yields Six Hits; Grimes Ejected.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25.—(AP)—Brooklyn's Dodgers overcame the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 1, today behind the pitching of Van Lingle Mungo.

They did it in spite of the banishment of their manager, Burleigh Grimes, for protesting the way Umpire Magerkurth called balls and strikes—the third time this has happened to the Dodger pilot this season. Grimes was banished in the eighth.

Mungo would have had a shutout except for a three base error by Heinie Manush in the third inning which allowed Woodie Jensen, who had singled, to race across the plate.

Bill Lee and Cubs Defeat Phillies, 5-3

Passeau caught Hack napping off second. In the rundown which ensued Hack managed to get back to second, but found Marty had advanced to that station though Hack was the potential third out. Marty was out when he tried to return to first.

Herman Out at Plate.

It took as many hits for the Cubs to score one run in the third inning as they made in producing their three in the first inning. Herman opened with a single and reached third on Collins' grounder to Young and Demaree's infield single. Herman was out at the plate, however, when he tried to score on Hack's high bouncer to Scharein. Hartnett singled to center, scoring Demaree, and Marty popped to Scharein.

With one out in the sixth Scharein beat out a single to deep short for the second Philly safety and was forced by Passeau. Browne then drove a homer into the center field bleacher, scoring behind Passeau to put the visitors back in the ball game. Whitney flied to Demaree to end the inning.

Wilson led off the eighth with the fourth Philly hit, a single to left. Moore batted for Young and sent Marty to the scoreboard for his drive. Corbett batted for Scharein and doubled to right, but when Wilson tried to waddle from third to home on the shot he was out. The Philly manager dropped from exhaustion as he reached the plate, but soon was revived.

Klein batted for Passeau and singled to right, scoring Corbett. Browne came through with his third hit, a single to right, putting Klein on third. Grace batted for Whitney and sent Marty deep into right center for his drive.

Cubs Score in Eighth.

Only twelve batsmen faced Passeau in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, but the Chicagoans livened up after Mulcahy had retired two in the eighth. Demaree walked after the two were down and stopped at second on Hack's single to left. Hartnett singled to center, scoring Demaree. Mulcahy tossed out Marty.

With one out in the ninth Arnovich singled to center and stopped at third on Camilli's double to right. Then with the tying runs in scoring position, Wilson popped to Herman and Walters fanned.

Sox Defeat Senators, 9-2; No. 1 for Lyons walked, filling the bases. Appling then smacked a long fly to Hill and Radcliff sprinted home after the catch. The incident closed with Hayes fouling to Lewis.

As soon as the Senators got their first runner on base they accomplished some scoring business. Hill ended Lyons' perfect performance by walking to open the fourth. Lewis bounced a single between Bonura and Hayes to send Hill to third. Myer bounced to Appling, whose throw to Hayes forced Lewis at second, while Hill scored the tying run.

Sox Open Up.

The first happening in the Sox big seventh was Appling's double, down the right field line. Hayes bunted and the ponderous Mr. Hogan threw to third, but too late to nail Appling. Piet singled over short, scoring Appling. Sewell bunted, but this time Hogan was quick enough to get Hayes at third. Lyons dropped a hit in short right to fill the bases and on Radcliff's fly to Hill, Piet scored. Kreevich's double to right scored Sewell.

The Sox got a run without a hit in the eighth. Appling walked and stole. Hayes popped out and Piet walked. Sewell tapped to De Shong, whose throw to Bluege forced Piet at second. Bluege threw to first for a double play, but Sewell beat the throw and by the time Kuhel woke up, Appling was across the plate. Lyons then fanned.

In the ninth the Sox deceived Linke. They let him retire the first two men and then knocked him right out of the game. Walker singled to right and scored on Bonura's double to left center. Appling walked and followed Bonura home on Hayes' triple to right center. Piet's single scored Hayes. When Sewell singled, Linke was removed. Cohen pitched to Lyons, who singled, but Piet was thrown out at the plate by Stone.

Stone opened the home ninth with a triple to right and scored while Appling was throwing out Bluege.

Parmelee to Oppose Phils, Jorgens Today

Leroy Parmelee will pitch in the middle game of the Cubs-Phillies series this afternoon. The Cubs expect to knock out Orville Jorgens.

The Phillies, in the last four innings, made more hits off Lee than any other team has made in a full game off Chicago pitchers in the current home stand. Only one other team has made as many as seven hits since the Cubs came home on May 18.

Newel Kimball, Los Angeles right hander who was brought in when the Cubs were running a hospital for their regular pitchers, was shipped to Milwaukee subject to recall yesterday.

Alice Marble Wins Again in Middlesex Net Meet

LONDON, May 25.—(AP)—Alice Marble, American singles titleholder, gained the third round of the Middlesex tennis tournament today with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Rita Jarvis.

WHAT ABOUT THIS BEAN BALL CRAZE, MR. PRESIDENTS?

Hadley's intent, the situation was similar in some respects to those in which dusters have been used with increasing frequency. Cochrane had knocked a homer his last previous time up. There was one runner on base when he came up the next time —and suffered a fractured skull.

Except in cases of wholesale throwing of dusters, it is difficult to charge a pitcher with deliberate intent to injure another player. Most pitchers look upon good hitters as their natural enemies, plotters who would "take bread and butter from the mouths of the players' families," to use the stereotyped pitcher philosophy.

The first injury of the year was suffered by Hank Leiber of the New York Giants when his skull was dented by one of young Bob Feller's fire balls during a New York-Cleveland exhibition game before the regular season began. Since Feller, in his brief career, had established himself as notoriously wild, the matter was set down as purely an accident.

It's Smart Alec Stuff.

Within the last month there have been two instances of ruthless use of the bean ball, though, fortunately, no players were hit in the head.

THE TRIBUNE in its account of the Cub-Philly game in Philadelphia of May 4 described an open bean ball demonstration in the following way: ". . . Sivess replaced Jorgens, apparently with instructions to dust off all Cub batters. A wild pitch resulted from a shot at Frey's noggin. . . .

"Kelleher replaced Sivess. Kelleher, carrying out the amazing Philly bean ball program, hit Hack. . . . Jurges also was hit by a pitched ball. . . ."

The Cubs won the ball game, 17 to 4, and the Phils were nine runs behind when Wilson ordered his unsportsmanlike campaign.

A No. 1 Heels.

Last Sunday's TRIBUNE published a two column article on the bean ball. The reporter who wrote the piece, it appears now, half way condoned the use of the duster under strategic circumstances. He feels he should have rested on his thought that Wilson and other managers who order the bean ball establish themselves as A No. 1 heels and that the pitcher who employs the weapon is not willing to stand on his legitimate talents as an athlete. Not that the printed thoughts would make any difference, except that maybe a league president or two might get the idea and pass it to umpires, managers, and players.

LONG SHOTS HAVE THEIR DAY AT HOMEWOOD OVAL

Albubble and Miss Saxon Reward Backers Well.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Persons who shop around for long shots finally found the bargain counter just before the Englewood purse at a mile was run at Washington Park yesterday afternoon.

The price tag on Albubble to win the race was $33.20 for a $2 ticket. He was the rank outsider in the race and when he went scampering past the winning post by the margin of a length he provided the first big upset of the Washington Park season.

First and second choices had been winning so regularly that it was actually becoming monotonous. So when Albubble, a son of Bubbling Over-Blackeyed Kathleen, finally upset the old applecart and showed his flying heels to Prairie Dog, Sir Midas, Valted and Goldflag, all candidates for the American Derby, the boys and girls who took a shot at the moon and scored a bullseye fairly lifted the roof off the stands with their cheers.

Jocky Fined $25.

There was just one off-chord note. Jocky Joe Renick, who piloted the long shot safely to the winning post, didn't keep the son of Bubbling Over running straight and true during the stretch struggle. Because he didn't do it the stewards plastered a $25 fine on him.

The offense had nothing whatever to do with the final outcome. Albubble, trained for the Kentucky Derby but kept out of that rich special, had his four rivals soundly whipped when he began to wobble. He still was running stronger than any of them at the end.

The Englewood shared honors with the Matteson purse which engaged older horses at a mile and seventy yards. This, too, brought an upset when the young rider, L. Sisler, brought Miss Saxon up in the final strides to get the decision over Hal Price Headley's Sparta by a half length.

Col. Edward R. Bradley's odds on choice, Bootless, after flattering his backers when he flew into the lead at the top of the stretch, was badly outrun in the late stages. He was able to hang on just long enough to be third.

She Pays $21.20.

Miss Saxon ran her mile and seventy yards in 1:42 and in the betting paid $21.20 to those who regarded her highly enough to speculate to the extent of $2 on her chances.

Miss Saxon raced in the silks of Frank Barton of Chicago. Albubble scored his triumph in the regimentals of J. B. Skirvin of Louisville.

As things finally turned out Albubble's victory was just the beginning of a long shot orgy.

The best of them was Contrast, a 5 year old daughter of Brooms-Kawita. Jocky Bobby Dotter squeezed her through a narrow opening next to the rail to win the mile and seventy yards seventh race by a length. The favorite Scatterbrain finished second and The Rew was third.

Contrast paid $124.80 in the $2 market there having been only $173 wagered on him in a win pool that totaled more than $11,000.

SOLDIERS' FIELD IS MADE READY FOR HORSE SHOW

Soldiers' field is being transformed into the world's largest horse show arena in preparation for the Chicago Charter Jubilee horse show, which opens on June 9, C. Groverman Ellis, chairman of the Jubilee horse show, disclosed yesterday.

Under construction are the largest number of stalls in the history of horse show spectacles. When completed they will house 600 horses.

Some idea of the magnitude of the show may be gained from the fact that Madison Square Garden, where the New York national is held and which has always had the reputation of being the largest site for a horse show, could be set in the center of the huge expanse of Soldiers' field without touching the circular track which encloses it.

Chicago's Charter Jubilee horse show will run from June 9 to 13, with $30,000 and thirty championships at stake.

Time, :22 4-5, :46 3-5, :59 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid, Roy T., $3.40 straight, $2.40 place, $2.60 show; Co-Sport, $4.00 place, $3.40 show; Diavolo Boy, $2.60 show. Winner trained by J. J. Flanigan. Went to post at 3:17. At post 1½ minutes. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

ROY T. rushed into command before going a quarter and then taken to the inside was steadied on the stretch turn and sustaining fine speed following a light shaking up soon after reaching the stretch, held sway to the end. CO-SPORT a factor from the start, saved ground where possible and holding on with determination wore down DIAVOLO BOY. Latter raced wide, followed the early pace under light restraint and held on well though failing to hold CO-SPORT.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23, :46 4-5, 1:12 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Red Flyer, $7.20 straight, $3.00 place, $2.80 show; Inscona, $4.80 place, $4.60 show; Tomye, $7.40 show. Winner trained by O. Bagley. Went to post at 3:45½. At post half minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

RED FLYER under stout pressure from the start and lucky to get through on the inside of INSCONA on the turn, slowly wore down TOMYE and holding on well held INSCONA safe. Latter probably best, and beginning fast bore out on the turn and closing well while still racing wide was gaining on the winner at the end. TOMYE had good speed from the start, was inclined to swerve in the stretch and held on in improved fashion though he failed to hold the leaders.

FIFTH RACE—One mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :22 4-5, :46 1-5, 1:11 3-5, 1:37 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Albubble, $33.20 straight, $9.60 place, $5.20 show; Prairie Dog, $3.40 place, $2.80 show; Sir Midas, $3.80 show. Winner trained by J. H. Skirvin. Went to post at 4:13½. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

ALBUBBLE, well ridden and away fast, was taken back and rated under snug restraint as GOLD FLAG made the pace, came around the latter with a rush after straightening up in the stretch and holding on well though swerving withstood PRAIRIE DOG'S bid. Latter reserved off the pace and saving much ground, came through on the inside of GOLD FLAG when closing in resolute fashion and was slowly getting to the winner. SIR MIDAS outrun for three-quarters and slow to respond, rallied in the final three-sixteenths and coming to outside of leaders finished strongest.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :46 3-5, 1:12 1-5, 1:38, 1:42. Two dollar mutuels paid: Miss Saxon, $21.20 straight, $8.00 place, $2.80 show; Sparta, $4.00 place, $2.40 show; Bootless, $2.20 show. Winner trained by F. Barton. Went to post at 4:40½. At post half minute. Start good. Won driving, place same.

MISS SAXON, never far back and raced wide throughout was under a steady hold until reaching the stretch where she moved up steadily under mild pressure and after getting up drew out gradually. SPARTA, also a factor from the start, had to be eased back when in close quarters on the inside leaving the backstretch, came around LEMONT and BOOTLESS in the stretch and held on with good courage to the end. BOOTLESS much used in forcing the pace took good lead under strong urging approaching the stretch where he went to the inside but weakened when the real test came.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by G. Gould. Went to post at 5:06. At post half minute. Start good. Won driving, place same.

CONTRAST racing in her best form and saving ground throughout was slightly shuffled back on the stretch turn but came again when clear and overtaking the leaders in the last fifty yards drew clear fast in the final strides. SCATTER BRAIN, slow to begin, began to improve his position when racing wide on the stretch turn, suffered light interference when racing between horses soon after reaching the final eighth and finished fast when clear. THE REW, well rated in the pacemaking and only placed to pressure after reaching the last eighth weakened sharply in the late stages.

EIGHTH RACE—One mile and one-eighth. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

LATER ON taken back repeatedly in the early racing responded stoutly when called upon, slipped through between horses soon after reaching the final quarter and continued strongly after coming out in the final sixteenth to hold PALASA safe. Latter badly outrun for seven-eighths moved up boldly through the final quarter but could not reach the winner. DANDY JAY, saving ground throughout, made the pace under restraint, was strongly persevered with after seven-eighths and weakened in the final eighth.

and 55 cent sections had been sold out. The ticket offices in the Tribune Public Service offices at 1 South Dearborn street and at Tribune Tower are open every day from 9 a. m. until 10 p. m.

Cut Sparring Drills.

Coach Johnny Behr and his assistant, Fred Caserio, cut yesterday's sparring at the Illinois Athletic club to two rounds. Today's allotment will be one round. Floor work and road work will be continued to keep the fighters on edge after the sparring ends.

Behr announced that he had stopped worrying about Lem Franklin's hand. The heavyweight fighter had been handicapped by an injury early in the training period, but he resumed boxing Monday and has shown no bad effects since.

There are two boys in nearly every weight division competing for places on the team which will fight Friday evening, so the lineup still is uncertain. Coach Behr said that a final choice would not be announced until after the weighing in Friday afternoon.

The eight sparring partners who had been engaged to help the European squad work out showed up again yesterday at the Medinah Athletic club to go two rounds with each of the invaders. Arthur de Kankovszky, manager of the team, and Robert Ciocca, the trainer, supervised the drill. Tomorrow the European fighters also will be held to one round for their final sparring practice.

Tour Tower Tonight.

The rival squads will meet for the first time tonight when they join in a tour of Tribune Tower. Later they will be taken to radio station W-G-N, where they will be introduced to the studio audience.

The Chicago fighters will attend a preview of the boxing film, "Kid Galahad," in the offices of Warner Brothers, tomorrow afternoon. This picture, which stars Edward G. Robinson and Bette Davis, had Mushy Callahan, old time fighter, as its technical adviser.

LITTLE, VETERAN RIDER, INJURED IN CHASE TRIAL

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Henry Little, veteran steeplechase rider, was injured seriously today when he was thrown from J. E. Widener's Bushranger while schooling the famous jumper at Belmont Park. The horse broke its neck and was destroyed.

An examination revealed Little to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. Hospital attendants described his condition as "fair."

Bushranger, a seven year old gelded son of Stefan the Great-War Path, was rated as one of the country's ranking jumpers.

14 HERTZ HORSES ARE SHIPPED TO WASHINGTON PK.

Allotment Is Headed by Count Arthur.

Count Arthur was the headliner in the shipment of 14 horses owned by Mrs. John Hertz which arrived at Washington Park from Belmont Park yesterday. The shipment was in charge of Trainer Lon Johnson. A half dozen splendid looking 2 year olds were in the shipment. Three juveniles that have been trained at the Hertz farm near Cary were vanned in from the farm to join the contingent that came from New York.

Another formidable Chicago stable to take up quarters at Washington Park yesterday was that of John Marsch, local contractor. There were 15 horses in this shipment a half dozen of them being highly bred 2 year olds. Trainer Roscoe Goose brought the Marsch horses here from Churchill Downs.

Trainer Sherrill Ward, son of the noted conditioner, John Ward, brought a dozen horses in from Churchill Downs. His charges represent a half dozen owners including R. A. Firestone, A. B. Hancock, Johnson N. Camden, Mrs. H. H. Hector, Lyons Brown, and John Fetter. Sally Shall, 2 year old filly which tied the world's record for three furlongs at Hialeah Park last winter, is in Young Ward's care.

The Blue and Gray Memorial handicap to be run at Washington Park on Monday has attracted the best field that has gone to the post in the west this year. It includes among others Count Arthur, Count Morse, Finance, Two Bob, War Emblem, Army and Navy, Bootless and Eagle Pass. Weights for the Blue and Gray are to be announced by Racing Secretary McLennan today.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR TIGHTER ACT ON BANKRUPTCY

Says Investor Needs More Protection.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt sent three letters to Democratic leaders in congress today urging the passage of legislation designed to tighten up the federal laws covering bankruptcy reorganizations.

Senator R. F. Wagner.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote one letter to Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the senate. He told Wagner that extensive investigations and reports by the Securities and Exchange commission have demonstrated that further strengthening of the securities act is necessary in connection with the form and content of trust indentures and the duties to be assumed by the trustees acting under them.

"I believe the consideration of such supplementary legislation altogether appropriate at this time," he wrote.

Recalls Recent Investigations.

The second letter went to Representative Hatton W. Sumners, chairman of the house judiciary committee. It called attention to the recent investigations and reports by senate and house committees and the SEC's investigation.

"Three years ago, through the enactment of section 77B of the bankruptcy act, great progress was made in facilitating the reorganization of corporate enterprises in the federal courts," the President wrote. "In the enactment of that law we eliminated certain technical impediments present in the process of reorganization through equity receiverships.

"The recent investigations and reports by a special committee of the senate, a select committee of the house of representatives, and the Securities and Exchange commission, have demonstrated that further remedial legislation in the interests of investors is now required.

Urges Revision of Law.

"I believe the time is appropriate for the consideration of extensive revisions in section 77B, to the end that the rights of investors will be more vigorously prosecuted and more adequately protected under that act. Among other things, administrative assistance should be made available to the courts.

"The machinery of reorganization must be so adjusted that it can no longer be employed to perpetuate the monopoly of self-serving groups. We must, in sum, take further action to insure that the sole objective of reorganization will be an economical, expeditious and honest reconstruction of distressed enterprises.

"I understand that there is before your committee a bill introduced by Representative Chandler which in part is addressed to these very pressing needs. It is my belief that the interests of investors and of the public require legislative action which will meet these needs in thoroughgoing fashion."

Calls for Broader Powers.

The third letter was sent to Representative Clarence F. Lea, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. After mentioning again the investigations and studies, the President declared:

"If we are to extend to the area of corporate debt readjustments legislative aid and protection comparable to that which the investor now receives upon the initial flotation of securities through the securities act of 1933, some extension of that act, and of the powers of the commission which administers it, is properly necessary at this time. We need new emphasis on the fact that the representatives of security holders in reorganizations are fiduciaries.

"I understand that a bill you introduced is addressed to these objectives. Certainly they are objectives which deservedly require legislative attention."

U. S. Steel Cuts Back Dividend by $2 Payment

Stock Ignores Payment

San Francisco, Cal., May 25.—(AP)—United States Steel corporation's unexpected preferred stock dividend of $2 a share on arrears brought no market response here today. There was no trading in the preferred, while the common managed to get on the tape only in the closing minute, with five shares at $97.50, 25 cents under the Wall street finish. Other stocks were a little lower.

In a surprise move directors of the United States Steel corporation, meeting in New York, yesterday declared $2 on account of back dividends on the preferred stock, leaving arrears at $3.25 per share. The action, which was taken in the absence of Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board, who is in Europe, was regarded as another step toward resumption of dividends on the common stock. It was announced after the close of the New York stock market.

The payment authorized yesterday approximates $7,200,000 and leaves $11,709,136 yet to be paid. With earnings of the company booming in the first quarter and continuing high in the second quarter, indications are that the trend will continue throughout the year, in which case, it was stated, all arrears will be cleared, paving the way for resumption of payments on the common stock.

Earlier Payments Cut Arrears.

United States Steel paid $1.75 a share in back dividends on the preferred stock on Feb. 27, this year, and $5.75 was declared on April 27, payable May 29. The latest dividend is payable June 29 to stock of record June 4.

A number of companies yesterday announced that their directors had authorized increased payments in dividends.

Directors of the Remington-Rand, Inc., business equipment maker, recently involved in a labor dispute, inaugurated interim dividends on the common stock with the declaration of a 25 cent dividend. Previously the company paid quarterly dividends of 15 cents in cash and 1 per cent in stock. It was announced that hereafter the company will pay interim dividends on the common stock in amounts waranted by earnings.

Others Increase Dividends.

A quarterly dividend of 25 cents was declared by the Bridgeport Brass company, which previously paid 15 cents. The Superheater company, railroad equipment concern, declared a dividend of 37½ cents. The company paid 25 cents on April 15.

An extra dividend of 20 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents were declared on the common stock of the Mohawk Carpet Mills. The Upson Walton company declared an extra dividend of 10 cents on the common stock and the regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents.

The Wesson Oil & Snow Drift company declared an extra dividend of $1.12½ cents and the regular quarterly dividend of 12½ cents on the common stock. The company paid an extra dividend of 50 cents on April 1.

The Draper corporation declared an extra dividend of $1 and the regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents on the common stock.

County Sells Bonds to Buy Land for Forest Preserve

On recommendation of President Clayton F. Smith, the county board yesterday sold $2,000,000 in real estate acquisition bonds to the syndicate of Stifel Nicolaus & Co. and A. C. Allyn & Co. The money will be used as a start in purchasing 2,500 acres for the forest preserves. The syndicate will buy up and return to the county $500,000 in outstanding county refunding bonds, and $250,000 in forest preserve refunding bonds, and pay $1,250,000 in cash and a $28,000 premium.

DU PONT FIRM TO PAY WORKERS WHEN ILL OR HURT AWAY FROM JOB

Wilmington, Del., May 25.—[Special.]—E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., large chemical concern, today announced provisions for making disability payments to employés for non-occupational sickness or injury. About 80 per cent of the company's 41,000 workers will be eligible when the plan becomes effective June 15, the announcement said.

The plan provides that all wage-roll employés having one year of continuous service will receive full wages during disability from non-occupational illness or injury for a maximum of three months, less a waiting period of two consecutive working days.

The company estimated the program will cost between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000 annually.

Provisions of the plan were worked out by councils of employés and company officials. Preliminary drafts were made separately at conferences at five different plants and the final draft is a composite of ideas of workers and officials in the different localities where the company is engaged in production. Employés first requested that a disability program be worked out.

Company officials said they believed the plan represents a marked forward step in industrial relations because of the liberality of its major provisions.

IRENEE DU PONT FINAL WITNESS IN TAX HEARING

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Irenée du Pont, vice chairman of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., came to the assistance of his brother Pierre today in the latter's hearings before Richard L. Disney of the United States board of tax appeals. The appearance of Irenée marked the close of testimony on the refusal of the government to allow Pierre a deduction of $832,956 under the heading of interest paid in 1929.

Irenée's testimony concluded the hearings on the tax case which has been in progress since May 3. The decision as to what will be done with the case of John J. Raskob, from whom the government is seeking $1,026,000, will be announced tomorrow.

The $832,956 deduction, Irenée testified, represented dividends on 9,000 shares of du Pont stock which Pierre had borrowed from the family corporation so that 1,000 shares each might be sold to nine young executives of the company in 1919. The du Pont stock at that time was not listed and only sold over the counter so that it was necessary to dip into the family holdings to make the sale. As part of that arrangement, Irenée said, Pierre had agreed to make good the annual dividends and had deducted them from his own income under the heading of interest paid.

HOLC HEAD HITS PLANS TO LOWER LOAN INTEREST

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—The Home Owners' Loan corporation struck out today at proposals pending in congress to reduce interest rates on HOLC loans. It said these suggestions are adversely affecting collections from those "abundantly able to pay."

In a letter mailed to every member of congress, Chairman John H. Fahey of the loan corporation named no particular interest reduction, but his statement followed introduction of a bill by Senator Copeland [D., N. Y.] and Representative Curley [D., N. Y.] for suspension of HOLC foreclosures pending passage of legislation to extend and liberalize terms of their obligations.

Sargent Urges Broad Study of Western Rails

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Before any action should be taken on approving a plan for the reorganization of the Chicago and North Western railway, the entire railroad situation in the Mississippi valley should be studied, Fred W. Sargent, president, stated today before the interstate commerce commission. Sargent was the first witness to take the stand at the reconvened hearing on the reorganization of the road.

Fred W. Sargent.

Sargent said he believed it is advisable to get a broad picture of the entire railroad situation in the Mississippi valley before any reorganization of a single line is effected.

Reorganization Plan Not Ready.

"I do not feel justified at this time in finally committing myself to a definite plan of reorganization of the Chicago and North Western," Sargent said. "Indeed this would be quite impossible until present studies have been completed and analyzed.

"Out of all such studies there might come plans for consolidations and possible revisions of rate structures, including the entire problem of divisions of through rates all of which might tend to preserve the equities of creditors and stockholders who had invested their funds in these properties devoted to the service of the public."

Problem of All Roads.

Sargent said that not only is the problem of the North Western involved, but studies of the problem are too important from the standpoint of the territory and shippers served and from the standpoint of the other railroads to be disposed of upon any hurried plan of reorganization of any single property.

Sargent said that of the ten roads in the western trunk line territory, seven in 1936 operated at a loss after provision was made for fixed charges. Of the ten, four are in trusteeship and one is in receivership. Of the 39 railroads in the great plains states, he continued, 14 are in trusteeship, two in receivership, and 26 had a deficit after fixed charges in 1936.

Amplifying the need for further studies, Sargent said it is desirable to find out what has happened in the way of rate adjustments, classes of trafic moving and the trend of trafic since 1911 which have boosted the average earnings per mile for the eastern roads 60 per cent higher but only 11 per cent for the North Western.

ILLINOIS UTILITY DEFERS PLAN TO REFUND BONDS

Plans for a long term refunding operation by the Union Electric Company of Illinois, a newly merged unit of the North American company, have been indefinitly postponed. The company yesterday withdrew a SEC registration statement covering a $22,000,000 issue of first mortgage thirty year 3¾ per cent bonds.

The company will sell short term notes to provide for redemption of $6,750,000 of first mortgage 5½ per cent bonds of the Union Electric Light and Power company of Illinois, one of the companies included in the merger.

CLERKS 'FORGET' 50 MILLION RAIL INVESTMENT

Just an Error, Says C. & O. Official.

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—Controler E. M. Thomas of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad testified at a senate inquiry today that for five consecutive years he failed to report the firm's ownership of $50,000,000 worth of securities to the interstate Commerce commission. He said the omission was "solely through a clerical error."

Testimony before the senate railway finance investigating committee indicated that this stock, together with more held by the Chesapeake's affiliates, carried working control of the Erie and Nickel Plate lines—although the commission had forbidden the C. & O. to acquire control of these roads.

Terms Omission an Error.

Thomas assured the committee that mention of about 1,000,000 shares of this stock had been "inadvertently left out" of his reports for the years 1926 to 1930.

"Yet that million shares carried control of another railroad," remarked Acting Chairman Truman [D., Mo.].

"If the clerks in your office can make a $50,000,000 error year after year, maybe the Interstate Commerce commission should have greater powers of supervision over your accounts," commented Assistant Committee Counsel Larry Brown.

Herbert Fitzpatrick, chief legal officer of the Chesapeake, testified that much of the unreported stock had been purchased for the C. & O. through its wholly-owned subsidiary, the Virginia Transportation company.

Approval Refused by I. C. C.

This firm was organized in 1926, he said, a few months after the Interstate Commerce commission refused to let the Chesapeake acquire direct control of the Erie and Nickel Plate. Almost immediately the subsidiary began to make heavy purchases of Erie and Nickel Plate stock.

Fitzpatrick said that he had interpreted the commission's 1926 order to mean that the Erie and Nickel Plate eventually should be united with the Chesapeake, but that it disapproved the financial arrangements proposed in 1926. He added that another proposal for unification on different terms was now before the commission.

"The commission rejected your financial setup in 1926, because it would place control in the hands of a minority interest," Lowenthal said. "Why isn't that same objection present today?"

Fitzpatrick acknowledged that control would still rest with a minority interest under the pending plan, but argued that "the commission will have to decide whether that is objectionable."

Assail Accounting Practice.

Accounting practices of the C. & O. drew the committee's fire when Brown contended that the carrier had obtained the commission's approval of a $38,000,000 security issue "for additions and betterments" and had then spent much of the money to purchase Erie and Nickel Plate stock. He presented a commission memorandum which described this "unauthorized purchase of capital stock" as "a flagrant and wilful disregard of the commission's order."

Earlier in the hearing F. A. O. Schwarz, attorney for the Guaranty Trust company of New York, testified that he regarded some of the provisions in corporate trusteeship as "terrible" and suggested that they be changed to provide greater protection for security holders.

His firm had taken a leading part in financing the vast Van Sweringen railway network, of which the C. & O. is a major strand.

WESTERN GROUP TAKES CONTROL OF K. C. SOUTHERN

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Dominance of the Kansas City Southern railway system was formally transfered from Wall street to the southwest by the election today of Harvey C. Couch as chairman of the board.

The Pine Bluff, Ark., capitalist took over the ranking office from Kenneth D. Steere, a partner in the New York and Boston investment firm of Paine, Webber & Co., who had been top man in the company since last December, when Leonor F. Loree, head figure in the management for more than 30 years, withdrew.

Pay Interest on Old School Board Warants

Payment of approximately $1,900,000 in interest on 1929 board of education tax anticipation warants will be made immediately to holders of the warants as the result of an order entered by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward on May 19, Frank S. Righeimer, special attorney for the school board, disclosed last night.

There are approximately $7,100,000 of educational fund warrants and approximately $2,900,000 of building fund warants outstanding. The interest distribution will be $1,500,000 on the educational fund warants and $400,000 on the building fund warants. The interest covers the period from July 1, 1929, to Feb. 1, 1933.

The warants were the subject of a long legal fight in which the Norfolk and Western railroad, owner of $858,000 of the obligations, won a court decision.

Blocks Numerical Payments.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals unheld a decision of Judge Woodward granting the Norfolk and Western a permanent injunction restraining the board of education from paying the warants in numerical order.

Besides holding that the warants must be paid on a pro rata basis, the court of appeals held that the board of education, as a corporation, is personally responsible for paying almost the full face value of the warants.

Righeimer indicated that the board of education would have preferred to make a payment on the principal, but it must make the interest payment under the court's order. Had the $1,900,000 payment been permitted against the principal, this obligation would have been reduced by approximately 19 per cent, which would have made possible a reduction in the interest charges.

Seek Law to Solve Problem.

Righeimer explained that the board of education is endeavoring to get itself out of its present predicament by having passed in the state legislature a bill which would enable the board to fund any judgments obtained against it for nonpayment of the warants. If passed, the bill would enable the board to issue bonds against the amount of a judgment. He explained that bonds would be issued to cover each individual judgment.

The warants involved are those remaining outstanding of $62,700,000 issued in 1929. Their nonpayment is the result of failure of the tax authorities to collect enough of the 1929 levy to cover them. Interest on the warants still outstanding is 6 per cent.

BRITISH GROUP URGES TRADE PACT WITH U. S.

LONDON, May 25.—(AP)—Liberals and Laborites joined forces in a vigorous campaign today in the house of commons for a trade agreement with the United States.

"If there is failure to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement for an expansion of trade which the United States is so anxious to bring about," warned Henry Graham White, a Liberal member, "she will inevitably be driven back to isolation and the consequences to this country and the world would be most serious. Now is the time for coöperation with America. It is clear there must be some modification of the principles of the Ottawa agreement."

Arthur Henderson, a Labor member, took the same stand.

Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, delivered a statement to the commons, however, that was anything but optimistic of progress towards a trade agreement with the United States.

"We have to deal with very difficult and awkward situations," the cabinet minister said. "Hundreds of items appearing on schedules have to be examined in each case and we can be sure the difficulties are great because business interests are concerned."

SEC Resumes Investment Trust Hearings Friday

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today that in its study of investment trusts and companies public hearings would begin in Washington on Friday on All America General corporation of New York City. This company, the commission said, had been acquired by Atlas corporation and the hearing would cover only the period from its inception to the time Atlas corporation or affiliated interest assumed control.

Assails Court Packing

Dr. Raymond Moley, formerly chief brain truster, tells Illinois bankers court plan is fantastic.

Bankers Push Fight on U. S. Competition

Newly installed officers of the Illinois Bankers association took up the fight yesterday against government competition in the banking field—especially loans to farmers. At the same time the retiring administration was jubilant over the announcement from Washington that Representative Steagall, chairman of the house banking committee, had filed a bill to eliminate double liability from state bank stock, regardless of state laws.

J. F. Schmidt, Waterloo, yesterday elected president of the association at the closing session of the convention in the Palmer house, criticized the government for continuing to make rehabilitation loans to farmers, some of which, he said, are "risky."

Urges More Liberal Farm Loans.

The new treasurer, Woods H. Martin of Danville, urged downstate bankers to be more liberal in granting loans to farmers and said "I can see no just reason for the government to stay in the money lending business, particularly on loans that could be handled by local banking institutions."

Concerning the Steagall bill, which was introduced last Friday but announced only yesterday, Frank C. Rathje, retiring president and head of the Chicago City Bank and Trust company, said: "This is the step that will save state banking in Illinois."

During his administration the association made a concerted drive for removal of the double liability feature of state bank stock in Illinois.

Suggests Temporary Relief.

Temporary relief, however, as suggested by Rathje and embodied in the Steagall bill, could be provided through the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation waiving its right to sue stockholders in insured state banks. This would apply to payment on deposits up to $5,000, the limit of insurance, but Rathje also pointed out that depositors with more than $5,000 in banks could legally waive the right to sue stockholders.

Sharp criticism of the McAdoo branch banking bill was expressed in the resolution, which said in part:

"The attempt in this bill to avoid controversy by excluding from it states which do not permit branch banking is shrewd and soothing and is too evident an attempt to allay opposition from such states.

Warns Against Being Misled.

"The important principle of state autonomy is not preserved by this attempt and bankers should not be misled by it. It is an insidious attack on both unit banking and the dual banking system and should be repelled with the same vigorous opposition that has been made to other efforts to attack our principles of competitive banking in the past."

The policy also called for balancing of the governmental budgets, a broader tax base, elimination of the postal savings system, and included a warning against speculation by banks in low grade banks.

COURT PLAN DOOMED, MOLEY TELLS BANKERS

Assails Government by One Man.

BY JOHN FISHER.

Dr. Raymond Moley, editor and former chief brain truster of the Roosevelt administration, yesterday made a scathing attack upon President Roosevelt's court packing scheme and said it is doomed. He spoke at the closing session of the Illinois bankers' convention in the Palmer house, attended by more than 1,000 delegates.

J. F. Schmidt, president of Illinois Bankers' association.

Other speakers during the day were J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency of the United States; Louis Ruthenburg, president of Servel, Inc., and J. Harvie Wilkinson Jr., vice president of the State-Planters Bank and Trust company of Richmond, Va.

Take Legislative Stand.

Moley's address followed action earlier in the day in which a broad statement of policy was adopted which made definite recommendations on legislation and political administration.

In discussing the President and his court proposal, Moley said:

"The President has spoken of the dangers of a government of men. Well, there is something worse than a government of men; it is a government by a man.

"Most law and all constitutional government down the ages are really halters and check-reins upon this unlovely tendency in rulers to lose their heads in the intoxication of power.

"The idea of dividing powers was no mere gadget plucked from the imagination of the most convenient and persistent innovation. It was a principle that was slowly taking form in the development of English liberal institutions when Montesquieu wrote it into the immortal 'Spirit of Laws.'"

Assails Strategy.

Commenting upon the possibility that the President made the court packing proposal in order to force liberalization of court opinions and possible retirement by justices, Moley said:

"This will be a sad commentary on the strategy that brought forth the plan. It is true that the fantastic nature of the proposal lends some credence to the idea that it was not seriously set forth. But responsible statesman must abide by the proposals that they make solemnly and officially. Bluffing is not statesmanship.

"There are incidental factors that have contributed to the defeat of the President's proposal to violate in this way the spirit of the constitution. The change in the philosophy dominating the majority opinion of the court has helped. The scattering of the attorney general's insincere, insubstantial statistics by the chief justice is another. The retirement of Justice Van Devanter has helped, too.

Surge of Public Opinion.

"But behind all this has been a slow and powerful surge of public opinion. The people prefer the stability of constitutional institutions as against the unpredictable will of leaders, even very popular leaders."

In seeking to dominate the court the President has seriously impaired his control over congress, Moley believes.

Declaring that "one hundred and fifty years are looking down upon us

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—Incurring an additional sinking spell in late trading after midday support had wiped out early losses, prices on the stock exchange eased 1 to 3 points today. Steels, motors, and rails were the outstanding soft spots. Trading was somewhat more active, volume approximating 842,000 shares. As in other recent sessions, there was no outside news of general importance to influence speculation.

Atchison, which heretofore has been a leader on the up side, today led the railroads in the opposite direction, dropping 3⅞ points. Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, and New York Central also had sizeable chunks chopped off their quotations.

U. S. Steel common dropped to 97¾ after being on the other side of 100 for a while. Other steels to hold below their previous closing quotations were Bethlehem, Republic, and Inland Steel, although the latter continued buoyant until late in the day.

In the motors Chrysler was weak throughout, closing at 111¼, off 3⅜ points. General Motors hovered around 56½.

A strong spot for most of the day was the oil division, especially Pure Oil, Texas corporation and Standard of New Jersey. Coppers turned irregular after early strength.

At the close of business tonight, the stock exchange reported 663 names on the petition to close the market next Saturday. The governing committee will act on it at its meeting today.

Breaking all low records since December, 1936, when a stock exchange seat sold for $89,000, a membership today was transferred for $91,000, down $5,000 from the previously reported deal.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Corporate liens tended a little lower in a quiet bond market today while some United States government issues improved small fractions. Trading was dull and price changes were narrow. Low yield issues resisted the trend and some showed small gains. Foreign obligations were generally lower.

Traders continue to interpret the Supreme court's decision upholding the constitutionality of the Social Security act as bullish as far as federal loans are concerned. While there was some profit taking toward the close the list generally held up well. In this department gainers up to 10-32ds included Treasury 3s of 1946 at 104 4-32, the 3s of 1951 at 102 23-32, the 2⅞s of 1955 at 100 24-32, and the 3¼s of 1943 at 106 8-32.

Most second grade carrier bonds were lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Irregularity again dominated the Chicago stock market yesterday. Trading continued light at 34,000 shares. There were 114 issues traded, and of these 52 closed lower, 24 higher, and 38 unchanged. Borg-Warner common hit a new 1937 high at 46⅛, but later slipped to 45¼, off ¼ point for the day. Gardner-Denver common was strong in very light trading, closing 2 points higher at 64, a new peak for the year. Lion Oil finished 1⅜ higher at 25⅜. Armour was off ⅜ and Middle West the same amount.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were irregular yesterday in light trading. Continental Illinois was unchanged to $1 higher, First National $3 to $4 lower, and National Builders and Northern Trust $5 higher. Others were mostly unchanged.

Commodities

Grain.

Grain prices declined sharply yesterday. Winnipeg wheat futures declining 5 cents a bushel, the permissable limit for one day under exchange regulations, as the result of selling induced by reports of good rains in parts of the dry area in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The drastic decline at Winnipeg had considerable influence on American markets, especially as traders were nervous regarding the outcome of the May deliveries, trading in which will cease at the close of the market today.

May wheat in Chicago closed 3¾ cents lower at $1.22⅞ per bushel, while the deferred futures were as much as 2⅞ cents lower.

Corn lost 1⅛ to 3 cents; oats were unchanged to 1¼ cents lower, rye declined 1 to 4 cents, and soy beans finished with losses ranging up to 3 cents a bushel, the latter on the July delivery.

Heavy selling of May wheat yesterday was attributed to scattered holders. Traders expressed the belief there had been a liberal reduction in the number of uncompleted contracts in that delivery, which were officially reported as aggregating 4,557,000 bushels when the session opened yesterday.

May corn sold up to $1.36⅝ a bushel early yesterday, a new high for the last 12 years, but reacted to close slightly lower at $1.34⅞. Commission houses were heavy sellers of July corn in the last 14 minutes of the session.

Live Stock.

The hog market yesterday incurred the sharpest setback in almost a month as packers ran into more opposition to rising pork prices in wholesale channels. Prices for the day averaged 15 cents lower at $11.45, the lowest since Tuesday of last week.

One load reached the $12.05 top early in the session, but later it was hard to get $11.90 for top grades as pressure on prices increased.

Volume of receipts continued small throughout the country.

Demand for pork was reported extremely narrow at all markets.

Active demand featured all branches of the cattle trade yesterday at strong to slightly higher prices. Most steers and yearlings showed gains of 15 to 25 cents over last week's close, longfeds sharing the upturn, although buyers showed more preference for the stock below $12 than the higher priced offerings. Top load sold at $14.35, with the bulk at $10 to $13.

The break in slaughter lambs was halted yesterday when only 3,000 head arrived.

Commodities.

Cotton, hides, grain, and rubber led the world commodity prices lower again yesterday despite firmness in New York export copper markets and better prices for cocoa and coffee. One widely known commodity index established a new low for the year.

All prices are for July delivery except barley, which is for May; buter for November; eggs for October, and hides for June.

Butter and Eggs.

Government purchases of 31,500 pounds of butter were reported yesterday in New York, while 9,000 pounds were taken in Chicago, the latter bringing 29½ cents for extra firsts. While the official support had some effect on the spot market it failed to prevent a decline of ¼ cent in the November delivery on the Mercantile exchange. The latter closed at 30¾ cents a pound. Sales of futures were 25 cars.

Egg futures developed a weak undertone and declined ⅛ to ¼ cent. October closed at 23¼ cents a dozen, or within a fraction of a cent of the lowest level of the season. Continued large receipts and a liberal into storage movement were the depressing influences. The spot egg market was ¼ to ½ cent lower. Sales, 148 cars.

Potatoes declined 5 cents with May closing at $2.60 per 100 pounds. Sales, 16 cars. Range of prices on futures follow:

The Federal Reserve System—5.

Yesterday we discussed one lever by which the federal reserve authorities regulate the use of bank funds, the "open market operations." The second important lever is the power to raise or lower the "required" reserves of the commercial banks belonging to the system.

"Required" or "legal" reserves are that portion of their deposits which commercial member banks must pledge with the central reserve banks. Until last year the requirements for many years had been as follows: $3 for every $100 of savings and other "time" deposits of every member bank; $13 of every $100 of demand deposits of banks in New York and Chicago; $10 per $100 in the other ten cities in which there are federal reserve banks; and $7 per $100 in all other communities.

During the last year, by a series of three steps, the federal reserve board in Washington has doubled these requirements. The avowed purpose of this move has been to ear mark approximately two-thirds of the three billion dollars of idle and unpledged "excess" reserves of the member banks previously outstanding. "Excess" reserves represent unemployed bank funds over and above the amount required as "legal" reserves. It was feared that the extraordinarily large supply of idle bank cash might generate an untimely speculative boom.

The "required" reserves of member banks are now at the maximum rates permitted by law. If the present "excess" reserves of close to one billion dollars are to be further reduced arbitrarily either congress will have to amend the law to permit the reserve board to boost the ante or the twelve central reserve banks must sell some of their two and a half billions of government bonds.

Tomorrow: More on the federal reserve system.

New York Central Has Rise.

The New York Central railroad had a net operating income in April of $4,205,629, compared with $3,391,596 a year ago. Net operating income for the first four months this year totaled $17,389,567, against $12,167,585 in the same period of 1936.

He noted the great need of further rain in the spring wheat area of the road's territory, where drouth conditions existed last year.

COTTON

Cotton futures were on the downgrade yesterday, with closing trades at the low point, as the result of fairly persistent commission house selling combined with some pressure from the south and easiness in Liverpool. Net losses in leading American markets ranged from .13 to .17 cents a pound.

The manager of James E. Bennett & Co.'s Houston office yesterday reported that while there had been good rains in parts of the state the central and western area needed moisture. The crop is about two weeks later than normal. Spot cotton closed .10 to .15 cent lower, with New Orleans 12.95 cents, New York 13.15 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 12.90 cents per pound. MOLEY PREDICTS COURT PACKING IS DOOMED TO FAIL and upon the congress that has taken an oath to sustain this constitution," he warned congress against compromise of any sort on the question without the express consent of the people—through a constitutional amendment.

Tells Illinois Bankers Scheme Is Fantastic.

"I would favor more than one amendment," Moley, who is also professor of public law at Columbia university, continued. "I would compel retirement of judges at the age of 75. I would establish two-thirds or seven-ninths of the court as the proportion necessary to declare an act of congress invalid. I would change by constitutional amendment the meaning of the 'due process' clause. But such changes should be made in conformity with the spirit and letter of the constitution."

O'Connor Tells Bank Gains.

O'Connor said that the banking structure of the nation is in a healthy condition and that remarkable improvement has been shown since the banking holiday in March, 1933.

He pointed out that Illinois, with 5.47 per cent of the population of the United States and possessions, on March 31, 1937, held 9.48 per cent of deposits in all national banks. O'Connor also presented statistics showing that Illinois banks registered greater improvement during recent years than did banks as a whole throughout the nation.

"Net earnings from operations for Illinois national banks in 1936 increased 120.39 per cent over 1932, while all national banks showed an increase of only 4.05 per cent," he said. Recoveries and profits on securities increased 2,618 per cent in the same period for Illinois national banks, against a gain of 393 per cent for the nation. Dividends declared in Illinois increased 123.34 per cent, compared with 1.70 per cent for national banks as a whole."

Conscious of Social Obligations.

Ruthenburg said that present industrial management has become clearly conscious of its social obligations. For the future, he said, industrial management must be regarded as a trusteeship.

Wilkinson said that within the next six to nine months it would appear that interest rates should be relatively stable.

Delegates elected J. F. Schmidt, vice president of the State Bank of Waterloo, Ill., president for the next year, succeeding Frank C. Rathje, who is president of the Chicago City Bank and Trust company. In the only position for which there was a contest—that of treasurer—Woods H. Martin was elected. He is vice president of the Second National Bank of Danville. R. O. Kaufman, president of the First National Bank of Mount Vernon, was the other candidate.

Fred Gerding, president of the First National Bank of Ottawa, was elected vice president of the association. M. A. Graettinger of Chicago, was renamed executive vice president.

BIG COMPANIES TAKE ACTION TO REVISE CAPITAL

Liquid Carbonic Planning to Triple Stock.

Proposed changes in capital structure of several well known companies yesterday occupied an important place in corporate news. Among the developments were: Stockholders of the Liquid Carbonic corporation were called to a special meeting in Chicago June 15 to consider a change; a special meeting of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company to consider a change was adjourned until June 4 because of lack of a quorum, and stockholders of the New York Dock company approved a plan of recapitalization.

Stockholders of Liquid Carbonic, manufacturer of soda fountains and carbonic gas, will be asked to increase the authorized capital shares from 400,000 to 1,200,000 in order to provide a two-for-one splitup of the 350,000 shares now outstanding and to pave the way for the sale of a new issue of $3,500,000 of convertible debentures.

Plan to Retire Loans.

W. K. McIntosh, chairman, said that funds obtained from the financing would be used to retire $2,780,000 of bank loans and to increase working capital. During the last four years, he said, the company has spent $4,000,000 on plant improvements.

At a meeting of stockholders of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company in New York it was found that the required two-thirds vote of common stock holders had been received, but there were not quite two-thirds of the preferred stock holders as required. It was stated that sufficient additional preferred proxies were in the mail.

Details of Plan.

The stockholders were asked to vote on a plan whereby one share of present $3.50 preference stock will be exchanged for one share of $3 convertible preference stock and three-fourths share of common upon the waiver of $17.50 per share accrued dividends. They also were asked to vote on an increase in the authorized common stock from 500,000 to 750,000 shares and to authorize 100,000 shares of new $2.50 convertible prior preference stock, of which 70,000 will be sold to retire $2,000,000 of outstanding debentures and $842,000 of bank loans.

The New York Dock company plan of recapitalization which was approved provides for the issuance of new 5 per cent notes maturing April 1, 1947, for notes of the present issue outstanding. The new 5 per cent notes would be convertible into stock at the rate of 20 shares of preferred and 14 shares of common for each $1,000 of new notes. When the plan is consummated there will be outstanding 187,720 shares of no par $5 noncumulative preferred stock and 131,404 no par common shares.

Gary Electric and Gas.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate any information about Gary Electric and Gas company first lien collateral 5 per cent bonds maturing in 1944. Do you consider these bonds a good investment or speculation?—J. B.

Answer: Improvement in earnings during the last two years has lifted the bonds out of the speculative class, and they now may be considered a business risk. Fixed charges were covered 1.84 times during the twelve months ended March 31, 1937, compared with 1.73 times in 1936, 1.38 times in 1935, and 0.93 times in 1934.

The company owns Gary Heat, Light and Water company, which owns a waterworks and operates electric, gas and water distribution systems in Gary, Ind. Capitalization consists of 480,000 shares of no par common stock, 360,000 owned by Midland Utilities company. Other stock was issued to holders of the $7,241,000 of 5 per cent bonds in return for their consenting to extension of maturity ten years to July 1, 1944.

Whether or not to purchase securities is a business decision for the individual to make. Activity in the steel industry is the backbone of prosperity for any business operating in Gary.

Southern California Water.

Investors' Guide: Please give me your opinion of the Southern California Water bonds, 4½s due 1960, as an investment.—Mrs. J. V.

Answer: The $3,400,000 issue of 4½ per cent first mortgage bonds offered in January, 1937, constitutes sole funded debt of the Southern California Water company. The bonds replaced notes to American States Public Service company, owner of all stock of the water company, and appear to be reasonably sound. About 95 per cent of the water company's revenues are derived from sale of water to approximately 44,000 customers, mostly in Los Angeles county.

Dominion Gas and Electric.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly give me the status of Dominion Gas and Electric 6½ per cent bonds due in 1945?—R. V.

Answer: Dominion Gas and Electric 6½s of 1945 are rated as more of a speculation than an investment. Heavy senior capitalization and sensitiveness of the concern's revenues to vagaries of weather, coupled with limited coverage for fixed charges are the chief considerations in rating these bonds speculative. Interest charges were covered 1.4 times in 1936 compared with 1.2 times in 1935.
